Subject: Telephone Call from Miriam Nisbet On Archives Decision Not to Do Ballistics Testing
Body: Miriam Nisbet called to advise me that the Deputy Archivist has decided not to do any ballistics testing. The Review Board will be receiving a written explanation in the near future. Very simply, the Archives does not want to take any action that will alter evidence. Secondarily, it is their view that technology may be developed in the future which would allow for testing without altering the evidence.Miriam stated that if the Board, DOJ or the Congress were to direct that the testing be done, then the Archives would cooperate in every way.I hope we can talk about this further, as well as discuss putting the letter I drafted before the Board for their consideration.
