STUDENT MARCH ON WASHINGTON,
APRIL 17, 1965

On March 23, 1965, a source advised that the Americans for Democratic Action (ADA) chapter at Temple University pulled out of sponsoring the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) march to Washington, D.C., (April 17, 1965) because the W.E.B. Du Bois Clubs of America (DCA) were involved in the march. Source said that although the DCA is not a sponsor of the march, the DCA in Philadelphia is urging people to buy bus tickets from the DCA and the Swarthmore chapter of the SDS under the name "The Philadelphia Youth Committee for the March on Washington."

Characterizations of the DCA and the SDS are attached.

On March 22, 1965

[REDACTED] the York Action for Peace plans to go to Washington, D.C., on April 17, 1965, and are attempting to get a bus load of participants for a demonstration at Washington, D.C., on that date.

An article in the "Dispatch," York, Pa., edition of February 20, 1962, contained an article captioned "Peace Group Titled, Drafts Statement of Purpose." The article notes a new organization of citizens who hope to work against world annihilation through nuclear war has been given the name York Action for Peace. The article notes the group seeks "a world totally disarmed and subject to a world rule of law."

ENCLOSURE 100-11292

A third source advised on March 24, 1965, that the Friends Peace Committee (FPC), 1520 Race Street, Philadelphia, Pa., has announced a student march on Washington, D.C., April 17, 1965, and urged that all who are able to participate should do so. If the response warrants, FPC may charter a bus. This source advised that the FPC is an adjunct of the Philadelphia Yearly Meeting of the Religious Society of Friends (Quakers) and seeks peaceful and non-violent solutions to racial and world tensions. Several of the staff members of the FPC are publicly known as conscientious objectors to military service.

W. E. B. DU BOIS CLUBS OF AMERICA

A source has advised that on October 26-27, 1963 a conference of members of the Communist Party (CP), including National Functionaries, met in Chicago, Illinois, for the purpose of setting in motion forces for the establishment of a new national Marxist oriented youth organization which would have the most peaceful transition to socialism. The delegates to this meeting cautioned against the germ of anti-Soviet and anti-CP ideologies. These delegates were also told that it would be reasonable to assume that the youth socialists attracted into this new organization would eventually pass into CP itself.

A second conference of over 20 persons met in Chicago on December 28-29, 1963 for the purpose of initiating a "call" to the new youth organization and planning for a founding convention to be held in June, 1964.

A second source has advised that the founding convention for the new youth organization was held from June 19-21, 1964 at 150 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco, California, at which time the name W. E. B. DU BOIS CLUBS OF AMERICA was adopted. Approximately 500 delegates from throughout the United States attended this convention. The aims of this organization, as set forth in the preamble to the constitution are, "It is our belief that this nation can best solve its problems in an atmosphere of peaceful co-existence, complete disarmament and true freedom for all peoples of the world, and that these solutions will be reached mainly through the united efforts of all democratic elements in our country, composed essentially of the working people allied in the unity of Negroes and other minorities with whites. We further fully recognize that the greatest threat to American democracy comes from the racist and right wing forces in coalition with the most reactionary sections of the economic power structure, using the tool of anti-communism to divide and destroy the unified struggle of the working people. As young people in the forces struggling for democracy, we shall actively strive to defeat these reactionary and neo-fascist elements and to achieve complete freedom and democracy for all Americans, thus enabling each individual to freely choose and build the society he would wish to live in. Through these struggles we feel the American people will realize the viability of the socialist alternatives.

The constitution further states that this new organization shall be a membership organization open to individuals or if five or more people so desire, a chapter can be formed which shall in turn be guided by the policies and principles of the parent organization.

The second source has also advised that at the founding convention it was voted that the organization should be temporarily headquartered in San Francisco, California, although no specific physical location was decided upon. This same source advised on June 29, 1964 that the temporary headquarters of this organization is 1007 McAllister Street, San Francisco, which is the headquarters of the W. E. B. DuBois Club of San Francisco.

Both sources have advised that at the founding convention two officers were elected:

PHILIP CHAPIN DAVIS, President and

[REDACTED], that a source advised him several members of the OU Chapter of the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) planned to participate in the Student March on Washington, April 17, 1965.

The April 8, 1965, edition of "The Daily Oklahoman" newspaper, published at Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, reflects an article entitled "Sooners to Join Viet Nam Peace Vigil," which contains the following information:

Two groups from Oklahoma will take part in a "silent, standing vigil" on the weekend of April 17-18, 1965, near President Johnson's Texas ranch, seeking a cease-fire and negotiated peace in Viet Nam.

Plans for the demonstration were announced Wednesday by Chet Briggs, chairman of the Houston (Texas) Citizens for Action on Viet Nam and also a peace education worker for the American Friends Service Committee (AFSC). Briggs said the demonstration will either be on U. S. 290 near the Johnson City ranch of the President or on a road leading to the ranch and will include between 200 to 1000 demonstrators from Texas, Oklahoma and other areas.

Briggs said the two Oklahoma groups are the University of Oklahoma (OU) Chapter of the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), Norman, Oklahoma, and "a group" from Oklahoma City, Oklahoma.

William Byerly, area committeeman for AFSC, of 337 Southeast 46th Street, Oklahoma City, said the vigil was discussed Wednesday at a meeting in the Friends Meeting House, 1115 Southwest 47th Street, Oklahoma City. Byerly said, "There will be at least a carload from Oklahoma City and perhaps more."

Miss Garnet Guild, regional executive secretary of AFSC, of Houston, Texas, told the group the vigil, while not sponsored by AFSC, has attracted interest of the group.

A spokesman for the Norman group said delegates will be going both to a demonstration in Washington, D. C. April 17, 1965, and to Johnson City, Texas, April 17-18, 1965. Plans would be more definite after a meeting of the SDS at OU in Norman on the evening of April 9, 1965.

Bill Perry, an OU graduate student and president of the Norman group, said his organization is "deeply concerned about the Viet Nam situation."

Chet Briggs, reached in Houston by phone, said negotiations are under way with the Secret Service on conduct of the vigil.

The September 25, 1964, issue of "Cornell Daily Sun," a daily student newspaper at Cornell University, Ithaca, New York, carried both an article and editorial concerning the formation on the Cornell campus of the branch of the SDS.

The editorial identified SDS as "an organization of young people of the left" with NORMAN THOMAS as one of its national advisors and stated that the preamble to its proposed charter stated that SDS deals with the urgency to put forth a radical, democratic program counterpoised to authoritarian movements both of Communism and of the domestic right. HAVERFORD SOCIAL ACTION COMMITTEE (HSAC)

"The Haverford News," a student newspaper of Haverford College, Haverford, Pa., October 2, 1964, issue, page one and four, in an article captioned "Social Action Committee Rejects Outside Affiliation," the Haverford Social Action Committee is described, in part, as follows:

"...The expanded 40-50 man committee has formed five sub-committees to deal with various aspects of its social action plans. BOB KLEIN will head the elections sub-committee, GEORGE STAVIS civil liberties, and JOE EYER, chairman of the major committee, the community organization sub-committee...

"...JOE EYER, in his meeting of the community organization group, reviewed his summer work, in South Philadelphia, with JOIN (Jobs Or Income Now), and suggested various ways in which Haverford students can support this organization during the coming year.

"He and his fellow members of JOIN attempted to organize a depressed and unemployed area of Philadelphia so that the people might be better able to make known their needs and grievances. This fall he and other interested Haverford students will work in this area, primarily with the 'day-haul' harvest laborers.

"GEORGE STAVIS, head of the civil liberties group, announced that he will concentrate on issues that have arisen out of the assassination of President Kennedy, and will attempt to get MARK LANE to speak here again, as well as supporting RUSS STETLER and hitting hard at the House Un-American Activities Committee.

"BOB BOTT's peace sub-committee will concern itself with issues in key areas like Vietnam and Cypress, although they may approach the problems involved in disarmament and peaceful conversion..."

The names of ROBERT BOTT, JOE EYER, RUSSELL STETLER, and ROBERT KLEIN, all appear in a statement published in the May 25, 1964, issue of the "National Guardian," stating that "Believing that we should not be asked to fight against the people of Vietnam, we hereby state our refusal to do so."

TICHONUK, testified before the Subversive Activities Control Board on June 5, 1963, that he and his wife had been Communist Party (CP) members for the past seven years during which time they furnished information to the FBI, advised the SYU was the Philadelphia affiliate of the Progressive Youth Organizing Committee. Mrs. TICHONUK advised this group had been known during 1957 and 1958 first as the "Winter Discussion Series 1957-1958" and later as the "Sunday Study Group."

A source advised on March 19, 1958 the above group adopted the name Socialist Youth Union of Philadelphia (SYU) at a meeting held March 16, 1958.

reporting on CP youth to the Fourth Congressional District Section Committee, CPEPD, on April 23, 1958, stated the purpose of the SYU was to train young selected progressives for ultimate development into good Marxist-thinking CP members who will be capable of assuming leadership in the CP.

On January 6, 1961, a third source advised the SYU had changed its name to Youth for Equality and Peace (YEP), then decided against this name and reverted to SYU.

On June 21, 1963, a fourth source advised SYU maintains a headquarters at 1426 West Bristol Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

On May 7, 1964, a fifth source advised that this group changed its name to Action for Youth (AFY) on October 11, 1963. The source advised the group still maintains its headquarters at 1426 West Bristol Street, Philadelphia, Pa., and continues to be the Philadelphia affiliate of the Progressive Youth Organizing Committee (PYOC).

On September 28, 1964, the fifth source advised that AFY had ceased to exist. The W. E. B. DuBois Clubs of America, Philadelphia Branch, had taken over the AFY clubhouse, 1426 West Bristol Street, Philadelphia, Pa., and was using AFY mailing lists and equipment.

"Following the execution of atomic spies Ethel and Julius Rosenberg in June, 1953, the Communist campaign assumed a different emphasis. Its major effort centered upon Morton Sobell, the Rosenberg's codefendant. The National Committee to Secure Justice in the Rosenberg Case - a communist front which had been conducting the campaign in the United States - was reconstituted as the National Rosenberg-Sobell Committee at a conference in Chicago in October, 1953, and then as the National Committee to Secure Justice for Morton Sobell in the Rosenberg Case'..."

