Gentlemen,

One other piece of information. Based upon comments made by PFC Manning to Brig staff about his ability to kill himself with his underwear (no joke!), CWO2 Barnes determined that he would sleep without his underwear as a precaution. He still is fully clothed during the day. At night he has his blankets so he is not exposed and no female staff have access to even see him.

This may become another media issue as Manning may bring it up with his attorneys.

As Dr Suess would say: I can wear them in a box, I can wear them with a fox, I can wear them in the day, I can wear them so I say, but I can't wear them in the night, my comments gave the staff a fright.

Thanks Chris. Busy legal day for our guest, wow. My day was good though....I read Dr. Seuss books to 1st and 2nd Graders today at our DODEA schools.

Bob,
I'm sure our Brig Marines and MPs are on a heightened state of awareness both for our guest's safety and overall safety/security of the base, based upon the news release and additional charges/Art 138 reply.
