DRAFT

- (1) The attempt of the United States government to assassinate Cuban premier Fidel Castro as well as other foreign leaders during the turbulent decade of the 1960s shocked and disgusted the American people citizen. When sourcess disclosed that the Central Intelligence Agency (pereinafter CIA') intentionally solicited and received the assistance of various members of organized crime (Ia Cosa Nostral in the furtherance of such plots, more outrage prevailed. Civilized society simply did not and does not condone such acts as a legit mate instrument of foreign policy. There is no excuse; no rationalization.
- The effect and influence of these actions did not stop, however, with invoking the disdain of the American public indiworld. These assassination attempts gave birth to the haunting theory that fidel Castro orchest ated the assassination of but President John P. Ke med in defensive retaliation for the plots on his life.

- (3) In its Final Report published in April,

 1976, the Senate Select Committee to Study Governmental

 Operations with Respect to Intelligence Activities

 Commission Les

 (hereinafter MSSCW) responded to this theory.
- (4) In this Report, the SSC focused on two operations which of the CIA which may have provoked Castro into retaliation. First, the SSC documented the joint effort of the CIA and Organized Crime to eliminate Castro. Second, the SSC examined the nature and extent of the CIA AMLASH operation. The SSC concluded its analysis with the statement that "/t/he Committee believes the investigation should continue in certain areas, and for that reason does not reach any final conclusions."1
- (5) This analysis is an attempt to make such inouticulities. It is not the purpose of the remainder of this material to make review the detail of will be review the detail of the CIA-Mafia plots or of the AMLASH operation, to the CIA-Mafia plots or of the AMLASH operation, to the conflicting viewpoints of the SSC and the CIA in regard to the importance of the various operations or to subject anyone to moral tongue-lashing. In stead, this material first seeks capant will operation AMLASH and of the involvement or potential involvement of organ zed crime in the CIA operations against Castro during 1960-1963. From this review, it will internate the possible to conclude certain internate and conclusions are then drawn concerning the nature, scope, and ramifications of these operations.

II. BACKGROUND MATERIAL - RELEVANT SUMMARY

A. CIA-Mafia Plots

(b) The genesis o the utilization of the United of Orahizo Orahid States criminal synd cate by the CIA to attempt to assassinate Castro is placed by the 1967 Report of the (hereinital SC).

Inspector General as occurring during a conversation between the Deputy D rector of Plans, Richard Bissell, and the Director of ecurity, Colonel Sheffield Edwards.

These plots extended from 1960 until early 1963 and can be divided into wo stages. The first stage occurred from August 1960 until April, 1961, and can best be termed as Phase I or the pre-Bay of Pigs April, 1962
period. From April 1961 until the 1961, and CIA seconds indicate that the operation was 6

(7) In late 1961, he CIA decided to renew the CIA-Mafia plots, then creating Phase II, and kept them active unt 1 late 1962 or early 1963.

During the in tial stages of Phase I, Edwards assigned the specific task of locating the proper persons to assassinate Castro to describe the proper persons the proper person p whom the CIA had previously used in several covert operations, to recru t the necessary personnel.

During this phase, the CIA decided against using Giancana or Trafficante; instead, a person referred to as "MACEO" entered the plot as the person who would help provide Castro contacts. In September of 1962 Roselli reported to Harvey in Miami that the "medicine" was reported in place, that the three-man team was safe, and that the cuban ends was prepared to dispatch another three-man team 29 to infiltrate Castro s bodyguard. In December, 1962, Roselli and Ha vey agreed that not much seemed to be occurring and by lebruary, 1963, Harvey terminated 30 the plots.

B. The Las Vegas Wi etap Incident

Occurred during Phase I of the CIA-Mafia plots which resulted in the first dissemination of the details of the plot to persons other than the ones involved in the operation. On October 31, 1960, Las Vegas police arrested Arthur J. Balletti, an employee of a Florida investigator named Edward DuBois, for placing an electronic bug in a hotel room in Las Vegas.

Subsequent investiga ion determined that Robert 1.

