Attached are two additional communications (CIA messages SANTIAGO 4553 dated 12 January 1971 and DIRECTOR 103882 dated 21 January 1971) exchanged between Colonel Wimert and General Bennett on the events in Chile during the latter part of 1970.

Also attached is a covering note to General Bennett from William Broe, then Chief of the CIA Western Hemisphere Division. This covering note also contains an original handwritten acknowledgment from General Philpott to Mr. Broe.

While these messages were exchanged more than two months after the event, they are possibly of current interest because they concern the General Schneider incident.

Dear Arthur:

I attempted to copy the voluminous materials regarding the Fred Hampton case in the possibility of governmental intelligence operations. The materials are too voluminous for our simple office copying machine and a commercial copier estimates that the cost would be approximately $300.00 (300+ pages x $0.08 to $0.10 per page).

Please advise.

Very truly,

JCB/pd

Statement of Raymond H. Rosing regarding audit of Sidney Morris Peck based on telephone interview 8/13/75.

In the summer of 1968 I was the Assistant Chief of the Audit Division in the Cleveland District. I recall some of the circumstances surrounding the audit of Sidney Morris Peck, though I would like to review the audit file (which has not yet been received from the Federal Records Center) before giving any formal testimony on the subject if any should be necessary.

My best recollection is that the return was of a type which would identified by the computer as having audit potential. not normally be ~~selected for~~ audit. The information on the return was not of the kind which the computer would normally identify select for audit under the IRS DIF scoring method. There was no routine mass volume procedure in effect at that time for manual screening of returns for questionable deductions. Therefore, without some impetus from outside the normal, routine system, Mr. Peck's return would in all probability not have been selected for classification and audit review.

My best recollection is that at the time of the demonstrations by the SDS in Chicago in 1968, or shortly thereafter, we received in Cleveland a transmission from the National Office with regard to pulling Mr. Peck's tax return. My impression (though I am by no means certain) is that Mr. Peck was one of a number of people on a National Office list of persons associated with the SDS, and that the transmission was the impetus for our pulling Mr. Peck's return for review. I do not now recall whether there were other names of other persons associated with SDS on the transmission to the Cleveland District or whether Mr. Peck was the only one.

I have been advised that Inspector Samuel Gardner has indicated he orally transmitted to the Audit Department some information regarding improper deductions by Mr. Peck which he obtained from the FBI. I have no recollection of this event, though it could very easily have occurred as Inspection frequently supplies information to Audit.

Upon manual review of Mr. Peck's tax return, it was noticed that there were a number of deductions which were not self-explanatory and which required audit, so an audit was conducted.

I have no recollection that there was any special urgency about the audit, or that Mr. Peck was treated differently from any other taxpayer. In fact, I was quite certain the audit was conducted in an entirely routine manner.

ADMIRAL U.S. NAVY (RET.)

13 August 1975

Mr. Frederick A. O. Schwartz, Jr.
General Counsel
United States Senate
Select Committee to Study Governmental Operations
with Respect to Intelligence Activities
Washington, D.C. 20510

Dear Mr. Schwartz:

As requested in your letter of 6 August 1975, and passed by telephone to Mr. Gregory Treverton this date, the following replies are provided:

1. During the period September 15 to November 3, 1970, I was serving as Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. Were you aware at this time that President Nixon had requested the CIA to conduct certain activities in Chile directed toward preventing Salvadore Allende from assuming the Presidency?

Answer: My knowledge concerning the CIA activities in Chile was restricted to that information that was discussed in formal meetings of the 40 Committee. The main thrust of these meetings was pointed toward various financial actions aimed at assisting the established political opposition to Allende. I did not attend the last staff meeting in the White House on the subject of Chile but was represented by Lt. Gen. Richard Knowles, U.S. Army. Neither did I attend the National Security Council meeting on the subject in November 1970. In this case I was represented by General William Westmoreland, U.S. Army.

2. Were you aware that these activities included an attempt by CIA and DIA officers in Chile to promote a military coup d'etat by opponents of Salvadore Allende?

