EMPLOYEE BULLETIN

No. 441

28 February 1975

COMMISSION ON CIA ACTIVITIES WITHIN THE UNITED STATES

As you are aware, the President on 4 January 1975 established a Commission on CIA Activities Within the United States to look into allegations that certain Agency activities conducted within this country exceeded our charter and statutory authority.

Upon completion of its inquiry, the Commission will issue its findings and submit recommendations to the President and to the Director of Central Intelligence.

The President has directed that the Agency extend support and assistance to the Commission, and I have pledged my cooperation to the Commission and its Staff.

I have also told the Commission that any current employee of the Agency is available to the Commission and its Staff for discussions.

The Agency and the Commission Staff have now developed sufficient working experience so that we can design additional procedures to facilitate the Staff's work in examining topics of concern.

All members of the Commission Staff have received security clearances and have been given badges providing them with access to Agency offices in the Washington, D. C. area.

The Commission Staff will, during their inquiries in CIA Headquarters Area Offices, be given access to Agency files related to the Commission's fields of responsibility. The use of specific sensitive data from these files in any unclassified report by the Commission will be subject to consultation between the Director and the Commission.

To facilitate interviews by the Commission Staff Officers with CIA employees, I have advised the Commission that employees are authorized to furnish classified information with certain exceptions. My letter to the Vice President, the Chairman of the Commission, is attached. It sets forth guidelines for the furnishing of classified information.

The cooperative spirit of our relationship with the Commission and its Staff must at the same time take account of the rights of Agency employees. Like other citizens, they have the right to remain silent. The Commission Staff will advise employees of their rights at the beginning of any interview or other appearance.

My own belief, after careful review of all activities in question, is that legal action will not be taken against individuals. The final decision, however, must rest with the Department of Justice and other legal authorities and risk of such action is a judgment each employee must make for himself.

When a current Agency employee is asked to be interviewed by a member of the Commission Staff, the Staff member may notify Mr. E. H. Knoche who is my assistant in charge of liaison with the Commission and its Staff. Mr. Knoche, in turn, will notify the employee. The purpose of this is in no way to inhibit the work of Staff members. It is intended to allow time for the employee to gain general legal guidance if he wants it, and to obtain security guidance from an appropriate senior officer.

There is no requirement that an employee report to his supervisor or other Agency authorities on the nature of the interview. This is a matter of the employee's choice.

In arranging the interviews, I am acutely aware of the need to avoid the appearance as well as the fact of collusion between Agency and employee. None of us has any intention to fabricate or mislead. I am convinced that being forthcoming will vindicate the Agency and its eminent service to our country.

In keeping with long-standing policy, employees with any knowledge of activities conducted within the United States, now or in the past, which they believe to be of a questionable nature can follow the customary practice within the Agency of calling the matter to my attention or that of the Inspector General. This will permit me to take appropriate policy actions with regard to any such activities. It will also ensure my ability to continue to be forthcoming with all those involved in external reviews of Agency activities.

Employees should also feel free to bring any such matters directly to the attention of the Commission or the Commission Staff outside of Agency channels if they so desire. In doing so, however, employees should bear in mind that the Commission's field of interest is CIA activities within this country.

To contact the Commission, employees can call the Executive Director, Mr. David W. Belin on 456-7010, or the Counsel, Mr. Marvin Gray, Jr., on 456-7014. The mail address is:

The Honorable Nelson A. Rockefeller
Chairman, Commission on CIA Activities
Within the United States
712 Jackson Place, N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Mr. Vice President:

As you are aware, all employees of the Central Intelligence Agency are required to sign secrecy agreements when they enter on duty. This is a condition of employment, and it requires that they keep forever secret all classified information gained during the course of their employment. The secrecy agreement further requires that they may not disclose classified information in interviews or by publication without prior authorization from the Director of Central Intelligence. There is a provision in the secrecy agreement that the conditions and obligations with respect to the protection of classified information by the agreement continue after employment with the Agency has been terminated.