Maheumauthorized the surveillance and possibly the wiretap of the subject involved and that Maheu probably 32 acted on behalf of G ancana and the CIA.

the case under federal jurisdiction and the FBI soon began an investigation. In the course of this investigation, Maheu informed the FBI that he instituted the surve llance on behalf of CIA efforts to obtain Cuban intelligence through the hoodlum as element, including G ancana. In its efforts to prevent the prosecut on of Balletti, Maheu, and an who had allowed a associal balletti in the whole poundentified individual known as J. W. Harrison A the CIA eventually told the Justice Department the details of Phase I of the CIA-Mafia plots to kill Castro. This most accuraction can be set to related through the following memorandum from J. Elgar Hoover to Attorney

General Ramsey Clark (quoted in part):

Blank letterhead nemorandum

3-6-67

TO: Attorney General FROM: Director, FB

/Attorney General Robert Kennedy/ indicated that a few days prior to /5-9-62/ he had been advised by the CIA that Robert A. Maheu had been hired by the CIA to approach Sam Giancana with a proposition of paying $150,000 to hire gunmen to go into Coba and kill Castro. He further stated CIA idmitted having assisted Maheu in making the "bugging" installation in Las Vegas which uncovered this clandestine operation and for this reason CIA could not afford to have any action taken against Giancoma or Maheu. Mr. Kennedy stated that upon learning CIA had not cleared its action in hiring Maheu and Giancana with the Department of Justice, he issued orders that the CIA should never again take such steps without first checking with the Department of Justice.

Mr. Kennedy further advised that because of this matter it would be very difficult to initiate any prosecution against Giancana, as Giancana could immediately bring out the fact the United States Government had approached him to arrange for the assassination of Castro. He stated the same was true concerning any action we might take against Maheu for any violation in which he might become involved.

(19) In summary, the Las Vegas wiretap incident is that it forced the CIA to acknowledge the existence of the CIA-Mafia plots to non-CIA government officials and provided the first occasion for participants to manipulate the operation to prevent prosecution.

C. Robert Maheu and the Long Committee

(20) The next majo: event related to the CIA-Mafia plots occurred in 1966 when Maheu used his involvement with the CIA to avoid testifying before Senator Edward Long's Committee, which was investigating invasions of privacy. The attorney for Mahue, Edward Pierpont Morgan, informed the House Select Committee on Assassi lations (hereinafter the "Committee") that Maheu contacted him during the fall of 1966 and said he was going to be called before the Long Committee in conjunction with the Morganthau investiga-Maheu then informed Morgan of the plots and suggested that any testimony might necessarily reveal his previous covert activities with the CIA. then contacted Senator Long and Lawrence Houston, the General Counsel to the CIA, to reiterate Maheu's concerns in an apparently successful effort to block any testimony.

Topselli,

D. Roselli Efforts o Avoid Prosecution

- threatened to deport Roselli for living in the United States under in assumed name unless he cooperated in an invistigation of the Mafia."

 The SSC then states hat Roselli contacted Edwards who subsequently spoie to the FBI in regard to 38.40 Roselli.
- The SSC reports that Roselli again contacted CIA sources in an effort to thwart prosecution when Roselli was arrested for fraudulent gambling activities at the Friars Club in Beverly Hills in 1967. Roselli contacted Harvey, who was no longer a CIA employee, to represent him. Harvey subsequently attempted for influence the CIA into preventing the prosecution.

 The Justice Department, however, subsequently convicted Roselli for a violation of the interstate gambling laws.

E. Debut of the Retaliation Theory

(23) The genesis of this theory can be attributed to an interview that Premier Castro held on September 7, 1963, with Associated Press reporter Daniel Harker. In that interview, Castro warned against the United States "aiding terrorist plans to eliminate Cuban leaders. " He stated, according to Harker, that United States leaders would be in danger if they promoted any attempt to eliminate the leaders early January, Edward Morgan approached columnist Drew Pearson, related the background of the plots, posed the possibility that the plots could have provoked a Castro retaliation and asked Pearson to inform 44 (no No. 43) Chief Justice Earl Warren of the operation. Warren subsequently informed Secret Service Director James J. Rawley who in turn notified the FBI. informed the Committee that Roselli initially approached him complaining of excessive FBI surveillance ever since he had been involved in this patriotic venture. Roselli also informed Morgan that Castro had retaliated for these plots by assassinating President Kennedy.

Rowley

(25) After receiving this information the FBI decided not to further investigate the allegation. Following the publication of the Jack Anderson and Drew Pearson art cles of March 3 and 7, 1967, however, where the theory of retaliation first gained public notoriety, President Johnson ordered the FBI to investiga e the matter. consequently interviewed Edward Morgan on March 20, Morgan info med the FBI that he represented 1967. clients that were resonable individuals who entered into a project that :hey understood to have high الميال governmental backing and which involved the assassination of Fidel Castro Morgan then stated that his clients had reason to suspect that Castro learned of these plots and k lled President Kennedy in retaliation.