Answer: I was not aware that an active effort was underway to promote a military coup by opponents of Salvadore Allende. Speculation as to the possibility of independent action on the part of the Chilean military forces, who were known to be strict constitutionalists, was of course raised from time to time during discussions of the rapidly developing Allende episode. As I recall, I was advised by General Bennett, Director of the Defense Intelligence Agency, on one occasion that the DIA was in touch with our attaches in Chile with a view toward determining the courses of action, if any, which might be under consideration by the Chilean military. This was prior to Allende's inauguration. General Bennett noted that the contacts and friendships developed by the attaches with the Chilean officers while assigned to the Inter-American Defense College and the Inter-American Defense Board were expected to be of assistance.

THOMAS H. MOORER

3. Did you hear during this time any reference to a two-track policy aimed at preventing Allende's accession to office? Specifically, did you ever hear of a so-called Track II?

Answer: I did not hear any reference to a "Two-Track" policy aimed at preventing Allende's accession to office at that time (1970). I learned of the so-called "Track II" policy only a few days ago (1975).

4. Did you know at the time that any weapons had been passed to Chilean conspirators by the Central Intelligence Agency during the September to October 1970 period?

Answer: I was not aware at that time that weapons were being passed to Chilean conspirators by the CIA.

5. Were you aware of any activities being conducted in Chile during this time that had not been taken up by the 40 Committee, either for informational or approval purposes?

Answer: As stated before, the answer is "No."

6. Did you ever learn, subsequent to November 3, 1970, of U.S. efforts to promote a coup d'etat in Chile, a two-track policy regarding Chile, weapons passed to Chilean conspirators, or activities being conducted in Chile during this period that were not reported to or approved by the 40 Committee? If so, when did you learn of these activities? Through what source did you learn of these activities? What specifically did you learn of these activities?

Answer: As stated before, I learned of subject activities only a few days ago when I was advised that considerable information had been requested of the Secretary of Defense by the "Select Committee," and that a thorough search of the files of the Joint Staff was being conducted concerning the subject of Chile. I was given this information by General George Brown, Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, who did discuss the matter with the Secretary of Defense following Dr. Schlesinger's telephone conversation with Chairman Frank Church. With respect to the activities generated by the "Two-Track" policy, I was advised at this time that there was in fact a "Two-Track" policy and that communications were passed between Washington and Santiago with respect to action by Chilean military officers aimed at preventing Allende from seizing power prior to the time he was actually inaugurated. In this connection I should report that so far as I know there are no references in the Joint Chiefs' files to the "Two-Track" policy and I have personally never seen any messages, incoming or outgoing, dealing with "Track II." Hence, I have no knowledge of the details of the events alleged to have occurred by the New York Times article you supplied.

THOMAS H. MOORER

While the above sets forth my best recollection concerning the Allende episode, I will of course be happy to answer further questions if you so desire.

Sincerely,

Thomas H. Moorer

This Agency is unable to locate a document described as "Review Conducted in Mid-1969 by Chief, Special Operations Division, on Covert Disruptive Action." This refers to your request dated 31 July 1975 (Covert Action, Laos, First Priority, Item 22).

It is possible that the so-called review was an updating of the manual listed as Item 18 in referenced request, "CA/PMG paper on Covert Disruptive Action - Operational Guidance (Paramilitary Countersubversive Operations), early 1962.

In any event, if the Committee staff could provide us with any further clarification of its request, this would assist greatly in continuing the search.

Mr. William G. Miller
Staff Director
Select Committee ... Intelligence Activities
United States Senate
Washington, D.C.

Dear Bill:

Re your letter of July 30th, I am hard pressed just now and can only be summary:

1. The National Security Council is an agency created by Congress, and it has only the powers delegated to it by Congress. The Act of 1947 does not authorize use of force or hostile acts.

2. The Executive has no independent authority to authorize hostile acts. My views on that were compressed in an article in the N.Y. Times re Mayaguez, which you will find in Cong. Rec., June 2, 1975, E2772.

3. There is no inherent authority over foreign affairs. Madison made clear that such authority had to be "given", and except for authority to receive ambassadors it was made subject to advice and consent of the Senate. You will find a full length discussion of this in Chapter V of my Executive Privilege.

4. Congress must come to grips with the fact that, as President Buchanan said, the President can not fire a hostile shot, even for the protection of Americans, without congressional authorization.