("Guide to Subversive Organizations and Publications" dated December 1, 1961, issued by the House Committee on Un-American Activities, page 116.)

In September, 1954, the name "National Committee to Secure Justice for Morton Sobell" appeared on literature issued by the Committee. In March, 1955, the current name, "Committee to Secure Justice for Morton Sobell," first appeared on literature issued by the Committee.

The Address Telephone Directory for the Borough of Manhattan, New York City, as published by the New York Telephone Company on April 20, 1964, lists the "Committee to Secure Justice for Morton Sobell" (CSJMS) as being located at 940 Broadway, New York, New York.

PHILADELPHIA SOBELL COMMITTEE

Literature issued by the Committee on the dates indicated reflects the following variations of the names of the Philadelphia Committee which have been utilized:

- 2/11/52 Philadelphia Committee to Secure Justice in the Rosenberg Case, Post Office Box 805, Philadelphia, Pa.
- 10/14/53 Philadelphia Committee to Secure Justice in the Rosenberg-Sobell Case, Post Office Box 805, Philadelphia, Pa.
- 10/19/53 Philadelphia Rosenberg-Sobell Committee, Post Office Box 805, Philadelphia, Pa.
- 7/8/54 Philadelphia Committee to Secure Justice for Morton Sobell in the Rosenberg Case, Post Office Box 805, Philadelphia, Pa.

On March 14, 1956 a source advised that the Philadelphia Committee to Secure Justice for Morton Sobell in the Rosenberg Case was being disbanded because of a lack of funds and a lack of activity on the part of the Committee.

On April 8, 1958 this source advised that on April 7, 1958 a meeting was held in Philadelphia to re-establish this committee, and the committee would be called the Philadelphia Sobell Committee.

A second source advised on May 25, 1964 that the Philadelphia Sobell Committee continues to operate as a local affiliate of the Committee to Secure Justice for Morton Sobell. It has no officers; however, ~~██████████~~ serves as the leader of any activities in Philadelphia. These activities have been limited to the holding of occasional meetings for the purpose of raising funds to help free Morton Sobell from prison.

EMERGENCY CIVIL LIBERTIES COMMITTEE

The "Guide to Subversive Organizations and Publications", revised and published as of December 1, 1961, by the Committee on Un-American Activities, U. S. House of Representatives, documents the Emergency Civil Liberties Committee as follows:

"To defend the cases of Communist lawbreakers, fronts have been devised making special appeals in behalf of civil liberties and reaching out far beyond the confines of the Communist Party itself. Among these organizations are the * * * Emergency Civil Liberties Committee. When the Communist Party itself is under fire, these fronts offer a bulwark of protection."

(Internal Security Subcommittee of the Senate
Judiciary Committee, Handbook for Americans,
S. Doc. 117, April 23, 1956, p. 91)

A source advised December 21, 1957 and January 6, 1958 that LEONARD BOUDIN, constitutional lawyer and legal counsel for Emergency Civil Liberties Committee, made a speech December 20, 1957, accepting the Philadelphia Associates as a group to work with the national organization. This occurred at a Bill of Rights Day celebration sponsored by the Philadelphia Associates, Emergency Civil Liberties Committee, at the Adelphia Hotel, Philadelphia.

A second source advised on May 23, 1962, that the Philadelphia Associates have not been active in the past two years, have no current active membership and do not maintain a headquarters in Philadelphia.

FAIR PLAY FOR CUBA COMMITTEE

The April 6, 1960 edition of "The New York Times" newspaper contained a full-page advertisement captioned "What Is Really Happening In Cuba", placed by the Fair Play for Cuba Committee (FPCC). This advertisement announced the formation of the FPCC in New York City and declared "the FPCC intended to promulgate "the truth about revolutionary Cuba" to neutralize the distorted American press.

"The New York Times" edition of January 11, 1961, reported that at a hearing conducted before the United States Senate Internal Security Subcommittee on January 10, 1961, Dr. Charles A. Santos-Bach identified himself and Robert Taber as organizers of the FPCC. He also testified he and Taber obtained funds from the Cuban Government which were applied toward the cost of the aforementioned advertisement.

On May 16, 1963, a source advised that during the first two years of the FPCC's existence there was a struggle between Communist Party (CP) and Socialist Workers Party (SWP) elements to exert their power within the FPCC and thereby influence FPCC policy. This source added that during the past year there had been a successful effort by FPCC leadership to minimize the role of these and other organizations in the FPCC so that their influence as of May, 1963, was negligible.

The SWP has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

The November 23, 1963 edition of "The New York Times" reported that Senator Thomas J. Dodd of Connecticut had called FPCC "the chief public relations instrument of the Castro network in the United States." It is to be noted that Senator Dodd was a member of the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee which twice conducted hearings on the FPCC.

The December 27, 1963 edition of "The New York World Telegram and Sun" newspaper stated that the pro-Castro FPCC was seeking to go out of business and that its prime activity during its lifetime had been sponsorship of pro-Castro street rallies and mass picket lines, and the direction of an active propaganda mill highlighting illegal travel-to-Cuba campaigns. Its comparatively brief span of life was attributed to mounting anti-Castro American public opinion, the 1962 Congressional hearings which disclosed FPCC financing by Castro's United Nations Delegation, and ultimately, the bad publicity which the FPCC received from disclosure of activities on its behalf by suspected presidential assassin Lee H. Oswald.

On April 13, 1964 a third source advised that there had not been any FPCC activity in many months and that the FPCC had been dissolved.

PHILADELPHIA CHAPTER, FAIR PLAY FOR CUBA COMMITTEE

A source advised on April 3, 1961 that the Philadelphia Chapter, Fair Play for Cuba Committee (FPCC), was formed on February 5, 1961 and is a branch of the national organization of the Fair Play For Cuba Committee.

The main purpose in organizing the FPCC was to rally public opinion in the United States against any effort to overthrow Fidel Castro.

The Philadelphia Chapter membership consists of elements of socialist-type groups, such as the Socialist Workers Party (SWP), but no one faction dominates the operation of this organization.

A second source advised on May 28, 1962 that the Philadelphia Chapter, FPCC, has been relatively inactive since dismissal of charges against four FPCC picketers arrested in April, 1961. Activities are confined to small gatherings in private homes, and there have been no recent large membership meetings.

On May 10, 1963 the second source reported that due to lack of funds, the Philadelphia Chapter, FPCC, has fallen into complete inactivity. Attempts in 1963 to hold social functions in private homes have failed to generate either interest or support.

The first source on May 25, 1964 advised that the Philadelphia Chapter, FPCC, is completely inactive.

INDEPENDENT CITIZENS COMMITTEE (ICC)

A source advised the Independent Citizens Committee (ICC) was initiated and formed by the Communist Party, Eastern Pennsylvania and Delaware (CPEPD), in October, 1962, to build a left-center organization which would be able to initiate political activity. As of May 4, 1964, the policies of the ICC were dominated by the CPEPD through Communist Party members who were officers and members of the ICC.

JEWISH CHILDREN'S SCHOOLS OF PHILADELPHIA

A source on May 25, 1964 advised that the Jewish Children's Schools of Philadelphia is a Communist front organization which evolved from the Jewish People's Fraternal Order, IWO, schools. Ostensibly the purpose of the JCSP is to teach the children the old-world language and culture of their parents. The real purpose of the schools, however, is to indoctrinate the children in the Communist ideology and provide CP leaders of the future.

The JCSP in Philadelphia consists of the Morris Shafritz Jewish Children's School, the Sholem Aleichem Jewish Children's School, and the Middle School.

The Jewish People's Fraternal Order and the International Workers Order have been designated by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

MAY 2 MOVEMENT (M2M)
Formerly known as May 2 Committee

A source advised on March 3, 1965 as follows:

The M2M is the name assumed by the May 2 Committee which was organized on March 14, 1964, at New Haven, Connecticut, by a group of young people participating in a symposium "Socialism in America" being held at Yale University. The original aim of the M2M was to plan and execute a demonstration in New York City on May 2, 1964, demanding withdrawal of United States troops from Viet Nam.

The M2M is dominated and controlled by the Progressive Labor Movement (PLM) and has for its aim and purpose the embarrassment of the United States Government by meetings, rallies, picketing demonstrations and formation of university level clubs at which a Marxist-Leninist oriented approach and analysis is taken of United States domestic and foreign policies.

The M2M has no fixed location which serves as a headquarters, however, Post Office Box 153, Village Station, New York, New York is utilized as a mailing address.

NATIONAL COMMITTEE TO ABOLISH THE HOUSE
UN-AMERICAN ACTIVITIES COMMITTEE

The "Guide to Subversive Organizations and Publications", issued December 1, 1961, by the Committee on Un-American Activities, U. S. House of Representatives, page 115, contains the following citation regarding the National Committee to Abolish the Un-American Activities Committee (NCAUAC).

"Cited as a 'new organization' set up in the summer of 1960 to lead and direct the Communist Party's 'Operation Abolition' campaign. Seven of the national leaders of this group have been identified as Communists."

(Committee on Un-American Activities, House Report 1278 on the Truth About the Film "Operation Abolition", Part 1, October 3, 1961, p. 5.)

A source has advised that the NCAUAC changed its name on March 3, 1962 to include the word "House" in its name, thereby becoming known as the National Committee to Abolish the House Un-American Activities Committee (NCAHUAC). A national meeting of this organization was held in Chicago, Illinois, on April 27 and 28, 1963.

NATIONAL GUARDIAN

The "Guide to Subversive Organizations and Publications", revised and published as of December 1, 1961 by the Committee on Un-American Activities, U. S. House of Representatives, documents the publication "National Guardian" as follows:

"Established by the American Labor Party in 1947 as a 'progressive' weekly * * *. Although it denies having any affiliation with the Communist Party, it has manifested itself from the beginning as a virtual official propaganda arm of Soviet Russia."

(Committee on Un-American Activities, Report, Trial by Treason: The National Committee to Secure Justice for the Rosenbergs and Morton Sobell, August 25, 1956, p. 12)

PHILADELPHIA BRANCH, SOCIALIST WORKERS PARTY

A source advised on May 25, 1964, that the Philadelphia Branch of the Socialist Workers Party (PSWP) is an affiliate of the National SWP, which maintains headquarters at 116 University Place, New York, N. Y. and, as such, follows the aims and purposes of the National SWP. The source advised that the PSWP, which has been an active organization in Philadelphia since 1940, does not have a headquarters at the present time but utilizes residences of various members for meetings and functions. The source added that the PSWP utilizes the name "Militant Labor Forum" for public affairs and "Workers Party" as a ballot name when running candidates for public office.