As I have stated to the Commission, I will make available any employee of this Agency to the Commission for staff interview and for testimony before the Commission. This letter will serve as authorization for any such employees or ex-employees to furnish information as requested by the Commission or its staff on matters that may be classified. As has been discussed with the Commission, there are certain sensitive items which should receive special handling. Such items include names of sources, specific details of technical devices and systems maintained in compartmented channels by the Agency, names of employees, names of persons who may be targets of kidnapping or assassination by foreign intelligence organizations, names of organizations cooperating with the Agency, and detailed information which would pinpoint any of the above. Some information might also conflict with a subject's right of privacy.

There is no purpose here to impede in any way the Commission's investigation. I believe, however, in most cases these specific identifying names and details are not necessary for an understanding of our activities. Where the Commission or the staff believes that specific identification is necessary to the purpose of the testimony or the staff interrogation, the matter will be discussed between the Commission and the Agency, and I will be prepared to consult with you and the Commission to determine the course of action to be taken. Where in the judgment of the employee a specific identification is especially sensitive as outlined in this paragraph, an identity number will be assigned pending resolution of the matter between the Commission and the Agency, and in the meantime the identity will not be divulged by the employee.

I appreciate the cooperation of the Commission and of Agency employees in this regard. I am still responsible under the statute and as a professional for the protection of intelligence sources and methods from unauthorized disclosure. In many situations the inadvertent disclosure of a name or identification could have serious repercussions, including placing lives in jeopardy, and I cannot in good conscience put such information at risk.

This arrangement of course does not affect the Commission's procedures for advising prospective witnesses of their rights, securing waivers, nor the employee's or ex-employee's right not to answer certain questions if they are concerned that the answers might tend to incriminate them.

Respectfully,

W. E. Colby
Director

MEMORANDUM FOR THE RECORD

Morning Meeting of 22 September 1975

The Director was at the White House; General Walters chaired the meeting.

✓ Berend called attention to the Agency statement issued on the Oswald phone taps, as reported in the attached article, "Oswald Calls to Embassies Reported Taped by CIA," from the 21 September New York Times. He stated that he was unaware that CIA had issued such a statement and asked to be kept advised.

Oswald Calls to Embassies Reported Taped by C.I.A.

By NICHOLAS M. HORROCK

Special to The New York Times

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20—The Central Intelligence Agency secretly tape-recorded two telephone conversations between Lee Harvey Oswald and the Cuban and Soviet Embassies in Mexico City some eight weeks before President Kennedy was shot to death on Nov. 22, 1963, in Dallas, Government sources familiar with the events said today.

The call to the Soviet Embassy, according to the sources, alerted the C.I.A. to the presence of Oswald in Mexico City, and on Oct. 10 the agency warned the Federal Bureau of Investigation. There is no indication that the F.B.I., which was investigating Oswald for his pro-Castro activities, ever followed up on the information.

The call to the Cuban Embassy the sources said, was not associated with Oswald until after the death of Mr. Kennedy. A Federal commission headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren found that Oswald, acting alone, had slain the President.

To Avoid Publicity

The calls were reportedly placed by Oswald on a trip to Mexico City in late September and early October, 1963. The events of this trip have never been fully made public and have been the subject of speculation for more than a decade.

The reports of the calls are the latest developments in the increasing speculation about the Warren Commission's conclusions. Evidence that the C.I.A. and the F.B.I. may have been less than candid with the commission has added to the questions surrounding the as-assassination and has led to more calls for a reopening of the inquiry.

The Mexico City trip was given scant treatment in the Warren Commission report because publication of information about it might have exposed "sources and methods" of the C.I.A. and impaired national security, intelligence officers and commission staff sources have said.