All good wishes,

Yours in haste

Raoul

Mr. Lawrence Devlin has asked us to transmit the following message to you:

"I regret my delay in replying to your message of 4 August, but as noted in my interim reply, I was forced to work out some prior commitment before suggesting a definitive date. If it meets with your approval, I can be in Washington on Tuesday, 20 August. In view of other business commitments, I would hope to complete my testimony by Saturday, 23 August.

"Please advise me if the dates suggested would be convenient for the Select Committee. This document is, and has been since early May, located in your study area here at CIA Headquarters. Its full title is 'Joint Study Group Report on Foreign Intelligence Activities.'

The clearance that we obtained from the White House concerning this document specified that it was to be made available for review here. If you are now requesting delivery to your offices, then it would be best if you went directly to the White House since the DCI does not have authority to transmit it. Also attached is a covering note to General Bennett from William Broe, then Chief of the CIA Western Hemisphere Division. This covering note also contains an original handwritten acknowledgment from General Philpott to Mr. Broe.

While these messages were exchanged more than two months after the event, they are possibly of current interest because they concern the General Schneider incident.

Dear Bill:

Re your letter of July 30th, I am hard pressed just now and can only be summary:

1. The National Security Council is an agency created by Congress, and it has only the powers delegated to it by Congress. The Act of 1947 does not authorize use of force or hostile acts.

2. The Executive has no independent authority to authorize hostile acts. My views on that were compressed in an article in the N.Y. Times re Mayaguez, which you will find in Cong. Rec., June 2, 1975, E2772.

3. There is no inherent authority over foreign affairs. Madison made clear that such authority had to be "given", and except for authority to receive ambassadors it was made subject to advice and consent of the Senate. You will find a full length discussion of this in Chapter V of my Executive Privilege.

4. Congress must come to grips with the fact that, as President Buchanan said, the President can not fire a hostile shot, even for the protection of Americans, without congressional authorization.

All good wishes,

Yours in haste

Raoul

Dear Mr. Schwarz:

We are in receipt of your letter dated July 30, 1975 wherein you request the cooperation of the City of Miami Police Department in your investigation of the relationships between federal agencies and local public departments throughout the United States.

While we welcome the opportunity to cooperate with your committee, it is our feeling that your request covers an extremely broad range of information, too broad in fact for our department to adequately fulfill without incurring a prohibitive amount of expense. Our legal advisors have been consulted with reference to your request and they also have some reservations about approving the release of much of this information in light of the recently enacted Federal Privacy Regulations (see Federal Register Vol. 40, No. 98 - Tuesday, May 20, 1975).

We would appreciate more specific guidelines with reference to the information you have requested and would suggest that you coordinate your work through our legal advisors Ms. Loraine Strait and Mr. Thomas Connors.

Mr. William G. Miller, Staff Director
 Mr. Frederick A.O. Schwartz, Jr., Chief Counsel
 United States Senate

 With Respect to Intelligence Activities
 Washington, D.C. 20510

Gentlemen:

I have your inquiry of July 30 pertaining to constitutional issues regarding foreign covert action operations. As I told Robert Kelley of your staff on the telephone, I unfortunately cannot take time now to pursue at length the interesting and important questions you raise. Permit me simply to sketch my conclusions.

You raise two broad questions of special interest to me: first, the President's authority to permit the conduct of foreign covert actions in the absence of statutory authorization; second, congressional power to regulate the conduct of covert actions in view of the President's constitutional powers.

It seems to me that the first of these questions is the more complex but also the less important of the two. Arguments may be made, as you know, that, in the absence of statutory authorization, the President has some authority derived from his concerns with foreign affairs and military matters. I believe that the maximum executive authority in this regard is best viewed in accordance with the three-part division suggested by Justice Jackson's concurring opinion in the Steel Seizure Case, 343 U.S. 579 (1952). Justice Jackson's second category in his Steel Seizure analysis seems especially relevant here: there may be situations where a President may be able to act because of "a zone of twilight" -- an area in which there is room for initiative by either branch, and in which the executive may act in the absence of contrary congressional directions. I believe that presidential authority in the foreign covert intelligence area stems largely from congressional inaction or perhaps implied authorization rather than from any inherent, congressionally untouchable variety of presidential power.