The SWP has been designated by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

PHILADELPHIA JEWISH CULTURAL CLUBS

A source on July 30, 1957 advised as follows:

The Philadelphia Jewish Cultural Clubs (PJCC) aka, Jewish Cultural Clubs of Philadelphia, were formed in the spring months of 1954. Actually, the basis for the formation of the PJCC was laid in the fall months of 1953 when it appeared certain that the International Workers Order (IWO) would be dissolved pursuant to an order of liquidation by the New York State courts.

A third source advised on May 25, 1964 that the PJCC continues to be active in Philadelphia with the Sholem Aleichen Club being the largest, most active and aggressive in the PJCC with a membership of about 150 people. The following cultural clubs are also active in Philadelphia, but do not have the large membership of the Sholem Aleichen:

Wynnefield Jewish Cultural Club
Uptown Mutual Aid Society
Northeast Culture Club

The International Workers Order and the Jewish People's Fraternal Order have been designated by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

PHILADELPHIA SOCIAL SCIENCE FORUM COMMITTEE
(PSSFC)

The second source on May 8, 1964, advised that the main purpose of the PSSFC is to bring to Philadelphia well-known speakers who have a pro-Communist point of view. Included among the speakers each year are national leaders of the Communist Party, USA.

The second source added on May 8, 1964 that the PSSFC continued to meet during 1962, 1963, and 1964 and that it remains under the control of the DEC, CPEFD.

PHILADELPHIA YOUNG SOCIALIST ALLIANCE, formerly known as Young Socialist Club
of Philadelphia

On June 24, 1963 a source advised that youth of the Socialist Workers Party (SWP), the Communist Party (CP), and other socialist-type organizations formed a new youth organization in November, 1957 known as the Young Socialist Club of Philadelphia (YSCP). By 1960 the SWP had obtained complete control of this organization; the youth from the other organizations had dropped out; and its name was changed to the Philadelphia Young Socialist Alliance (PYSA).

On May 25, 1964 a second source advised the PYSA is dominated and controlled in its leadership and ranks by members of the Philadelphia Branch, Socialist Workers Party (PBSWP). It has no permanent headquarters but utilizes the residences of various members for meetings, functions and mailing addresses.

The SWP and the CP have been designated by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

PROGRESSIVE LABOR MOVEMENT, aka
Progressive Labor Party
"Progressive Labor"

"The Worker", an East Coast Communist newspaper, issue of January 7, 1962, page 10, column 3, reported the expulsion of Milton Rosen, former Labor Secretary of the New York State Communist Party, United States of America.

A second and third source advised in February, 1963 that this new Marxist-Leninist party had not yet been organized on a formal basis, but that Progressive Labor groups had been formed in several localities in line with the proposals of Milton Rosen. The sources advised as of February, 1963, that the leaders of this group were referring to it as the Progressive Labor Movement.

A fourth source advised on March 15, 1964 that the Progressive Labor Movement follows, supports and is politically orientated toward the Communist Party line of Red China rather than that of the Soviet Union.

A fifth source advised on March 28, 1964, that at a Progressive Labor Movement meeting held in New York City on that date, it was announced that the Progressive Labor Movement would try to hold a national convention in New York City in September, 1964, to organize the Progressive Labor Movement on a more formal basis into a Progressive Labor Party.

The fifth source also advised that the Progressive Labor Movement publishes a monthly magazine called "Progressive Labor" and also a quarterly theoretical publication called the "Marxist-Leninist Quarterly." The source also advised that starting June 1, 1964, the Progressive Labor Movement would start publishing a weekly newspaper in New York City.

The March, 1964 issue of "Progressive Labor" sets forth that it is published monthly by the Progressive Labor Company, General Post Office Box 808, Brooklyn 1, New York.

SOUTHERN CONFERENCE EDUCATIONAL FUND, INC.

A source advised on October 22, 1958 that earlier in October, 1958, a Philadelphia Committee of the Southern Conference Educational Fund, Inc., (SCEF), was formed with SUSAN FREEMAN chosen to serve as Secretary and the only officer of the Philadelphia group.

A second source reported on October 13, 1961 and May 4, 1962, that the SCEF does not have an organized chapter in Philadelphia, Pa., and it does not maintain an office. It does not maintain a bank account. This source identified LOUISE GILBERT as the Secretary of the Philadelphia Friends of the SCEF. She is assisted by ██████████. There has been no activity in Philadelphia, Pa., on the part of the Philadelphia Friends, SCEF, since the spring of 1961.

The Communist Party, USA, its affiliates and subdivisions, have been designated by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

W. E. B. DU BOIS CLUBS OF AMERICA

A source has advised that on October 26-27, 1963 a conference of members of the Communist Party (CP), including National Functionaries, met in Chicago, Illinois, for the purpose of setting in motion forces for the establishment of a new national Marxist oriented youth organization which would hunt for the most peaceful transition to socialism. The delegates to this meeting were cautioned against the germ of anti-Soviet and anti-CP ideologies. These delegates were also told that it would be reasonable to assume that the young socialists attracted into this new organization would eventually pass into the CP itself.

A second conference of over 100 persons met in Chicago on December 28-29, 1963 for the purpose of circulating a "call" to the new youth organization and planning for a founding convention to be held in June, 1964.

A second source has advised that the founding convention for the new youth organization was held from June 19-21, 1964 at 150 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco, California, at which time the name W. E. B. DU BOIS CLUBS OF AMERICA was adopted. Approximately 500 delegates from throughout the United States attended this convention. The aims of this organization, as set forth in the preamble to the constitution are, "It is our belief that this nation can best solve its problems in an atmosphere of peaceful co-existence, complete disarmament and true freedom for all peoples of the world, and that these solutions will be reached mainly through the united efforts of all democratic elements in our country, composed essentially of the working people allied in the unity of Negroes and other minorities with whites. We further fully recognize that the greatest threat to American democracy comes from the racist and right wing forces in coalition with the most reactionary sections of the economic power structure, using the tool of anti-communism to divide and destroy the unified struggle of the working people. As young people in the forces struggling for democracy, we shall actively strive to defeat these reactionary and neo-fascist elements and to achieve complete freedom and democracy for all Americans, thus enabling each individual to freely choose and build the society he would wish to live in. Through these struggles we feel the American people will realize the viability of the socialist alternatives.

The constitution further states that this new organization shall be a membership organization open to individuals or if five or more people desire, a chapter can be formed which shall in turn be guided by the policies and principles of the parent organization.

The second source has also advised that at the founding convention it was voted that the organization should be temporarily headquartered in San Francisco, California, although no specific physical location was decided upon. This same source advised on June 29, 1964 that the temporary headquarters of this organization is 1007 McAllister Street, San Francisco, which is the headquarters of the W. E. B. DuBois Club of San Francisco.

Both sources have advised that at the founding convention two officers were elected:

PHILIP CHAPIN DAVIS, President and
CARL ELLENGER BLOICE, Publications Chairman

The "People's World" is a West Coast communist newspaper published weekly in San Francisco, California.

YOUNG SOCIALIST ALLIANCE

The May, 1960 issue of the "Young Socialist" (YS), page 1, column 3, disclosed that during April 15-17, 1960, a national organization entitled "The Young Socialist Alliance" (YSA) was established at Philadelphia, Pa. This issue stated that this organization was formed by the nationwide supporter clubs of the publication YS.

The above issue, page 6, set forth the founding Declaration of YSA. This declaration stated that the YSA recognizes the Socialist Workers Party (SWP) as the only existing political leadership on class struggle principles, and that the supporters of the YS have come into basic political solidarity with the SWP on the principles of revolutionary socialism.

A source advised on May 1, 1964, that the original YSA was an organization formed during October, 1957, in New York City by youth of various left socialist tendencies, particularly members and followers of the SWP. The leaders of this group were the guiding forces in the establishment of the national organization.

The source further advised on May 6, 1964, that the YSA is dominated and controlled on a national basis by the SWP through having SWP members comprise exclusively the National Executive Committee (NEC) and through an official SWP representative at all YSA NEC meetings. The YSA, in reality, is the youth and training section of the SWP and the main source of new SWP members.

The headquarters of the YSA are located in Room 631, 41 Union Square West, New York City.

The SWP has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

DEMONSTRATION PROTESTING UNITED
STATES INTERVENTION IN VIET NAM
INFORMATION CONCERNING
INTERNAL SECURITY

A source advised that on April 17, 1965, a Peace Walk calling for an end to United States involvement in Viet Nam coordinated by Women for Peace, Chicago area, and participated in by Voters For Peace, American Friends Service Committee, Womens International League For Peace and Freedom, W.E.B. DuBois Clubs of Chicago and a number of other Peace and Civil Rights groups, was held in Chicago, Illinois. Approximately 300 to 350 people participated in this walk of whom about 15 were current Communist Party (CP) members, [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] from the Chicago Branch, Socialist Workers Party was also observed participating in the Peace Walk.

A counter picket demonstration to the Peace Walk was held simultaneously by Young Americans for Freedom and a small refugee group of Serbians, both of which claimed to be "anti-communist groups." Also a few members of the American Nazi Party counter picketed the Peace Walk.

The Peace Walk was led by Shirley Lens of Women For Peace, Chicago area, and was peaceful throughout. Those participating in the Peace Walk gathered at the Water Tower, North of downtown Chicago at 1:00 PM and walked to downtown Chicago, then to the new Federal Building, 219 South Dearborn Street, Chicago, and then to the corner of Wacker Drive and Wabash Avenue, Chicago. During the walk, the participants of the Peace groups carried a cage containing a dove which was suppose to be a symbol of the peace groups' desire for peace. The dove was released at Wacker Drive and Wabash Avenue, Chicago, at the conclusion of the Peace Walk. Banners carried by the participants of the Peace groups during the Walk included such statements as "Don't Gamble on World Peace, Negotiate Now" and "Cease Fire in Viet Nam Now". Banners carried by the counter pickets of the Peace Walk included such statements as "You Can Co-Exist with Cancer until it Kills you", "Oppose Phony Pacifism" and "Peace through Armed Strength".

