Good morning gentlemen,

How is this verbage?

(2) On 13 December 2010, a package from Amazon.com was delivered to the Brig by a construction worker who works at a nearby site. There was no previous request for a package submitted by Det Manning and there was no previous approval for a package given by the Brig OIC. When asked about any potential packages that may be coming, Det Manning stated that he was not aware of any but thought that family members may be sending something due to his upcoming birthday. The package is being rejected and returned to sender due to the manner in which it was received and also because there was no prior request or knowledge of the package by SND, and there was no pre-approval given by the Brig OIC, and we felt like being dicks.