rig -> Admin

leg -> Pol. Chm

leg -> Clerk

leg -> LOGA ->

Research Center

But it seems to me that pursuit of the question of the permissible range of executive authority in the absence of congressional action is relevant largely to matters of hindsight, and that the more important question pertains to the future. The latter question -- the question of whether Congress has power to act, to set guidelines, impose restrictions, and exercise oversight -- seems to me the simpler as well as the more important one. Congressional power to enact the kind of measures proposed in recent discussions seems to me clear -- even clearer, for example, than the authority to adopt the War Powers Resolution of 1973. Congress, it should be recalled, not only has authority to adopt measures necessary and proper to implement constitutionally granted legislative powers, but also, under the quite explicit terms of the Necessary and Proper Clause, may "make all Laws which shall be necessary and proper for carrying into execution" "all other Powers vested by this Constitution in the Government of the United States, or in any Department or Office thereof." In short, even if the executive branch can assert a "twilight zone" authority to conduct covert foreign intelligence operations in the absence of congressional action, any executive authority in that area is subject to the congressional oversight and guidelines founded on Art. I, §8, cl. 18 of the Constitution.

In short, I would think that the major congressional focus in the important task that you are presently undertaking should be on the question of what measures are appropriate by way of congressional control. That, I recognize, is a difficult task; but it is a task which can and should be undertaken with very great confidence that Congress has the authority to enact whatever it may ultimately find to be appropriate as a matter of wise national policy.

With high regard,

Faithfully yours,

Gerald Gunther

August 6, 1975

Dear Mr. Miller:

Your letter of July 30 invites my views as to the constitutional authority of the President to conduct "covert action operations."

Since the Constitution does not speak to this subject, and the Supreme Court has given no opinion on it, I cannot, of course, be highly confident in my views, but the following is my considered opinion in brief outline:

1. Although the Constitution does not expressly confer the power to conduct covert operations on the Federal Government, I have no doubt that, as a matter of Constitutional Law, the Federal Government has the authority to conduct such operations equally with other sovereign nations. Compare U.S. Curtiss-Wright Export Corp., 299 U.S. 304 (1936). Clearly, then, the President may carry out such operations when authorized by Congress.
2. If Congress has not forbidden or otherwise regulated the conduct of such operations, the President, it can respectably be argued, may conduct such operations on his own authority. By international practice such operations, like espionage, appear to be an accepted facet of the conduct of foreign relations which is the President's responsibility under his "Foreign Affairs Powers". If so, he can carry them out by all means available to him, including the use of military personnel under his command, in ways short of war. See Henkin, Foreign Affairs and the Constitution (1972) pp. 45-54 and corresponding notes. That such activities may violate international law, or treaties to which the United States is party, would be constitutionally immaterial: the Constitution does not forbid the President (or Congress) to violate our international obligations, and the President may do what is within his constitutional authority even if what he does violates international law.

3. I am, however, disposed to the view that Congress can forbid, regulate, oversee or scrutinize, such Executive actions, at least when gross intervention in the affairs of other nations, especially with the use of troops, might invite war, since decisions about, or close to, war-and-peace are for Congress to make. If so, Congress can regulate such activities either directly by legislation, or by denying or limiting appropriations for such purposes.

Need I say that nothing above implies my support or approval for such activities as a citizen, whether conducted with or without Congressional authorization?

Sincerely yours,

Louis Henkin

INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES

1975 AUG 13 AM 11:53

Dears Messrs. Miller and Schwarz,

I was on the point of pleading prior commitments for the month of August in response to your letter of 30th July regarding the legal authority of United States intelligence agencies when Mr. Kelly of your staff phoned me and reassured me about the scope of what I was called upon to do. He informed me that I could confine myself to the international law aspects of the questions put and that a comparatively short statement would suffice.

You may accordingly count on me for a statement in response to your letter. It should be in your hands by 25th August.

Yours sincerely,

Gentlemen:

This is in reference to the letter of August 5, 1975, from Mr. John Elliff of your Committee staff to Departmental Special Counsel Michael E. Shaheen, Jr., to which was attached an additional series of requests for FBI materials and submitted pursuant to the procedures agreed upon by the Committee and the Department on July 24, 1975.