In response to inquiries about the matter from The New York Times, the C.I.A. issued an unusual public statement on the matter. It would not confirm that there were any tape-recorded conversations but said:

"On October 9, 1963 Central Intelligence Agency headquarters received information that a person named Lee Oswald contacted the Soviet Embassy in Mexico City in late September or early October, 1963. In transmitting the information on 10 October 1963 Central Intelligence Agency headquarters said Lee Oswald was probably identical to Lee Henry (sic) Oswald a former radar operator in the United States Marine Corps, born 18 October 1939 in New Orleans who defected to the Soviet Union in 1959 and who subsequently made arrangement to return to the United States with a Russian wife.

From F.B.I. Reports

"This biographical data was based upon Federal Bureau of Investigation reports provided to Central Intelligence Agency following Oswald's defection to the Soviet Union.

"This information was also provided to the Immigration and Naturalization Service, the Department of the Navy, the United States Ambassador and his staff in Mexico and to the Representative of the F.B.I. in Mexico.

"Following the assassination of President Kennedy, Central Intelligence Agency records revealed that a person believed to be Oswald was in contact with the Cuban Embassy on 27 September 1963 for the purpose of receiving a transit visa for use enroute to the U.S.S.R.

"In addition a number of photographs of individuals believed to be in contact with the Cuban and Soviet Embassies in Mexico City were received from the Central Intelligence Agency station in Mexico and were compared with pictures of Lee Harvey Oswald by C.I.A. officers in Mexico City and C.I.A. headquarters and by United States authorities in Dallas, Texas.

photograph of Lee Harvey Oswald. Their determinations, and the raw data upon which they were based, along with the reports of his visit to the Soviet Embassy, were made to the Warren and Rockefeller Commissions as were all other materials relevant to the investigation of President Kennedy's death."

Three staff members of the Warren Commission were assigned to investigate the Mexico City trip and other matters involving the C.I.A.—William T. Coleman, now Secretary of Transportation; Howard P. Willens, a former Justice Department official now in private law practice, and W. David Slawson, a law professor in California.

Mr. Coleman said in a telephone interview that he was "disturbed" about the possibility that United States security might be harmed by recent disclosures of F.B.I. and C.I.A. activities. But he acknowledged that he and other staff members had received information from the C.I.A. on Oswald's activities in Mexico, and they did not run counter to the commission's conclusion that Oswald, acting alone, killed President Kennedy and a Dallas police officer, J. J. Tippitt.

Sure Others Learned

Mr. Coleman said he was sure that J. Lee Rankin, the Warren Commission's chief counsel, had been informed of the C.I.A. Mexico City data and that "at least two or three commission members" knew. He could not remember if the commission had ever discussed the matter in executive session. Mr. Willens and Mr. Slawson declined to make public comment.

Sources familiar with the contents of the tapes said that Oswald had been seeking a transit visa from Cuban officials and that he had been rebuffed. One source said that the recall to the Soviet Embassy had been an effort to get help in furthering his application been no "conspiratorial" tone to the conversations and one source called them "benign." Moreover, the sources said, of the C.I.A. had information that the Cubans were suspicious of and unsympathetic to Oswald. One source said the Cubans regarded Oswald's behavior in returning to the United States from the Soviet Union and then asking to go back as "strange."

Asked if anything said might have "triggered" Oswald, a Castro supporter, to take "retaliation" against President Kennedy, one source said he thought not but said that he thought Oswald had been "frustrated" by the Cubans.

Known by F.B.I.

The F.B.I. acknowledged at the Warren Commission hearings that it had received information from the C.I.A. about Oswald's Mexican contact with the Soviet Embassy on Oct. 10, 1963. Former F.B.I. agents involved in the investigation said the bureau knew that Oswald had been trying to return to the Soviet Union.

Under bureau operating procedures at that time, the F.B.I. followed up on any unexplained visit by an American citizen to Communist embassies and consulates. It would have been particularly watchful in the case of Oswald, who had defected once.

The bureau jargon for such unexplained visits was "bogies" and agents were sent to interview the person on why he or she had been in contact with the Communists. The only reason this was not done in Oswald's case, these sources said, may have been because he was already under an F.B.I. security investigation in connection with pro-Castro activities.