(26) The FBI investigation resulted in President

Johnson acquiring a personal interest in the retaliation theory, which prompted CIA Director Richard

On March 23, 1967, Director Helms ordered the CIA Inspector General to prepare a report on the CIA assassination plots. the accounts of various CIA operations against including an analysi; of the CIA-Organized Crime plots and the AMLASH operation. The IGR also examined the 1960 Las Vegas wiretap incident. () In reference to the AMLASH operation, the IGR related AMLASH's activities in Madrid, Spain in late 1964 and early 1965, where AMLASH was meeting with Manuel Artime. The IGR further noted that Rafael Garcia-Bongo, a former lawyer for Santo Trafficante, was in Madrid, Spain in March, 1965. Bongo claimed to be in contact with dissident Cuban military leaders, including AMLASH information promoting the retaliation theory in two articles dated January 18 and 19. These articles exhibited more detail, relating that several assassins made it to a rooftop within shooting distance of Castro before being apprehended, that this event occurred in late Feb wary or early March, 1963, that Robert Kennedy at least condoned the CIA Mafia plots, and that Roselli delivered poison pills to be used in filling Castro to a contact at 6/

the Miami Beach Foun ainbleu Hotel on March 13, 1961.

H. Roselli deportat on

(30) In 1971, the same year that Anderson released additional information on the plots, the CIA contacted the Immigration and Maturalization Service, Department of Justice, in an at empt to prevent information on CIA operations from being disclosed in the event INS 5762 brought deportation proceedings against Roselli.

The EIA's concern was the protection of intelligence Sources and methods.

The SSC stated in it. Interim Report, released in November, 1975, that the deportation order was still in the process of be ng litigated. In August, 1976, authorities di covered Roselli's butchered body stuffed in an old rum and floating in Miami's Biscayne Bay. His colleague in the plots to kill Castro, Sam Giancana had been shot to death in his home in June, 1975.

- I. The Senate Selec : Committee To Study Governmental Ope ations with Respect to Intelligence Act vities
- In connection with its mandate to investigate the full range of governmental intelligence activities, the SSC "examined the performance of the intelligence agencies in conducting their investigation of the assassination and their relationship to the Warren Commission." In April, 1976, the SSC published its Final Report (Book V), which, in essence, faulted the CIA for its errors of omission in not informing the Warren Commission of the CIA's on-going plots against the market and the same of the sam its attention the life of the premier, Fidel Castro. (\mathfrak{Z}^{λ}) After reviewing the details of the CIA-Mafia plots, the SSC stated that "Castro probably would. not have been certain that the CIA was behind the underworld attempts" and that it would have been unlikely that Castro would have distinguished the the CIA plots with the underworld from any plots

The SSC ident fied the AMLASH operation, however, as being "c early different" from the under-The SC stated that AMLASH was in world plots. progress at the time of the assassination, that it could clearly be traced to the CIA, and that AMLASH's proposal for a coup had been endorsed by the CIA, the initial step being the assassination of Castro. The SSC cautioned, however, that it saw "no evidence that Fidel Castro or others in the Cuban government plotted President Kennedy's assassination in retaliation for U. S. operations against Cuba. (36) The serious dentifies a principal theme of Book V as the possibility that Castro retaliated against the United States for attempts on his life and that the CIA operations may have specifically caused such actions by Castro. In responding to this theory the CIA decided to perform the following:

- to conduc: a full review of information and operations as the Cuban target to identify my activity that might relate to the assassination of President Kennedy, and
- 2) to review the possibility that CIA activitie; against Cuba did, by their nature, cluse Castro to order the assassination of President Kennedy. 72 7/
- (37) The details of the last are thoroughly related in this material because no source has previously publicly released them.
 - 1. Syndicate Operations
- Before analyzing the AMLASH operations, the CIA first related nev considerations pertaining to the TFR syndicate operations. The Man refers to a series of articles written by Paul Meskill and appearing in the New York Daily News in April, 1975.
- (39) In these articles Meskill described how also Frank Fiorini, many known as Sturgis, allegedly recruited Marie Lore 12, to spy on Castro and how Sturgis knew Juan Orta and planned to use him in a bombing assassination of Castro. Meskill asserted that Sturgis claimed he had been a hired operative examples for the CIN for at least a decade and that Sturgis was in touch with all the casino operators in Havana during the period of the Castro takeover.