An initial review of the Committee's nearly 100 requests has been made and it is our expectation that both the Department and the Bureau will be able to comply with the designated deadlines with the following exceptions:

V. C. and D. These requests seek specific materials with respect to surreptitious entries carried out by the FBI. Because the Committee's requests concern matters that are extraordinarily sensitive in nature and involve, in several instances, peculiarly sensitive foreign intelligence sources or peculiarly sensitive ongoing foreign intelligence operations, access to the materials should be governed by the requirement for special procedures to be agreed upon, following consideration by the Committee and discussion at the staff level and with the Department's Special Counsel.

This relates to your request for detailed information and documents about the specific individuals and issues involved in the case of Berlin Democratic Club, et al vs. Schlesinger, et al.

As I indicated during our previous conversations on this matter, to supply the specific information you asked for at this time would raise difficult legal issues.

Under the circumstances, we have considered it prudent to request the advice of the Attorney General before proceeding further.

GENERAL COUNSEL OF THE DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE
WASHINGTON, D. C. 20301

5 AUG 1975

Honorable Edward H. Levi
Attorney General
Washington, D. C. 20530

Dear Mr. Levi:

Secretary Schlesinger has received an undated letter from Senators Church and Tower in which they request, on behalf of the Senate Committee to Study Governmental Operations With Respect to Intelligence Activities, specific information regarding the issues involved in the pending litigation styled Berlin Democratic Club, et al. v. Schlesinger, et al. Since your department, and in particular the United States Attorney for the District of Columbia, is responsible for conducting the defense of this litigation, it appears that you should review the Select Committee's request and determine what further material, if any, should be provided to the Committee.

As you may know, in response to earlier questions raised orally by staff members of the Select Committee, copies of all documents filed in Court by both sides to this litigation -- with the exception of an in-camera submission of defendants -- were provided to the Committee. In addition, the staff members were advised, after consultation with your department, that questions regarding patterns and practices, both past and present, would be answered by the Army, but that specific names, dates, and places could not be discussed at this stage of the litigation, while we are awaiting a hearing on the defendants' renewed motion to dismiss or, in the alternative, for summary judgment. The Army, of course, desires that this motion be heard as soon as the Court's schedule permits.

Considering all of the circumstances -- including the obvious practical difficulties inherent in duplicate consideration of these matters by two forums, and protection of the rights of those defendants sued in their personal capacity -- I believe that we should await the Court's ruling on the motion before we provide the Committee with specific information regarding the specific individuals and issues involved in this litigation. Following the Court's ruling, we would then make an appropriate determination as to the Committee's request.

We would appreciate your advice concerning this matter. The Select Committee is being advised that such information will not be provided pending receipt of your views.

Sincerely yours,

Because of the sheer bulk of the information, we recommend that appropriate members of the Senate Select Committee staff meet with representatives from our Office of Logistics and review the listing which states the value of the contract, starting and stopping dates, and a brief description of the scope of the work. Dear Mr. Schwarz:

Your request for information about the gathering of intelligence at a local level, including the names of individuals who engage in gathering of intelligence, is incredible! I think that the elected politicians in Washington who are supposed to represent their states are doing a pretty good job of raping the FBI, the CIA, and the DEA. This, however, involves incest because they are federal agencies. I suppose if members of Congress decide to destroy the effectiveness of the FBI, the CIA, the DEA, and the military that this is their prerogative as long as their constituents hold still.

The attempt to penetrate the appropriate criminal intelligence mechanisms of local government by federal lawmakers is an absolute violation of the Tenth Amendment of the Constitution. It will be a cold day in hell when I provide you with the information you have requested.

If I didn't gather necessary intelligence information on criminal activity in my city to assist me in applying my resources at the right place at the right time, this city would be in the same shape as many others. We are proud of the fact that when crime went up nationally 26 percent between 1970 and 1974, crime went down in this city almost five percent. One of the prime reasons is appropriate intelligence operations.

We are proud of the fact that this is the only major city in the country relatively free of any organized crime influence--that is because of appropriate intelligence gathering functions. We are proud of the fact that terrorists don't intimidate the citizens of our city--that is largely due to appropriate intelligence gathering processes.