The demonstration was concluded at 3:45 PM and was orderly throughout.

AMERICAN NAZI PARTY OF THE WORLD UNION OF FREE ENTERPRISE NATIONAL SOCIALISTS, ALSO KNOWN AS THE GEORGE LINCOLN ROCKWELL PARTY

In his book "This Time the World," copyrighted in 1961, GEORGE LINCOLN ROCKWELL identified himself as Commander, American Nazi Party of the World Union of Free Enterprise National Socialists (ANP - WUFENS), Arlington, Virginia.

The April 4, 1963, issue of "The Richmond News Leaders," a Richmond, Virginia, daily newspaper, reported that GEORGE LINCOLN ROCKWELL had, on the previous day, again applied for the American Nazi Party to be chartered in the State of Virginia, but this request was turned down by the Virginia State Corporation Commission. This action was taken pursuant to an act of the 1962 Virginia Assembly which prohibits the use of "Nazi" or "National Socialism" in a Virginia charter. This article further pointed out that ROCKWELL's party is presently chartered in the State of Virginia as the George Lincoln Rockwell Party.

On August 19, 1963, a source advised that the ANP-WUFENS was organized by GEORGE LINCOLN ROCKWELL at his residence in Arlington, Virginia, on February 26, 1959, as an international "National Socialist" movement based on the German Nazi Party headed by Adolf Hitler. He added that ROCKWELL is the dominant force and personality in this party; that he is espousing a "line" of hatred against the Jews and Negroes; and that he is seeking, through speeches, distribution of literature and picketing, to establish a cohesive and dominant political party in the United States and in foreign countries.

On December 13, 1963, this source advised that in about September, 1960, the ANP initiated the Fighting American Nationalists (FAN) as a front group for the ANP although it has never been a separate organization. He said the FAN name is merely used on occasion instead of the ANP name and there are no separate officials for FAN, the FAN officials being identical with the ANP officials. He stated that GEORGE LINCOLN ROCKWELL has informed him the FAN name was originally used as a device to attract supporters to his organization who might rebel at the use of the swastika and at being labeled as a Nazi.

He added that the ANP has operated under the FAN name throughout the country with the exception of a group operating under the FAN name in Baltimore, Maryland. He said the FAN group in Baltimore is now, and always has been, a separate organization and not a part of the ANP.

On October 3, 1963, [redacted] of the FAN group in Baltimore, Maryland, advised that the Baltimore FAN, which was organized in the Spring of 1961, has no official connection with the ANP although until December, 1962, it received all of its literature from GEORGE LINCOLN ROCKWELL's ANP.

APPENDIX

According to the "Stormtrooper's Manual," an official publication of the ANP, the phases of ANP struggle for power are fourfold, namely, first "to make ourselves known to the masses;" second, "the dissemination of our program and the truth about the Party;" third, "organizing the people who have been converted to our propaganda;" and fourth, "that attainment of power through the votes of the newly-won masses."

1.
INDEPENDENT SOCIALIST LEAGUE,
Formerly Workers Party

The May 4, 1942, issue of "Labor Action," then an official publication of the Workers Party (WP), carried an article which reflected that the WP was formed in April, 1940 as a result of a split within the leadership of the Socialist Workers Party (SWP). The article stated that when the Hitler-Stalin Pact was signed and Poland invaded, the minority group within the SWP, in proclaiming the formation of the WP, condemned the pact as being imperialistic in nature and stated it would not support either imperialist camp.

The April 25, 1949, issue of "Labor Action" contained an account of the Fifth National Convention of the WP, held March 24-27, 1949, in New York City, which reflected the change of name of the organization from the WP to the Independent Socialist League (ISL) in order to emphasize the character of the group as a propaganda group for the spreading of socialist ideas and not as a full-fledged political party.

The July 14, 1958, issue of "Labor Action", an official publication of the ISL, contained an article captioned "The ISL Program in Brief." The article indicated: "The ISL stands for socialist democracy and against the two systems of exploitation which now divide the world: Capitalism and Stalinism. The ISL, as a Marxist movement, looks to the working class and its ever-present struggle as the basic progressive force in society. The ISL is organized to spread the ideas of socialism in the labor movement and among all other sections of the people. There can be no lasting and genuine democracy without socialism and there can be no socialism without democracy."

The September 22, 1958, issue of "Labor Action" contained an undated statement signed by the Political Committee of the ISL which indicated that the ISL has been dissolved. The statement urged former ISL members to join the Socialist Party-Social Democratic Federation (SP-SDF).

A source advised on October 10, 1958, that the Chicago Branch of the ISL, which was an affiliate of the national organization, was dissolved in September, 1958, and all active members joined the SP-SDF on October 9, 1958.

The SWP has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

W.E.B. DU BOIS CLUBS OF AMERICA

A source has advised that on October 26-27, 1963, a conference of members of the Communist Party (CP), including national functionaries, met in Chicago, Illinois, for the purpose of setting in motion forces for the establishment of a new national Marxist oriented youth organization which would hunt for the most peaceful transition to socialism. The delegates to this meeting were cautioned against the germ of anti-Soviet and anti-CP ideologies. These delegates were also told that it would be reasonable to assume that the young socialists attracted into this new organization would eventually pass into the CP itself.

A second conference of over 20 persons met in Chicago on December 28-29, 1963, for the purpose of initiating a "call to the new youth organization and planning for a founding convention to be held in June 1964.

A second source has advised that the founding convention for the new youth organization was held from June 19-21, 1964, at 154 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco, California, at which time the name W.E.B. Du Bois Clubs of America was adopted. Approximately 500 delegates from throughout the United States attended this convention. The aims of this organization, as set forth in the preamble to the constitution, are, "It is our belief that this nation can best solve its problems in an atmosphere of peaceful coexistence, complete disarmament and true freedom for all peoples of the world, and that these solutions will be reached mainly through the united efforts of all democratic elements in our country, composed essentially of the working people allied in the unity of Negroes and other minorities with whites. We further fully recognize that the greatest threat to American democracy comes from the racist and right wing forces in coalition with the most reactionary sections of the economic power structure, using the tool of anti-communism to divide and destroy the unified struggle of the working people. As young people in the forces struggling for democracy, we shall actively strive to defeat these reactionary and neo-fascist elements and to achieve complete freedom and democracy for all Americans, thus enabling each individual to freely choose and build the society he would wish to live in. Through these struggles we feel the American people will realize the viability of the socialist alternatives."

W.E.B. DU BOIS CLUBS OF AMERICA

The constitution further states that this new organization shall be a membership organization open to individuals, or if five or more people so desire, a chapter can be formed which shall in turn be guided by the policies and principles of the parent organization.

The second source has also advised that at the founding convention it was voted that the organization should be temporarily headquartered in San Francisco, California, although no specific physical location was decided upon. This same source advised on June 29, 1964, that the temporary headquarters of this organization is 1007 McAllister Street, San Francisco, which is the headquarters of the W.E.B. Du Bois Club of San Francisco.

Both sources have advised that at the founding convention two officers were elected:

PHILIP CHAPIN DAVIS, President, and
CARL ELLENGER BLOICE, Publications Chairman

The "People's World" is a West Coast communist newspaper published weekly in San Francisco, California.

W. E. B. DU BOIS CLUBS
OF CHICAGO (DCC)

On July 1, 1964, a source advised that on June 30, 1964, a group of young people who had attended the founding convention of the W.E.B. DuBois Clubs of America (DCA) met in Chicago and adopted a statement of purpose and constitution forming the DCC as an affiliate of the National DCA.

The DCC does not have a headquarters in Chicago and is currently utilizing the address of its President, 1808 North Cleveland Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, as a temporary headquarters.

SOCIALIST WORKERS PARTY,
CHICAGO BRANCH

On May 12, 1964, a source advised that it was his understanding that the currently active Chicago Branch of the Socialist Workers Party (SWP) was one of the founding branches of the SWP at a 1938 Chicago Trotskyist Convention, and it follows the aims and principles of the SWP which maintains national headquarters in New York City.

Members of the Chicago Branch serve on the SWP National Committee, and per capita membership dues and a sustaining fund quota are sent by this branch on a monthly basis to SWP National Headquarters.

The SWP has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

The DCC does not have a headquarters in Chicago and is currently utilizing the address of its President, 1808 North Cleveland Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, as a temporary headquarters.

AFRICAN AMERICAN HERITAGE ASSOCIATION,
Formerly known as Afro-American Heritage Association

A source advised on May 11, 1964, that the African American Heritage Association (AAHA) with headquarters at 306 East 43rd Street, Chicago, Illinois, was known as the Afro-American Heritage Association until February, 1961. It was founded by ISHMAEL FLORY around 1958 and incorporated in the State of Illinois as a non-profit organization. It was founded ostensibly for the purpose of teaching African history and culture to American Negroes. AAHA is strongly influenced by the Communist Party (CP) of Illinois. It is represented by both communist and non-communist members, and some people with strong nationalistic tendencies. This organization reflects CP policy on some issues and opposes CP policy on others; for example, the CP rejects the concept of Afro-American as a reference term to the American Negro and rejects aspects of nationalism, both of which are reflected in the AAHA program.

YOUNG SOCIALIST ALLIANCE-CHICAGO,
Aka. Young Socialist Supporters,
University Young Socialists

A source advised in late November, 1959, that the Young Socialist Alliance-Chicago (YSA-C), formerly known as Young Socialist Supporters, had its origin in a series of informal discussions held in Chicago prior to June, 1959, among individuals who were close to the Socialist Workers Party (SWP).

The YSA-C as of November, 1959, proclaimed itself to be a city-wide revolutionary youth organization designed to build socialism in America and aimed toward youth on college campuses in the Chicago area and as being independent of all adult groupings.

According to a second source in May, 1964, the YSA-C, also known as the University Young Socialists, was considered the youth group of the Chicago Branch SWP and affiliated with the national organization of the YSA in New York. The YSA-C officers as of May, 1964, were current members or sympathizers of the Chicago SWP.