In another article on June 13, 1976, Meskill related the claim of Marie Lorenz that in the fall of 1960 Frank Sturgis, acting for the CIA, gave her two capsules of poison powder, which she was to sprinkle in some food or drink of Castro.

(40) The writers of the 1977 TOR were quite concerned those the name of the Cuban official involved in Phase I of with those assertion; because assertions had the plots publicly surfaced in connection with a Castro assassination plot before the SSC recordation of October 10 organized crime plots and thus the assignment to poison Castro gave to the official case to castro who may have received kickbacks from the gambling this Cubin official interests. The possibility that was involved in assassination plots other than the CIA operation also attracted the attention of the CIA.

had been a hired operative for the CIA for a decade the 1997 for asserted that "he was in contact with some of the CIA Cubar employees in the Miami area, the some of the CIA Cubar employees in the Miami area, the some of the CIA Cubar employees in the Miami area, the some of the CIA Cubar employees in the Miami area, the some of the CIA Cubar employees in the Miami area, the some of the CIA Cubar employees in the Miami area, the some of the CIA Cubar employees in the Miami area, the some of the CIA Cubar employees in the Miami area, the some of the CIA Cubar employees in the Miami area, the some of the CIA Cubar employees in the Miami area, the some of the CIA Cubar employees in the Miami area, the Miami area, the Miami area, the some of the CIA Cubar employees in the Miami area, the some of the CIA Cubar employees in the Miami area, the some of the CIA Cubar employees in the Miami area, the some of the CIA Cubar employees in the Miami area, the some of the CIA Cubar employees in the Miami area, the some of the CIA Cubar employees in the Miami area, the some of the CIA Cubar employees in the Miami area, the some of the CIA Cubar employees in the Miami area, the some of the CIA Cubar employees in the Miami area, the some of the CIA Cubar employees in the Miami area, the some of the CIA Cubar employees in the Miami area, the some of the CIA Cubar employees in the CIA Cubar employees in the Miami area, the some of the CIA Cubar employees in the Miami area, the cubar employees in the CIA Cubar employees in the C

In reference to the Lorenz-Sturgis poison pill plot, the 1977 Report to the details in the 18 October 1960 FBI remote the CIA concluded that this October date is too early for the CIA syndicate operations and that therefore the syndicate may have been acting independently.

(43) The CIA also concluded that Automobile the Cuban exile leader active in the CIA syndicate operations may have already been active in plots with the Mafia when the CIA approached him.

(44) The CIA cited two FB memorandum as support.

First, a 21 December 1960 memorandum pertaining to underworld support for some Cubans, and second, a 18 January 1961 memo: andum relating an unconfirmed the Cuban en clouder report that where we so one of the Cubans receiving support.

the operation with the Mafia was suspended after the Bay of Pigs, it appeared to still be in progress when re-activated in April, 1962.

(46) The The summarized its position concerning non-CIA sponsored syndicate operations in the following passage:

It is possible that CIA simply found itself involved in providing additional resources for independent operations that the syndicate already had underway... I/n a sense CIA may have been piggy-backing on the syndicate and in addition to its material contribution was also supplying an aura of official sanction.

2. AMLASH
TFR
The TAR state: the SSC suggests that AMLASH

was possibly a Castro agent assigned a provacation mission which would then justify retaliation, or, in the alternative, that AMLASH was a security risk through which details of the plotting may have surfaced to Castro tous providing the impetus for Additionally, the Text cites the provocation. SSC as holding that n either case, AMLASH should have been reported to the Warren Commission. (40) The EEL contends neither theory is correct. stating that the relationship between the CIA and AMLASH before the death of President Kennedy was so "unsubstantial and inconclusive that it provided no basis for AMLASH/1 to feel that he had any tangible CIA support for plotting against Castro. In support the Town proceeds to narrate the Agency's understanding of the operation. On August 17 1962, the case officer for AMLASH reported that he "/has/ no intention /of giving AMLASH/17 physical elimination mission as requirement but recognize this /as/ something he could or might try to carry Headquarters replied out on his own initiation the next day, "Strongly concur that no physical office elimination mission be given AMLASH/1." From August 29, 1962 until September, 1963 the CIA states it did not have any contact with AMLASH.

(50) On September ', 1963 the CIA received the following cable:

AMLASH still eels there only two ways accomplish change either inside job or invasion he realistic enough to realize latter out of question. According AMWHIP, AMLASH still awaiting for U. S. reveal plan of action.