Our intelligence gathering is in absolute conformance with California law and is done under guidelines set forth by our civilian Board of Police Commissioners. I would suggest that you stick your nose back in your own tent.

August 4, 1975

Frederick A. O. Schwarz, Jr., Esquire
Chief Counsel, Select Committee to Study Governmental Operations with

United States Senate
Washington, D. C. 20510

Dear Mr. Schwarz:

This is to acknowledge receipt of your letter addressed to Commissioner Pomerleau, Police Commissioner of Baltimore City, dated July 30, 1975, requesting information regarding intelligence activities of the Baltimore City Police Department between federal agencies and other information related thereto. I am, by special designation, specially appointed counsel to the Police Department of Baltimore City as a result of a declared conflict of interest of the Attorney General of Maryland. The Baltimore City Police Department, while funded by the City of Baltimore, is a State agency. This is one of many unique features of this agency.

Your Committee should be informed that federal monies have not been used by the Baltimore City Police Department in any way to support intelligence gathering activities. This means that no federal money has been used for the payment of personnel involved in the gathering of intelligence information, for the purchase of equipment related to intelligence gathering, or payment to sources for information related to intelligence matters.

The Baltimore City Police Department has been investigated by almost every agency in government, except your Committee. By way of illustration, it was the subject matter of an extensive and all inclusive investigation by two Baltimore City Grand Juries in which the Department fully cooperated without the requirement of subpoena, and after this investigation which, in my judgment, was conducted in part by individuals who were something less than neutral in their bias against the Police Department. These Grand Juries concluded their investigation with the following finding:

"...that the ISD investigation, which began under previous grand jury and has continued

Page two.
August 4, 1975

this term, be terminated. There has been no testimony which supports allegations of criminal activity in the procedures of the Inspectional Services Division of the Baltimore City Police Department."

We have been investigated by the Justice Department through its agency, the Federal Bureau of Investigation. We have been investigated by the State Senate of Maryland and have suffered irreparable injury by irresponsible statements emanating from secret hearings illegally held by that State Senate, said statements having been reported in the June 23, 1975, edition of the U. S. NEWS & WORLD REPORT. The United States District Court for the District of Maryland entertained and assumed jurisdiction in a civil action filed by the Police Department against the State Senate Investigating Committee, and on July 3, 1975, crystalizing the issues as being:

- a. Does the State Senate Committee have authority to be other than a legislative body? i.e., Does it have inquisitorial or accusatorial powers?
- b. Is the Committee conducting its investigation in a manner required by the enabling legislation Article 40 Section 72 et. seq. of the Annotated Code of Maryland that there should be a fair and impartial hearing consistent with the constitutional rights with those who are involved and consistent with the public interest?

The Federal Court denied the Committee's Motion to Dismiss.

The sudden onset of your letter requires that I bring to light several problems, some of which are personal.

- a. I am an elected Delegate from Maryland to the American Bar Association which will meet in Montreal, Canada, August 9th through August 15th.
- b. I am scheduled to argue a case in Ashville, North Carolina, before the Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals on August 19, 1975.
- c. Does your Committee have outside authority

GEORGE L. RUSSELL, JR.

Page three
August 4, 1975

to inquire in the intelligence gathering activities of a police department when no Federal funds have been used directly or indirectly in these intelligence gathering procedures?

- d. The investigation of the Police Department by the State Senate Committee and others acting in concert with that Committee, including certain newspaper reporters, is the subject matter of an inquiry presently being conducted by the United States Attorney for the District of Maryland.

As stated earlier, the aforementioned are but illustrations of the problems that exist in Baltimore; and I believe that it would be useful for the two of us to confer prior to your proceeding to conduct another investigation, otherwise it may well be that unwittingly a bad situation may be exacerbated to the detriment of the people who have a right to expect and rely upon the protection afforded by our Police Department. All of the investigations up to this point have not produced one iota of any evidence of any illegal activity, but to the contrary, the activities of our Department and their lawful pursuit of the prevention and detection of criminal activity has been reaffirmed.

I would appreciate, if it is convenient, a copy of the Senate Resolution which gives rise to the Committee's authority as well as the opportunity to telephonically converse with you to coordinate any future activities.