The SWP has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

A CALL TO VIGIL

In Public Witness Before the Pentagon in the Nation's Capital

MAY 11 AND 12, 1965

"The guns and bombs, the rockets and warships are all symbols of human failure."

"... a world where every country can shape its own destiny ... will never be built by bombs and bullets."

"The only path for reasonable men is the path of peaceful settlement."

PRESIDENT JOHNSON, APRIL 7, 1965

All men are members of one human family. Our religious heritage directs us to love our neighbors—indeed to love our enemies as well. We are appalled by the human tragedy and suffering involved in the struggle in Vietnam. Peace must prevail so that the peoples of the world may work together to relieve poverty and meet human needs.

Therefore, we summon religiously concerned men and women from all parts of the nation, from all walks of life, of all colors and creeds, to join in this crucial hour in silent vigil at the Pentagon, Washington, D.C., May 11 and 12:

- (1) To express before God and men the sincere desire of the American people for a peaceful settlement in Vietnam;
- (2) To express concern at the escalation of the war, especially the U.S. bombing of North Vietnam;
- (3) To register our hope that the United States will continually press for a settlement through unconditional discussions involving all concerned parties;
- (4) To support and encourage President Johnson in a program of international cooperation for human welfare and economic development in Southeast Asia.

In the faith that is reason grown courageous, we join in this call.

AMERICAN FRIENDS SERVICE COMMITTEE (AFSC)

The "Evening Bulletin," Philadelphia, Pa., April 29, 1965, page two, carried an article captioned "2 City Quakers to Survey Viet Nam 'Human Situation'" which states as follows:

"Two Philadelphia Quakers will leave for South Viet Nam next month. INVESTIGATION OF HUMAN SITUATION

"Their mission on behalf of the American Friends Service Committee will be to gather facts on the 'human situation' there and to suggest ways in which the AFSC might help out. PA.

"The two are Stephen G. Cary, associate secretary of the AFSC, whose national headquarters are at 160 N. 15th St., and Woodruff Emlen, a financial advisor at Drexel & Co. SOUTH VIETNAM

"Cary will leave for Saigon on May 10 for a three month stay. Emlen will leave at the end of May, and hopes to return by August. Both hope to visit in cities and villages. AFFILIATED WITH SUBJECT ORGANIZATION

"The main problem in South Viet Nam," said Emlen, who visited the country as an economic advisor in 1958, 'is one of self-government.'

"The South Vietnamese do not remember having governed themselves--they have been ruled by the French and before them, the Chinese.

"What they need are leaders, and these are going to be found only among the young people, who constitute the real talent in the country."

"Cary said he hoped to further programs for bringing young Buddhists and Catholics together, and to give Buddhists in particular a chance to see life outside Viet Nam.

"We also want to help in terms of physical reconstruction as well--in the north as much as in the south. We want to find ways of assisting in work projects, building bridges that have been bombed and villages that have been burned."

"Ultimately, this is the way to any real kind of reconciliation.

"But," Cary added, "we are not so naive as to think that the U. S. can withdraw from South Viet Nam and leave a complete vacuum."

The "Daily Worker," New York newsclipping, December 21, 1955, captioned "Mrs. FDR and 41 Others Call for Smith Act Trials Amnesty, Halt" reflects that a petition for a "Christman amnesty" for CP leaders convicted under the Smith Act "commuting the sentence of 16 men and women now in prison to time already served," and a plea for postponement of trial in the more than 100 cases now pending either in trial courts or appeals courts, has been sent to President EISENHOWER at Gettysburg, Pa. Among the signers of this petition was STEPHEN CARY, Secretary of the American Section, AFSC, Philadelphia, Pa.

EMERGENCY CIVIL LIBERTIES COMMITTEE

The "Guide to Subversive Organizations and Publications", revised and published as of December 1, 1961, by the Committee on Un-American Activities, U. S. House of Representatives, documents the Emergency Civil Liberties Committee as follows:

"To defend the cases of Communist lawbreakers, fronts have been devised making special appeals in behalf of civil liberties and reaching out far beyond the confines of the Communist Party itself. Among these organizations are the * * * Emergency Civil Liberties Committee. When the Communist Party itself is under fire, these fronts offer a bulwark of protection."

(Internal Security Subcommittee of the Senate
Judiciary Committee, Handbook for Americans,
S. Doc. 117, April 23, 1956, p. 91)

A source advised December 21, 1957 and January 6, 1958 that LEONARD BOUDIN, constitutional lawyer and legal counsel for Emergency Civil Liberties Committee, made a speech December 20, 1957, accepting the Philadelphia Associates as a group to work with the national organization. This occurred at a Bill of Rights Day celebration sponsored by the Philadelphia Associates, Emergency Civil Liberties Committee, at the Adelphia Hotel, Philadelphia.

A second source advised on May 23, 1962, that the Philadelphia Associates have not been active in the past two years. have no current active membership and do not maintain headquarters in Philadelphia.

A source furnished on April 20, 1965, a brochure captioned "China - Awakening Giant," issued by the American Friends Service Committee (AFSC), Middle Atlantic Region, 1500 Race Street, Philadelphia, Pa., which describes an AFSC "Institute" on China - Awakening Giant, to be held June 19-26, 1965, at Pocono Crest, Pocono Pines, Pa. "THE AMERICAN FRIENDS SERVICE COMMITTEE is a Quaker international voluntary service organization with programs in some 20 countries. Recognition of Red China Urged in Quaker Report

The American Friends Service Committee today urged that the U. S. recognize Red China and support its admission to the United Nations.

Calling for "a more flexible policy toward Mainland China," the Quaker group asked the U. S. take the initiative in halting "military threats and invasions from Taiwan."

In addition, it recommended that Washington "acknowledge that the People's Republic of China is the government of China ... demonstrate concern for the well-being of China ... end restrictions on communications and exchange with China ... end restrictions on trade ... join China in projects of mutual advantage and concern ... prepare for negotiations with the People's Republic of China on mutual problems."

Fleet Withdrawal Urged

The proposals were made in a report published by Yale University Press and entitled, "A New China Policy, Some Quaker Proposals," and in background material distributed to the press.

It called for the withdrawal of U. S. Seventh Fleet for the Far East and said:

"During the 100 years prior to 1949, human misery and mass starvation were unfortunately common in China. The Communist government of the People's Republic has succeeded in altering these conditions, and more Chinese now are living under decent conditions than during the previous century. This fact tends to be overlooked in Western assessments which emphasize instead the dimensions of ruthlessness and totalitarianism that seems so tragic to democratic practices."

Greatest Barrier

The report was drawn by a group which includes "Far Eastern scholars," business all members of the Society of Friends.

They also suggested that the U. S. put pressure on Nationalist China to withdraw from the Quemoy and Matsu islands. Acknowledging that the existence of the Republic of China on Taiwan was "the greatest political barrier" to improved U. S.-Red China relations, the Quakers suggested that this be turned over to an international body to arrange high-level talks aimed at solving the dilemma.

INDEPENDENT SOCIALIST LEAGUE,
Formerly Workers Party

The May 4, 1942, issue of "Labor Action," then an official publication of the Workers Party (WP), carried an article which reflected that the WP was formed in April, 1940, as a result of a split within the leadership of the Socialist Workers Party (SWP). The article stated that when the Hitler-Stalin Pact was signed and Poland invaded, the minority group within the SWP, in proclaiming the formation of the WP, condemned the pact as being imperialistic in nature and stated it would not support either imperialist camp.

The April 25, 1949, issue of "Labor Action" contained an account of the Fifth National Convention of the WP, held March 24-27, 1949, in New York City, which reflected the change of name of the organization from the WP to the Independent Socialist League (ISL) in order to emphasize the character of the group as a propaganda group for the spreading of socialist ideas and not as a full-fledged political party.

The July 14, 1958, issue of "Labor Action," an official publication of the ISL, contained an article captioned "The ISL Program in Brief." The article indicated: "The ISL stands for socialist democracy and against the two systems of exploitation which now divide the world: capitalism and Stalinism. The ISL, as a Marxist movement, looks to the working class and its ever-present struggle as the basic progressive in the labor movement and among all other sections of the people. There can be no lasting and genuine democracy without socialism and there can be no socialism without democracy."

The September 22, 1958, issue of "Labor Action" contained an undated statement signed by the Political Committee of the ISL which indicated that the ISL had been dissolved. The statement urged former ISL members to join the Socialist Party-Social Democratic Federation (SP-SDF).

W.E.B. DU BOIS CLUBS OF AMERICA

A source has advised that on October 26-27, 1963, a conference of members of the Communist Party (CP), including national functionaries, met in Chicago, Illinois, for the purpose of setting in motion forces for the establishment of a new national Marxist oriented youth organization which would hunt for the most peaceful transition to socialism. The delegates to this meeting were cautioned against the germ of anti-Soviet and anti-CP ideologies. These delegates were also told that it would be reasonable to assume that the young socialists attracted into this new organization would eventually pass into the CP itself.

A second conference of over 20 persons met in Chicago on December 28-29, 1963, for the purpose of initiating a "call to the new youth organization and planning for a founding convention to be held in June 1964.

A second source has advised that the founding convention for the new youth organization was held from June 19-21, 1964, at 154 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco, California, at which time the name W.E.B. Du Bois Clubs of America was adopted. Approximately 500 delegates from throughout the United States attended this convention. The aims of this organization, as set forth in the preamble to the constitution, are, "It is our belief that this nation can best solve its problems in an atmosphere of peaceful coexistence, complete disarmament and true freedom for all peoples of the world, and that these solutions will be reached mainly through the united efforts of all democratic elements in our country, composed essentially of the working people allied in the unity of Negroes and other minorities with whites. We further fully recognize that the greatest threat to American democracy comes from the racist and right wing forces in coalition with the most reactionary sections of the economic power structure, using the tool of anti-communism to divide and destroy the unified struggle of the working people. As young people in the forces struggling for democracy, we shall actively strive to defeat these reactionary and neo-fascist elements and to achieve complete freedom and democracy for all Americans, thus enabling each individual to freely choose and build the society he would wish to live in. Through these struggles we feel the American people will realize the viability of the socialist alternatives."

W.E.B. DU BOIS CLUBS OF AMERICA

The constitution further states that this new organization shall be a membership organization open to individuals, or if five or more people so desire, a chapter can be formed which shall in turn be guided by the policies and principles of the parent organization.

