UNITED STATES OF AMERICA	)	Supplement to Government Addendum to
	)	Motion to Take Judicial Notice dated
v.	)	16 November 2012
	)
Manning, Bradley E.	)	Enclosure 28
PFC, U.S. Army,	)
HHC, U.S. Army Garrison,	)	11 January 2013
Joint Base Myer-Henderson Hall	)
Fort Myer, Virginia 22211	)

the Atlantic

• SUBSCRIBE
• RENEW
• GIVE A GIFT
• DIGITAL EDITION

Print | Close

QUARTZ There's a new global economy. Follow it now qz.com @quartznews

Al Qaeda's First English Language Magazine Is Here

By Marc Ambinder

As the U.S. struggles to manage its efforts to influence opinion about Al Qaeda abroad, Al Qaeda on the Arabian Peninsula has produced its first English-language propaganda magazine.

It's called "Inspire," and you can read parts of it below. A U.S. official said early this morning that the magazine appears to be authentic.

"Inspire" includes a "message to the people of Yemen" directly transcribed from Ayman Al-Zawahari, Al Qaeda's second in command, a message from Osama Bin Laden on "how to save the earth," and the cover includes a quotation from Anwar Al-Awlaki, the American born cleric who is believed to be directly connected to the attempt to destroy an airplane over Detroit by Umar Farouk Abdulmutallab on Christmas Day. (The director of the National Counterterrorism Center, Michael Leiter, made that disclosure at a security forum in Aspen, CO, Fox News reported.)

The table of contents teases an interview with the leader of AQAP who promises to "answer various questions pertaining to the jihad in the Arabian Peninsula." It includes a feature about how to "make a bomb in the kitchen of your mom."

AQAP's first effort to post the magazine to jihadist websites failed Wednesday, as many of the pages were contaminated with a virus. (I half seriously believe that U.S. cyber warriors might have had a hand in that little surprise.)

The U.S. is quite worried about Al Qaeda's new publishing ambitions, which mark a more sophisticated effort to engage the English-language world and to recruit English-speaking Muslims to join the cause.

The copy was obtained from a private researcher. AQAP had advertised for days that the magazine would appear with the interviews specified in the table of contents. It is possible, although not likely, that the magazine is a fabrication, a production of a Western intelligence agency that wants to undermine Al Qaeda by eroding confidence in its production and distribution networks. The U.S. is engaged in direct net-based warfare with jihadis; this sort of operation would not be too difficult to pull off.

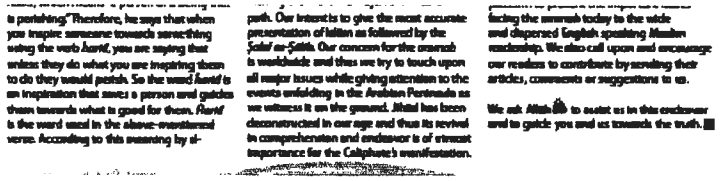
Since I am not completely certain that the clean PDF doesn't contain a hidden virus, I've elected not to post it just yet.

Don't Be Said:
Brothers in al-Shabāb al-Mujāhidīn
Message to the People in Yemen
Message from Dr. Ayman al-Zawahiri
The Way to Save the Earth
The Fight over the Mountains
Muhammad Ali
Shaykh Anwar's Message to the American People and Muslims in the West
Transcribed from Shaykh Anwar al-Awlaki
How To Use Asrar al-Mujahideen
Sending & Receiving Encrypted Messages
The Jihadi Experiences
The Schools of Jihād
Mukhtar Hassan
The West Should Ban the Niqab
Covering Its Real Face
Ibrahim
41
45
60
Other

INSPIRE
26
May our souls be sacrificed for you!
Shaykh Anwar al-Awlaki
Abu Basir Interview 13
The leader of AQAP answers various questions pertaining to the jihad in the Arabian Peninsula.
Make a bomb in the Kitchen of your Mum 33
A detailed yet short, easy-to-read manual on how to make a bomb using ingredients found in a kitchen.
Six calls of al-Anfal 54
A look into the calls from Allāh in al-Anfal in light of the verses beginning with O You who Believe.
Letter from the editor



This article available online at:

http://www.theatlantic.com/international/archive/2010/06/al-qaedas-first-english-language-magazine-is-here/59006/

Copyright © 2013 by The Atlantic Monthly Group. All Rights Reserved.