The bureau's formal response to these questions was to refer to the Warren Commission report. In the report it was noted that James P. Hosty Jr., special agent of the Dallas field office, attempted to interview Oswald about his Cuban activities on Nov. 1.

Morning Meeting of 24 September 1975

The Director was returning from St. Louis; General Walters chaired the meeting.

Carver called attention to his memorandum of 23 September attaching a memorandum prepared for the President by Messrs. Buchen, Lynn and Kissinger on implementation of the Rockefeller Commission recommendations. Noting that he had obtained this memorandum from D/DIA, he expressed his concern that the Director was not aboard.

Berend called attention to a false story carried in the 23 September Baltimore News American alleging that working levels of the CIA were aware two months before the JFK assassination that Oswald planned to kill President Kennedy but did not report this information up the line. General Walters asked Berend to draft a statement of denial for public release.

Judge Bars CIA 'Plot' Anonymity

By Timothy S. Robinson
Washington Post Staff Writer

U.S. District Court Judge Gerhard A. Gesell yesterday refused to delete the name of a former CIA official from the Senate intelligence committee's final report dealing with alleged assassination plots on foreign leaders.

Gesell issued the ruling in open court after a day of secret hearings on a suit filed by an anonymous former CIA official in an attempt to remove his name from the report or block publication of the report, scheduled to be released later this week.

The official, who was described by a Senate committee attorney as "a public official that participated in acts that are abhorrent to our society... (and) who sought to kill foreign leaders," is reported to be in fear of assassination himself if his name is publicly tied to various plots investigated by the committee.

Although Gesell agreed that the ex-CIA man's life could be in danger if his name is published in the report, he said the "public interest greatly outweighs any private interest" of the plaintiff.

Informed sources identified the plaintiff in the suit as Dr. Sidney Gottlieb, former CIA director of technical services who has testified in closed sessions before the Senate committee.

Gottlieb, who has been granted immunity from prosecution, has been linked in public reports with the alleged destruction of documents about controversial CIA programs and an alleged plot to ship poison overseas to be used in a CIA-sponsored assassination attempt.

Attorneys Terry F. Lenzner, Thomas H. Truitt and Donald T. Bucklin—who have represented Gottlieb in previous actions—refused to disclose the identity of the plaintiff in the suit they filed before Gesell.

The suit was filed secretly over the weekend with Gesell, who scheduled a closed hearing yesterday morning at the request of the plaintiff's attorneys.

For more than two hours, sheets of black plastic covered the windows of a locked courtroom door as various witnesses testified about the alleged assassination plots with which the plaintiff was reportedly connected and about the reported threats on the plaintiff's life.

At least one current high-ranking CIA official was reported to be among the witnesses.

The Senate committee also provided a copy of its planned report to Gesell, who later described it in open court as a "report in narrative form and in great detail, telling of a number of alleged assassination plots."

Gesell opened his courtroom at 2:15 p.m. yesterday for an hour of arguments by attorneys over the legal issues involved in the case.

Much of that argument centered around the rights of Congress to publish legislative material unfettered by the courts and the plaintiff's possible right of privacy that might be invaded by the public linking of his name to assassination plots.

In refusing to block publication of the report, or to order the plaintiff's name deleted, Gesell noted that the Senate committee had voluntarily deleted the names of 20 of the 32 current and former CIA employees named in the final report.

However, he said he had no right to interfere with the committee's decision to name the plaintiff, whom he described as a "central figure in the report."

Gesell said he felt specifically that he had no power to block the publication of 309 uncensored Senate CIA committee reports that are first expected to be made available to senators and their staffs.

As for the publicly distributed documents scheduled to be released later, Gesell said, the court must balance the individual's alleged right to privacy against the public's right to be fully informed by Congress on a matter of such "major public concerns" as the alleged CIA assassination plots.