The second source has also advised that at the founding convention it was voted that the organization should be temporarily headquartered in San Francisco, California, although no specific physical location was decided upon. This same source advised on June 29, 1964, that the temporary headquarters of this organization is 1007 McAllister Street, San Francisco, which is the headquarters of the W.E.B. Du Bois Club of San Francisco.

Both sources have advised that at the founding convention two officers were elected:

PHILIP CHAPIN DAVIS, President, and
CARL ELLENGER BLOICE, Publications Chairman

CHICAGO COMMITTEE TO DEFEND DEMOCRATIC RIGHTS, Formerly known as Chicago Joint Defense Committee to Defeat the Smith Act

A source advised on April 15, 1958, that the Chicago Joint Defense Committee to Defeat the Smith Act (CJDC) was formed by the Communist Party (CP) in March, 1956.

A second source advised on July 17, 1958, that at a working conference of the CJDC held on June 8, 1958, at Chicago, Illinois, the name of the CJDC was changed to the Chicago Committee to Defend Democratic Rights (CCDDR). The purpose of the CCDDR, according to its "Statement of Principles and Organization" was to "...defend and extend the human rights embodied in the Bill of Rights...and to put an end to the political and racial persecutions which threaten American democracy today."

The second source further advised on May 18, 1960, that as of May, 1960, the CCDDR continued to function within the framework of its stated principles and that in accordance with its "Statement of Principles and Organization" had a number of "Working Committees" which included the Chicago Smith Act Families Committee, South Side Freedom Committee, and Taft-Hartley Working Committee. The source further stated that as of May, 1960, RICHARD CRILEY was serving as the Executive Secretary of the CCDDR.

This same source advised on February 8, 1961, that the CCDDR continued to operate until October 26, 1960, when the Chicago Committee to Defend the Bill of Rights (CCDBR) was formed and the offices and assets of what was formerly the CCDDR were taken over by the CCDBR. At the October 26, 1960, meeting, a referendum for approval of the above described action was called for, and subsequently votes were solicited from "associates" of the old CCDDR.

On May 18, 1965, a second source advised that the CP of Illinois had made no effort to mobilize its membership for the Federal Building demonstration although source felt that CP members could be expected to participate as individuals. The source was unaware of any CP members planning to participate.

The May 18, 1965, issue of the University of Chicago "Maroon" newspaper advised that a SDS preparatory rally for the May 21, 1965, demonstration was scheduled to take place on that date from 8:00 to 11:00 PM at the University of Chicago. The article stated that the SDS planned to lead a rally and demonstration around the Federal Building in Chicago and participate in "some form of civil disobedience". The above announcement was made by Jerald Lipsch, SDS secretary. According to the article, the May 18 meeting would feature a talk by Peter Slocum, Paul Cowan of SDS and a brief talk by Edmundo Flores, visiting professor of Social Science at the University of Chicago. Flores was to talk on the current Dominican Republic situation.

YOUNG SOCIALIST ALLIANCE

The May, 1960, issue of the "Young Socialist" (YS), page 1, column 3, disclosed that during April 15-17, 1960, a national organization entitled "The Young Socialist Alliance" (YSA) was established at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. This issue stated that this organization was formed by the nationwide supporter clubs of the publication YS.

The above issue, page 6, set forth the Founding Declaration of YSA. This declaration stated that the YSA recognizes the Socialist Workers Party (SWP) as the only existing political leadership on class struggle principles, and that the supporters of the YS have come into basic political solidarity with the SWP on the principles of revolutionary socialism.

A source advised on May 6, 1964, that the original YSA was an organization formed during October, 1957, in New York City by youth of various left socialist tendencies, particularly members and followers of the SWP. The leaders of this group were the guiding forces in the establishment of the national organization.

The source further advised on May 6, 1964, that the YSA is dominated and controlled on a national basis by the SWP through having SWP members comprise exclusively the National Executive Committee (NEC) and through an official SWP representative at all YSA NEC meetings. The YSA, in reality, is the youth and training section of the SWP and the main source of new SWP members.

The headquarters of the YSA are located in Room 631, 41 Union Square West, New York City.

A source advised in late November, 1959, that the Young Socialist Alliance-Chicago (YSA-C), formerly known as Young Socialist Supporters, had its origin in a series of informal discussions held in Chicago prior to June, 1959, among individuals who were close to the Socialist Workers Party (SWP).

The YSA-C as of November, 1959, proclaimed itself to be a city-wide revolutionary youth organization designed to build socialism in America and aimed toward youth on college campuses in the Chicago area and as being independent of all adult groupings.

According to a second source in May, 1964, the YSA-C, also known as the University Young Socialists, was considered the youth group of the Chicago Branch SWP and affiliated with the national organization of the YSA in New York. MAY 2 MOVEMENT

On May 3, 1965, a source advised that a movie produced by the National Liberation Front of South Vietnam was shown on the campus of Pennsylvania State University (PSU) on the evening of April 28, 1965. The movie was presented by RUSSELL STETLER, student, Haverford College, Pa. The movie was shown by the International Relations Club of PSU and according to source was well reported in "The Daily Collegian," a student newspaper of PSU.

On April 29, 1965, a second source advised that he had learned the American Friends Service Committee had paid for STETLER's appearance at PSU.

A third source on May 3, 1965, advised he could furnish little additional information than that appearing in the student newspaper. He doubted the wisdom of ELTON ATWATER as a moderator as ATWATER is known to be a pacifist and could hardly be expected to be impartial in his views. ATWATER did describe the film as "purely Communist propaganda and indicated no sympathy for it."

"The Daily Collegian", University Park, Pa., on April 28, 1965, page 1, carried an article captioned "Balanced Program Stressed: To Present Film, Forum," which stated in part as follows:

100-11392 -
ENCLOSURE

MAY 2 MOVEMENT

"Preparation for presenting a balanced program with the controversial Viet Cong film, shown tonight at 9 p.m. in 121 Sparks, are in their final stages,' said ELTON ATWATER, advisor of the International Relations Club.

"Both sides of the Viet Cong issue will be defended by persons familiar with the issue,' he continued.

"JACOB HEYMAN (...Lakewood, N.J.), a correspondent with STETLER, said, 'STETLER has toured many campuses in the east giving the film and discussing it.'

"STETLER has been active in trying to send food to the Viet Cong soldiers,' HEYMAN said. 'He is also active in the May 2nd Movement and is a member of the board of editors for the Free Student, a M2M publication. STETLER has just finished collaborating with BERTRAND RUSSELL, noted author and philosopher, in publishing a pamphlet titled 'War and Atrocity on Viet Nam,' sponsored by the BERTRAND RUSSELL Peace Foundation.'

"The film was made by the National Liberation Front of South Viet Nam. It, according to STETLER, covered alleged corruption in the Dien regime, the tortures of helpless Vietnamese, chemical warfare, American atrocities and the 'heroic' fight for 'independence' in both Viet Nams.

"HO CHI MINH and the National Liberation Front were the heroes of the film, according to STETLER.

"The film is completely silent, and STETLER will narrate the entire showing.

MAY 2 MOVEMENT

"STETLER's finances for the tour to the University are being paid by the Friends Peace Committee, according to BRUCE GOLDBERG, vice-president of the International Relations Club.

"CARL DAVIDSON, (graduate student-philosophy-Aliquippa) said, 'The Friends Peace Committee is not affiliated with the M2M movement in any way.'"

A characterization of the M2M is attached.

"The Sentinel," Lewistown, Pa., on April 29, 1965, carried an article on page 6, captioned "Viet Cong Film Shown at State," and states as follows:

"Some 1,400 students and faculty members Wednesday night watched a Communist propaganda film on Viet Nam.

"The film, which has been shown at several colleges across the country, was produced by the National Liberation Front of South Viet Nam, political arm of the Viet Cong.

"It was narrated here by RUSSELL STETLER, Haverford College senior who made news last year when he headed a campaign to ship medical supplies to North Viet Nam.

"STETLER gave a 20-minute talk on Vietnamese history in which he called for the United States to withdraw military assistance from South Viet Nam.

"Dr. ELTON ATWATER, Penn State professor of political science, offered a 20-minute rebuttal in which he urged support to keeping U.S. troops in the Southeast Asian country.

"During a question-and-answer session, STETLER was heckled by some students. At one point, Dr. ATWATER had to intercede before STETLER was able to continue speaking.

MAY 2 MOVEMENT

"Because of the size of the crowd, the film was shown twice in separate parts of the University's Sparks Building."

A copy of an article captioned, "Hugh Crowd Sees Viet Nam Film," from "The Daily Collegian," University Park, Pa., dated April 29, 1965, is being attached.

Huge Crowd Sees Viet Nam Film

By DAVE UNGERMAN

By 8:15 p.m. yesterday the first floor lobby of Sparks was flooded with people waiting to see the controversial film produced by the National Liberation Front of South Viet Nam.

At 8:30 p.m., when students were admitted to the 350-seat auditorium in 121 Sparks, it was evident an auditorium the size of Schwab was needed to accommodate the crowd. More than 1000 students attended the presentation.

At 9:45 Bruce Goldberg, vice-president of the International Relations Club, informed the waiting audience that those standing would have to leave, and arrangements were being made to find accommodations elsewhere. Many persons in the crowd sat on the floor at Goldberg's request.

The moderator reminded students of the fire hazard but most refused to leave. There were still students waiting outside of the auditorium. Arrangements were finally made to conduct a showing in 10 Sparks, immediately below 121 Sparks, after the first showing was completed. At 9 p.m. both auditoriums were filled far beyond their capacity.

The complete proceedings of the program will be taped and replayed over WDFM, according to Robert DeWitt, president of the International Relations Club, sponsor of the film. DeWitt did not say when the replay would take place.

Carl Thormeyer, editor of the Student Conservative, announced to the audience that a march will be held today to support President Johnson's policy in Viet Nam. At this point the audience cheered wildly.

At the beginning, the audience for the most part was docile and there was little raucous behavior. After Russell Stetler, Haverford student and narrator of the film, was introduced, he announced that he would make a few opening comments concerning the background of the Vietnamese. At this the audience voiced its disapproval.