Frederick A. O. Schwarz, Jr., Esquire
Chief Counsel, Select Committee to

Respect to Intelligence Activities
United States Senate
Washington, D. C. 20510

Dear Mr. Schwarz:

This is to acknowledge receipt of your letter addressed to Commissioner Pomerleau, Police Commissioner of Baltimore City, dated July 30, 1975, requesting information regarding intelligence activities of the Baltimore City Police Department between federal agencies and other information related thereto. I am, by special designation, specially appointed counsel to the Police Department of Baltimore City as a result of a declared conflict of interest of the Attorney General of Maryland. The Baltimore City Police Department, while funded by the City of Baltimore, is a State agency. This is one of many unique features of this agency.

Your Committee should be informed that federal monies have not been used by the Baltimore City Police Department in any way to support intelligence gathering activities. This means that no federal money has been used for the payment of personnel involved in the gathering of intelligence information, for the purchase of equipment related to intelligence gathering, or payment to sources for information related to intelligence matters.

The Baltimore City Police Department has been investigated by almost every agency in government, except your Committee. By way of illustration, it was the subject matter of an extensive and all inclusive investigation by two Baltimore City Grand Juries in which the Department fully cooperated without the requirement of subpoena, and after this investigation which, in my judgment, was conducted in part by individuals who were something less than neutral in their bias against the Police Department. These Grand Juries concluded their investigation with the following finding:

"...that the ISD investigation, which began under previous grand jury and has continued

this term, be terminated. There has been no testimony which supports allegations of criminal activity in the procedures of the Inspectional Services Division of the Baltimore City Police Department."

We have been investigated by the Justice Department through its agency, the Federal Bureau of Investigation. We have been investigated by the State Senate of Maryland and have suffered irreparable injury by irresponsible statements emanating from secret hearings illegally held by that State Senate, said statements having been reported in the June 23, 1975, edition of the U. S. NEWS & WORLD REPORT. The United States District Court for the District of Maryland entertained and assumed jurisdiction in a civil action filed by the Police Department against the State Senate Investigating Committee, and on July 3, 1975, crystalizing the issues as being:

- a. Does the State Senate Committee have authority to be other than a legislative body? i.e., Does it have inquisitorial or accusatorial powers?
- b. Is the Committee conducting its investigation in a manner required by the enabling legislation Article 40 Section 72 et. seq. of the Annotated Code of Maryland that there should be a fair and impartial hearing consistent with the constitutional rights with those who are involved and consistent with the public interest?

The Federal Court denied the Committee's Motion to Dismiss.

The sudden onset of your letter requires that I bring to light several problems, some of which are personal.

- a. I am an elected Delegate from Maryland to the American Bar Association which will meet in Montreal, Canada, August 9th through August 15th.
- b. I am scheduled to argue a case in Ashville, North Carolina, before the Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals on August 19, 1975.
- c. Does your Committee have outside authority

GEORGE L. RUSSELL, JR.

Frederick A. O. Schwarz, Jr., Esquire

to inquire in the intelligence gathering activities of a police department when no Federal funds have been used directly or indirectly in these intelligence gathering procedures?

- d. The investigation of the Police Department by the State Senate Committee and others acting in concert with that Committee, including certain newspaper reporters, is the subject matter of an inquiry presently being conducted by the United States Attorney for the District of Maryland.

As stated earlier, the aforementioned are but illustrations of the problems that exist in Baltimore; and I believe that it would be useful for the two of us to confer prior to your proceeding to conduct another investigation, otherwise it may well be that unwittingly a bad situation may be exacerbated to the detriment of the people who have a right to expect and rely upon the protection afforded by our Police Department. Dear Mr. Miller:

I was delighted to learn that you will be able to speak at The National War College on Thursday, 18 September, at 1:30 p.m., to those of our students taking the elective course "Intelligence and National Security," addressing the topic "Intelligence Constraints in a Democratic Society: The Congressional Perspective."

This seminar, the opening session for the second bloc of the course, will be the students' principal exposure to the ethical and legal limits for intelligence activities of our democracy. As background, the students will have read the summary of the Rockefeller Commission Report and will have been encouraged to keep abreast of developments in the press. Beyond this, we would benefit in particular from your insights on impending or likely legislation, the key themes of the ongoing hearings, and the quality of the public debate. The session following yours will provide an opportunity for intelligence collectors to discuss many of the same basic issues from their perspective.

