Hey MSgt based on PSL's guidance(making him SR) we would have to now "return him to appropriate quarters (POI) right? Then what do we do with the underwear issue based on his statement? Food for thought!

Sir,
Mental Health visit by Col Malone is complete. This initial report came from Capt Neill, CO Naval Health Clinic and the Brig Medical Officer, who was just debriefed by Col Malone this afternoon after his visit with Manning. PFC Manning is doing well, appeared in good spirits and has been taken off a medication for an anxiety disorder, the removal is in response to his improved status. His recent actions and statements are not related any mental disorder.

APPELLATE EXHIBIT 441 S

Initial report from Col Oltman - the Brig OIC is going to leave Manning in the same status (POI) and his handling instructions will remain the same for the immediate future; meaning he will only have his blankets from Taps to Reveille. CWO2 Barnes and Col Oltman discussed at length the situation and CWO Barnes will continue to review his behavior/actions and review the recommendations of the C&A Board. The C&A Board goes every Friday...so he will remain "as is" for now...but, handling instructions can be changed at any time, based upon his observed ongoing behavior.

Manning's recent comments and behavior have the entire Brig Staff concerned, and they are trying to only add minimal precautionary measures necessary, that will allow him to have some space and reduce the stress, while protecting him/keeping him safe.