"This film was not meant to be shown to an American audience of college students," Stetler said. "Many of you are aware the film has been called propaganda by the news sources. In other words you are under the impression you have to see a film of lies."

At this point most of the audience indicated agreement.

imperialism has different connotations for the Vietnamese," Stetler went on, "and it is important for us to understand these connotations and why they believe imperialism to be an ugly word."

At this point a few in the audience indicated skepticism, and Stetler informed them they could leave. "You can leave too," someone in the audience retorted.

"Propaganda does not necessarily have to be viewed as lies, but merely persuasive techniques," Stetler said. "Our actions in Viet Nam should shame us." When the audience began to grumble, Dr. Elton Atwater, adviser for the sponsoring group, reminded them that this was a balanced program and both sides of the issue would be presented. The audience indicated approval with Atwater's statement.

Stetler began to describe the "artificial amalgamation" of Indo-China by the French before World War II. "The Vietnamese do not understand the word politics," he said. "They could not unify themselves against the French and the French Legion was very good at breaking up the rival groups."

He then described the changes wrought by the war and the ability of the Vietnamese to build a united front against the French.

"Eisenhower called the anti-colonial war of 1954, the anti-communist war," Stetler went on. "This is what made us enter the war. The only foreign troops in Viet Nam today are American troops. The white paper Johnson issued agreed with this."

Stetler then said the name "Viet Cong" was "name-calling" by the United States for Vietnamese Communists. He termed it "an effort by the United States to label the people with a bad name. The main bad word in Viet Nam today is the United States," Stetler said.

Someone from the audience then yelled out, "I hope they draft you and send you to Viet Nam." Some in the audience laughed and Stetler indicated the movie was about to begin.

Stetler informed the audience he was reading a translation of the Viet Cong version of the black-and-white film.

The movie described how the country of Viet Nam is divided into two sections. "Why Viet Nam be divided?" Stetler asked.

The movie described how the United States illegally introduced troops into Viet Nam, bringing 1000 police dogs. Stetler's narration stated the Americans said it cost less to feed the dogs than troops. The movie went on describing the "atrocities" the United States had brought to Viet Nam.

Following the film Atwater, professor of political science gave his views of the Southeast Asian conflict and pointed out places where the film was distorted.

Atwater admitted that French colonialism was definitely "a strike against the Americans."

The French-provoked unrest in Viet Nam in 1954 caused a situation "made to order for the Communists," he said.

However since the French withdrawal in 1954, Atwater said, the country's main problem has been Chinese colonialism, and not that of the U.S., as stated in the movie.

Chinese intervention, he said, has been more subtle than that of America.

Many North Vietnamese, backed by the Chinese Communists, have infiltrated below the 17th parallel in recent years, said the professor.

According to latest State Department estimates this number is somewhere around 39,000, he said.

Much of the political leadership that the Viet Cong are receiving also comes from the North.

To the film's charge that the rank and file South Vietnamese people are disloyal to the Americans, the political science professor said that terror tactics from the Northern guerrillas has made it impossible to distinguish the disloyal from the frightened.

He noted that the Iuerm regime did commit many of the "unwise measures" seen in the film, but that the U.S. was glad to see his deposition a year and a half ago, since he had become an "embarrassment".

The main question facing all concerned today is "what is to be the basis for a free and independent Viet Nam government," according to Atwater.

Unfortunately Collegian deadline prevented any later coverage of the proceedings.

MAY 2 MOVEMENT (M2M)
Formerly known as May 2 Committee

A source advised on March 3, 1965 as follows:

The M2M is the name now used by the May 2 Committee which was organized on March 14, 1964, at New Haven, Connecticut, by a group of young people participating in a symposium "Socialism in America" being held at Yale University. The original aim of the M2M was to plan and execute a demonstration in New York City on May 2, 1964, demanding withdrawal of United States troops from Viet Nam.

The M2M is dominated and controlled by the Progressive Labor Movement (PLM) and has for its aim and purpose the embarrassment of the United States Government by meetings, rallies, picketing demonstrations and formation of university level clubs at which a Marxist-Leninist oriented approach and analysis is taken of United States domestic and foreign policies.

The M2M has no fixed location which serves as a headquarters, however, Post Office Box 153, Village Station, New York, New York is utilized as a mailing address.

PROGRESSIVE LABOR MOVEMENT, aka
Progressive Labor Party
"Progressive Labor"

A source advised on July 2, 1962 that Progressive Labor groups held a conference in New York City on July 1, 1962, where Milton Rosen acted as chairman. He read a statement at this conference setting forth their intention to form a new Marxist-Leninist party in the United States. Rosen stated that a more formal organization was necessary, one which would provide a framework for all who wanted to join in a united effort to build an American vanguard. The forces of this new organization are to consolidate all existing forces around Progressive Labor and organize additional forces, expand and improve political activities, win additional forces to an outlook of Marxism-Leninism and increase the open advocacy of socialism, develop a significant Marxist-Leninist program for the new party, and organize a collective organization of leaders and members.

"The Worker", an East Coast Communist newspaper, issue of January 7, 1962, page 10, column 3, reported the expulsion of Milton Rosen, former Labor Secretary of the New York State Communist Party, United States of America.

A second and third source advised in February, 1963 that this new Marxist-Leninist party had not yet been organized on a formal basis, but that Progressive Labor groups had been formed in several localities in line with the proposals of Milton Rosen. The sources advised as of February, 1963, that the leaders of this group were referring to it as the Progressive Labor Movement.

A fourth source advised on March 15, 1964 that the Progressive Labor Movement follows, supports and is politically orientated toward the Communist Party line of Red China rather than that of the Soviet Union.

A fifth source advised ~~_____~~ that at a Progressive Labor Movement meeting held in New York City ~~_____~~ it was announced that the Progressive Labor Movement would try to hold a national convention in New York City in September, 1964, to organize the Progressive Labor Movement on a more formal basis into a Progressive Labor Party.

The fifth source also advised that the Progressive Labor Movement publishes a monthly magazine called "Progressive Labor" and also a quarterly theoretical publication called the "Marxist-Leninist Quarterly." The source also advised that starting June 1, 1964, the Progressive Labor Movement would start publishing a weekly newspaper in New York City.

The March, 1964 issue of "Progressive Labor" sets forth that it is published monthly by the Progressive Labor Company, General Post Office Box 808, Brooklyn 1, New York.

States Intervention In Viet Nam

On June 8, 1965, Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (SAs, FBI) observed the "Emergency Rally On Viet Nam" which was held at Madison Square Garden, New York, New York, from approximately 7:00 p.m. to approximately 11:25 p.m. under the sponsorship of the National Committee and the Greater New York Council for a Sane Nuclear Policy together with supporting organizations.

Among the supporting organizations were the American Friends Service Committee; Americans For Democratic Action-National, New York State, Campus; American Ethical Union; American Humanist Association; Central Conference of American Rabbis; Committee For Non Violent Action; Drug and Hospital Employees' Union Local 1199; Post War Council; Retail, Wholesale and Department Store Union, District 65; Socialist Party; Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee; Students For A Democratic Society; Student Peace Union; Universities Committee on the Problems of War and Peace, New York City; University Committee to Protest War in Viet Nam; War Resisters League, Women Strike For Peace and Women's International League for Peace and Freedom.

The attendance was approximately 17, 500, which consisted of individuals mainly in the eighteen to twenty five and sixty to seventy age groups.

The purpose of the rally was to ask President Johnson to: stop the bombing, seek a cease-fire, and press for negotiations without conditions with all concerned.

The speakers at the rally were as follows: Dr. Harold Taylor and Ossie Davis, Co-Chairmen of the rally; Canon L. John Collins, Saint Paul Cathedral, London, England; M L. Thorne of South Dakota who was reported to have lost his son in Viet Nam; University of Chicago Professor of Political Science Hans J. Morgenthau; Rabbi Eugene Lipman; Dagmar Wilson of the Women Strike For Peace; Bayard Rustin, organizer of the 1963 civil rights March on Washington; Mrs. Martin Luther King, wife of Martin Luther King, President of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference; Norman Thomas, noted Socialist leader; United States Senator Wayne Morse; Dr. Benjamin Spock, noted pediatrician and Co-Chairman of the National Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy; and Joan Baez, a folk singer.

Senator Morse was critical of the record of the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA), the White House and the Departments of Defense and State on Viet Nam. He stated that foreign policy should be left to the people. He said that the United States had not brought peace to South Viet Nam nor had halted the advance of Communism there, but by its tactics, it was driving Asians by the millions into the arms of Communism.

He advocated that the United States seek an international police force, through the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization or the United Nations (UN) or with an African-Asian peace force as suggested by Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri of India.

Professor Morgenthau asserted that the United States could no more contain Communism in Asia by arming South Viet Nam and Thailand than Communist China could contain United States power in North America by arming Nicaragua and Costa Rica.

He suggested a program for stopping the conflict, that included a proposal for recognition of the political and cultural predominance of Communist China on the Asian mainland.

Dr. Benjamin Spock criticized the FBI, the House

Demonstrations Protesting United States Intervention In Viet Nam

Committee on Un-American activities and American newspapers because they favored force in dealing with Communism.

Norman Thomas during the course of his speech asserted that attempts to police the world against ideas, Communist or otherwise and intervention in other people's wars would force a "divided Communism" to close its ranks.

Those in attendance applauded attacks by the speakers on the Viet Nam policy of the United States.

Special Agents observed about one hundred persons picketing Madison Square Garden on Eighth Avenue, during the course of the rally carrying the following signs:

"The Only Good Communist Is A Dead Communist", "One Nation Under God, No Peace With The Communists", "Stop Red Fascism", "Lets Keep America First", "Red Devils Did Not Protest Hungarian Blood Pools", "Red Rats Inside", "Register Reds Not Firearms", "Kill More Reds, Viet-Nam Today, Hanoi Tomorrow", "Strong Policy In Viet Nam", "Join The Fight To End Communism In The World", "Prison For the Communist Conspirators", "More Troops In Viet Nam", "Peace Creeps Go Home".

They chanted "Better Dead Than Red, America Yes, Russia No". They gave out pamphlets entitled "Viet Nam, Why Not Victory" issued by the New Jersey State Council of Young Americans For Freedom, Box 99, Whippany, New Jersey.