Perhaps you would lead off with 40-50 minutes of initial remarks. Following a short break, the group will reconvene for questions and answers for the balance of the two hours.

The National War College has a well-established policy of holding all remarks in presentations such as yours in strictest confidence. This, we believe, permits the speaker to discuss his subject freely and with complete candor.

We look forward to welcoming you to The National War College on 18 September.

SSC-CIA PROCEDURES

Procedures for the continuing investigation of the Agency by the Senate Select Committee are agreed along the following lines:

1. The Director reaffirms his responsibility to protect sensitive sources and methods. As a general practice, Agency files will be screened before the SSC is granted access. The primary purpose is to protect sensitive names and methods.
2. The SSC reaffirms its need to have access to complete unscreened files. In practice, the SSC staff has the right to protest our removal of information. CIA must be precise when material is removed and explain why. The SSC staff in appealing, must state precisely why they think they must have the sensitive detail.

Once the SSC appeals, negotiations would begin at once aimed at reaching agreement along the following lines:

(When it is agreed that the SSC will have access to sensitive detail.)

1. A designated SSC staff member will read certain unscreened files. His notes would be subject to Agency sanitization.
2. In more sensitive situations, senior SSC staff members will read certain unscreened files. Their notes would be subject to Agency sanitization.

(When it is not agreed that the SSC staff will have access to sensitive detail, the following will occur:

1. The Director will take the sensitive detail to higher authority in the NSC for decision and if the decision is not to make the material available to the staff the sensitive detail will be taken directly to the Chairman and Vice Chairman of the SSC for final resolution.

The Agency will respond to SSC requests within 24 hours, with an answer, a partial response, or at least an acknowledgment and a statement as to whether or not the response can be made within 96 hours (four working days). The parties will negotiate possible misunderstandings immediately to ensure that requests are understood. Where appropriate the Agency may present contextual statements to the Committee or to the staff, orally or in writing. The Agency will to the maximum extent possible provide responsive data as soon as it is available and will not hold up a response until all materials requested have been compiled. Where documents are withheld because clearance is being sought from another agency or because it may be deemed subject to Executive Privilege, the SSC will be so advised and a brief description of the document will be given.

The SSC will summarize and assign priorities in a new request which will supersede all previous requests.

SELECT COMMITTEE ON INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES

August 1, 1975

Dear Mr. Chairman
and Mr. Vice Chairman:

This is in response to your letter of this date concerning the request of the Select Committee for certain materials contained among the "Presidential materials of the Nixon Administration."

I appreciate your views on the interpretation to be given to the Order of the United States District Court for the District of Columbia in Nixon v. Sampson, et al. However, I have been advised by the Department of Justice, which represents me as a named defendant in this litigation, that the Order, as it currently stands, prohibits compliance with this request until counsel for Mr. Nixon consents to our undertaking the necessary search and review of Nixon Presidential materials. Otherwise, I would be construing the Order differently from the way Mr. Nixon does and would be doing so at my peril. For this reason, we are unable to comply with your request at this time. In fact, I thought Mr. Schwarz agreed with me that only a further clarifying order by the Court would enable me to conduct a unilateral search.

As you are aware, it is the policy of this Administration to cooperate fully with the investigations of the Select Committee. However, under the Order of the District Court, we lack the unqualified authority to review unilaterally the documents on the basis of your request. Until these materials have been reviewed, we cannot address the question of the handling of any of these materials by this

I trust that you understand our position in this matter.

Honorable Frank Church
Chairman, Select Committee to Study
Governmental Operations with Respect to Intelligence Activities
United States Senate

Dear Senator:

As you know, the Department of Justice has undertaken an investigation into various intelligence operations of the Central Intelligence Agency to ascertain whether such activities might constitute prosecutable violations of Federal criminal law. It is noted that, in furtherance of its responsibilities in the area of intelligence activities, your Committee has also instituted its own inquiries into CIA intelligence operations.

It is requested that this Department be afforded access to any information maintained by your Committee, supplemental to that contained in the Rockefeller Commission files, including any transcripts of testimony which may have been taken in either open or executive sessions, that may have a bearing on the investigation currently being conducted by this Department.
