Dolce, the FBI's first K9 victim specialist, died of natural causes on Oct. 15th. He was 13 years old.

The striking K9 wore two vests: as a therapy dog, first in the military and then for the Bureau, and as an assistance animal for his owner/handler, Victim Specialist [redacted] of the Nashville RA.

[redacted] has rheumatoid arthritis, a painful auto-immune disease, and Dolce helped her walk around, climb stairs and with household tasks, like laundry and turning on lights.

While [redacted] adopted Dolce in 2004 to assist her, it became clear early on he had a lot to give because

Houston Division Weathers Hurricane Harvey

*Hurricane Harvey dumped more than 50 inches of rain on parts of the Houston area.

Prior to this summer, no major hurricane had made landfall in Texas since 2008. That changed on Aug. 25 when Hurricane Harvey roared across southeast Texas as a Category 4 storm with wind gusts over 100 miles per hour. It soon became clear that the brunt of the storm was heading toward Houston.

The division had already begun to prepare. "We had no idea what to expect, what kind of impact the hurricane would have on employees and also on the city of Houston," said SAC Perrye Turner. "We're very fortunate to have a crisis management team with a full-time crisis management coordinator. A couple days before the storm, we met and discussed the plan in detail."

Clear communication with employees was critical. The division leveraged a public access line and instructed employees to call in on a daily basis to report their whereabouts and conditions. Employees filled out a questionnaire listing their phone numbers and anticipated location during the storm.

15 Minutes with [REDACTED] Endangered Child Alert Program

photos and interview by [REDACTED] BUNews Published: October 26, 2017

UNCLASSIFIED//FOUO

b6

For [REDACTED] "saving a child" is how ECAP defines success.

Child sexual abuse is among the worst violations the FBI is charged with stopping. Investigators become aware of it because the abuse is often recorded and pedophiles trade images via the internet or dark Web.

In most cases, the subjects in the footage are unknown and could be anywhere. How does the Bureau find these John and Jane Does?

Investigators use tools such as forensic image analysis to try to identify them. If those techniques don't work, however, and the images meet certain criteria, the investigation may be worked as an Endangered Child Alert Program case.

Author Dan Pink tells attendees that talking about why employees' work matters is a powerful performance enhancer.

At the recent Counterterrorism Division all-hands, best-selling author Dan Pink told attendees that to be engaged and motivated, employees need autonomy, mastery and purpose—and not to be managed solely with rewards and punishments.

Rewards and punishments make employees compliant, he said, by incentivizing employees who "do what you want them to do, how you want them to do it" and penalizing those who don't.

Research shows this system is only effective when taskings are basic; short-term; have clear, well-