During the course of the rally, confidential sources of the New York Office, FBI, observed the following individuals in attendance at the rally:

At the conclusion of the rally at Madison Square Garden, approximately 2500 individuals, departed from the Garden and walked crosstown and then downtown to the United Nations where Senator Wayne Morse and Dr. Benjamin Spock delivered short talks on the night's activity and thanked the audience for their participation in the rally.

The demonstration at the United Nations lasted approximately one hour and was finally terminated at 1:34 a.m.

No incidents or arrests took place in Madison Square Garden or at the United Nations.

The National Committee to Secure Justice in the Rosenberg Case - a Communist front which had been conducting the campaign in the United States - was reconstituted as the National Rosenberg-Sobell Committee at a conference in Chicago in October, 1953, and 'then as the National Committee to Secure Justice for Morton Sobell in the Rosenberg Case'.. ."

EMERGENCY CIVIL LIBERTIES COMMITTEE

The "Guide to Subversive Organizations and Publications," revised and published as of December 1, 1961, prepared and released by the Committee on Un-American Activities, United States House of Representatives, Washington, D.C., contains the following concerning the Emergency Civil Liberties Committee:

"Emergency Civil Liberties Committee

"1. 'The Emergency Civil Liberties Committee is an organization with headquarters in New York, whose avowed purpose is to abolish the House Committee on Un-American Activities and discredit the FBI.  The committee finds that the Emergency Civil Liberties Committee, established in 1951, although representing itself as a non-Communist group, actually operates as a front for the Communist Party. It has repeatedly assisted, by means of funds and legal aid, Communists involved in Smith Act violations and similar legal proceedings. One of its chief activities has been and still is the dissemination of voluminous Communist propaganda material.'

'FRANK WILKINSON was called as a witness when he appeared in Atlanta as a representative of the Emergency Civil Liberties Committee to propagandize against the Committee on Un-American Activities and to protest its hearings. In 1956, WILKINSON was identified as a Communist Party member by a former FBI undercover agent within the party. Summoned at that time to answer the allegation, his reply to all questions was, "I am answering no questions of this committee." This also became his stock reply to questions when he appeared during the Atlanta hearings. * * * WILKINSON has since been convicted of contempt of Congress and sentenced to one year in jail.'

'Disputing the non-Communist claim of the organization, the committee finds that a number of other individuals connected with the ECLC also have been identified under oath as Communists.

(Committee on Un-American Activities, Annual Report for 1958, House Report 187, March 9, 1959, pp. 34 and 35.)

'To defend the cases of Communist law-breakers, fronts have been devised making special appeals in behalf of civil liberties and reaching out far beyond the confines of the Communist Party itself. Among these organizations are the * * * Emergency Civil Liberties Committee. When the Communist Party itself is under fire these fronts offer a bulwark of protection.'

"The Jewish Fraternalist" dated October, 1947, self identified as the official publication of the Jewish People's Fraternal Order (JPFO) of the International Workers Order (IWO), on page 6, contained an article which reflected that the Emma Lazarus Division (ELD) of the JPFO was to hold its first national convention in New York City on November 15 and 16, 1947, after having been first established at a National Women's Conference called three years previously by the JPFO.

The "Morning Freiheit" on January 25, 1951, contained a report of the National Convention of the ELD of the JPFO which took place in New York City on January 20 and 21, 1951. At this convention it was noted that the ELD changed its name to Emma Lazarus Federation of Jewish Women's Clubs (ELF) and adopted a new constitution.

On May 14, 1964, a source advised that the ELF is one of several mass organizations comprising the Jewish cultural progressive movement.

The source stated that the ELF claims to be for peace and interested in protecting the rights of the foreign born. It is against the BEN GURION Government of Israel, bomb testing, anti-Semitism, Negro discrimination, and the rearmament of West Germany.

The source related that the ELF renders support to and receives support from the "Morning Freiheit" and other Jewish progressive organizations.

The source also stated that the ELF is recognized by the CP, USA, as an important progressive national organization of women.

GREATER NEW YORK LABOR PRESS CLUB

A source advised on December 6, 1962, that the Greater New York Press Club (GNYPC) was formed during February, 1961, by LOUIS WEINSTOCK when he was the General Manager of "The Worker" by obtaining members who would contribute funds, subscribe to and work for "The Worker," and also to hold social and cultural affairs.

The source stated that in the spring of 1962, JAMES LUSTIG was the Business Manager of "The Worker." LUSTIG announced at a press club meeting at Adelphi Hall, New York City, held on April 26, 1962, the formation of a new press club known as the "City Press Club Executive Board" (CPCEB). The purpose of this new club was to coordinate the work of all the borough press clubs in the New York City area; to strengthen the work of the press clubs; to organize new press clubs; and to draw in people who were not members of the Communist Party, United States of America (CPUSA). The source stated that the basic purpose was to raise funds for "The Worker" and increase the circulation of that publication. Persons not members of the CPUSA could be members of the new club, but leadership in the club was limited to members of the CPUSA. The name of the CPCEB was later changed to "Greater City Press Club" (GCPC) which club became the successor of the GNYPC.

The source continued that in July, 1962, LOUIS WEINSTOCK again became General Manager of "The Worker" and the GCPC again became known as the Greater New York Readers' Club, Greater New York Readers' Clubs, Greater New York Readers' Conference, Greater City Press Club and the City Press Club, by personnel responsible for preparation of notices and literature regarding meetings and activities of the clubs. The source advised at that time the GNYPC had no office or headquarters and used the mailing address of "The Worker," 23 West 26th Street, New York City.

"The Worker" is an East Coast Communist newspaper.

Nature Friends of America, Inc., (NFA) (since 1935) has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

The records of the New York County Clerk's Office, Supreme Court Building, New York City, reflect that a certificate of dissolution for NFA was filed with the Secretary of State, State of New York, on February 23, 1954.

A source advised on March 12, 1954, that at a meeting of the former New York Local of NFA held on February 25, 1954, in New York City, a successor organization known as the Metropolitan Recreation Association (MRA) was set up and all assets and real property formerly belonging to the New York Local of NFA were transferred to the MRA.

On November 4, 1957, a second source made available a copy of the constitution of the MRA, which was adopted in 1957, and which, under Article II, set forth the aims of the organization as follows:

"The purpose of the association is to bring together people without regard to race, color, national origin, religion or beliefs, having a common interest in outdoor sports, recreational and cultural activities, and the fullest use of leisure time for the furtherance of the welfare and well being of the members; to encourage the study of nature and of the natural sciences, and of the modes of living and customs and cultures of the people of the United States, past and present..."

On March 26, 1964, a third source made available a copy of the March, 1954, issue of the "Camp Midvale News," official organ of Camp Midvale, Midvale, New Jersey, which on page 1 states that the recently formed MRA is the organization which owns and operates Camp Midvale.

A source advised on July 2, 1962, that Progressive Labor groups held a conference in New York City on July 1, 1962, where MILTON ROSEN acted as chairman. He read a statement at this conference setting forth their intention to form a new Marxist-Leninist party in the United States. ROSEN stated that a more formal organization was necessary, one which would provide a frame-work for all who wanted to join in a united effort to build an American vanguard. The forces of this new organization are to consolidate all existing forces around Progressive Labor and organize additional forces; expand and improve political activities; win additional forces to an outlook of Marxism-Leninism and increase the open advocacy of socialism; develop a significant Marxist-Leninist program for the new party; and organize a collective organization of leaders and members.

"The Worker," an East Coast Communist newspaper, issue of January 7, 1962, Page Ten, Column Three, reported the expulsion of MILTON ROSEN, former Labor Secretary of the New York State Communist Party, from the Communist Party, United States of America.

A second and third source advised in February, 1963, that this new Marxist-Leninist party had not yet been organized on a formal basis, but that Progressive Labor groups had been formed in several localities in line with the proposals of MILTON ROSEN. The sources advised as of February, 1963, that the leaders of this group were referring to it as the Progressive Labor Movement.

A fourth source advised on March 15, 1964, that the Progressive Labor Movement follows, supports and is politically orientated toward the Communist Party line of Red China rather than that of the Soviet Union.

W.E.B. DU BOIS CLUBS OF AMERICA

A source has advised that on October 26-27, 1963, a conference of members of the Communist Party (CP), including national functionaries, met in Chicago, Illinois, for the purpose of setting in motion forces for the establishment of a new national Marxist-oriented youth organization which would hunt for the most peaceful transition to socialism. The delegates to this meeting were cautioned against the germ of anti-Soviet and anti-CP ideologies. These delegates were also told that it would be reasonable to assume that the young socialists attracted into this new organization would eventually pass into the CP itself.

A second conference of over 20 persons met in Chicago on December 28-29, 1963, for the purpose of initiating a "call" to the new youth organization and planning for a founding convention to be held in June, 1964.

A second source has advised that the founding convention for the new youth organization was held from June 19-21, 1964, at 150 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco, California, at which time the name W.E.B. DuBois Clubs of America was adopted. Approximately 500 delegates from throughout the United States attended this convention. The aims of this organization, as set forth in the preamble to the constitution, are: "It is our belief that this nation can best solve its problems in an atmosphere of peaceful coexistence, complete disarmament and true freedom for all peoples of the world, and that the solutions will be reached mainly through the united efforts of all democratic elements in our country, composed essentially of the working people allied in the unity of Negroes and other minorities with whites. We further fully recognize that the greatest threat to American democracy comes from the racist and right wing forces in coalition with the most reactionary sections of the economic power structure, using the tool of anti-communism to divide and destroy the unified struggle of the working people. As young people in the forces struggling for democracy, we shall actively strive to defeat these reactionary and neo-fascist elements and to achieve complete freedom and democracy for all Americas, thus enabling each individual to freely choose and build the society he would wish to live in. Through these struggles we feel the American people will realize the viability of the socialist alternatives."

The constitution further states that this new organization shall be a membership organization open to individuals, or if five or more people so desire a chapter can be formed which shall in turn be guided by the policies and principles of the parent organization.

The second source has also advised that at the founding convention it was voted that the organization should be temporarily headquartered in San Francisco, California, although no specific physical location was decided upon. This same source advised on June 29, 1964, that the temporary headquarters of this organization is 1007 Mc Allister Street, San Francisco, which is the headquarters of the W.E.B. DuBois Club of San Francisco.