The FFR notes that the SSC interpreted "inside job" as referring to an operation against Castro; the CIA, however, says it refers to a general commitment concerning to an operation of the concerning to a general commitment con

(5/) The TER next comments on an interview of Castro by AP reporte: Daniel Harker in which Castro said that anti-Castro terrorists had the support of

U. S. leaders. The TGR states that the Book V implies that AMLASH/I may have reported to Castro 97 what the SSC characterized as assassination plots. The CIA response is that "Castro's remarks at that time could not have stemmed from anything said to AMLASH/I by CIA officers as they proposed nothing and undertook nothing."

(33 On November 20, the case officer informed AMLASH that (24 165 he would be received the meeting he requested.

This meeting occurred on November 22. (54) The ESR summa ized the significance of these contacts with AMLASH as related to the contentions in Book V in the following passage:

Whatever the elationship with AMLASH/l following the death of President Kennedy, there is ever, indication that during President Kennedy's life AMLASH/l had no basis for believing that he had CIA support for much of anything. Were he a provocateur reporting to lastro, or if he was merely careless and leaked what he knew, he had no factual basis for leaking or reporting any actual CIA plot directed against Castro.

(55) Finally, in riply to the SSC allegation that the CIA inadequately responded to the Warren Commission's request for all possible relevant information, the TFR.

re in force

While one can understand today why the Warren Commission limited its inquiry to normal avenues of investigation, it would have se ved to remark the credibility of its effort had it taken a broader view of the matter CIA, too, could have considered in specific terms what most saw in general terms - the possibility of Soviet or Cuban involvement in the assassination (JFK) because /07 of tensions o the time...The Agency should have taken broader initiatives, then, as well."

Recent Anderson Articles

JACK (56) In September 976 and October, 1978, Anderson again published articles which propounded the retaliation theory $\frac{100}{100}$ In addit on, for the first time Anderson [publicly revealed that John Roselli served as his source for the retaliation heory in all of the articles published through the years.

The September 7, 1976, article appearing in the Washington Post contains all components of the This states: retaliation theory.

> Mafia mobster John Roselli may have taken the secret of the John F. "Kennedy assassination with him to his death. He was brutally murdered a few weeks ago, his hacked up body stuffed into an oil drum and dumped into Miami's Biscayne Bay.

Before he died, Roselli hinted to associates that he knew who had arranged President Kernedy's murder. It was the same conspirators he suggested, whom he had recruited earlier to kill Cuban Premier Fidel Castro.

By Roselli's cryptic account, Castro learned the identity of the underworld contacts in H wana who had been trying to knock him off. He believed, not altogether wi hout basis, that President Kennedy was behind the plot.

The Cuban leader, as the supreme irony, decide I to turn the tables and use the same rowd to arrange Kennedy's assassination according to Roselli's scenario. To save their skins, the plotters line I up Lee Harvey Oswald to pull the trigger.

Roselli could never be pinned down on names or details. It was also difficult to assess whether he knew what he was talking about or whether he merely described what he thought might have happened. Certainly there is no real evidence to support Roselli's story. But there are enough curious circumstances to justify telling it. Here are the facinating highlights.

The ruggedly handsome Roselli, a flamboyant mobster with inderworld contacts in Havana, was recruited by the Central Intelligence Agency in 1960 to as assinate Castro. He had no authority, hovever, over the underworld elements in Havana.

They were inder the loose control of Florida's Mafia chieftal, Santos Trafficante. His gambling enterprises in Havana had been closed down by Castro after the 1959 revolution. In fact, Trafficante had been lodged for a period in a Cuban jail, an indignity that didn't endear Castro to him.

After Trafficante made it back to his Florida haunts, he left part of his organization behind in Havana. Some of his henchmen even managed to develop contacts in Castro's inner circle. These were the people Roselli wanted to use to knock off Castro.

But Roselli d dn't have the stature inside the Mafia to make the necessary arrangements wit: Trafficante. So Roselli called i: his patron, the Chicago godfather Same (10mo) Giancana, to deal with Trafficante

As Roselli's issociates tell it, he persuaded Gianca a that it would be to their advantage o win the good will of the CIA. Convin ed, Giancana flew down to Florida to make the preliminary arrangements.

Once Giancana and Trafficante set it up, Roselli used the Havana underworld to plot Castro's demise. At first, they tried to plant poison pills, su plied by the CIA, in Castro's food. The pills would have made it appear that he died of natural causes. When this failed, snipers were dispatched to a Havana rooftop. They were caught

The word reached Roselli that some of the plotters had been torture! and that Castro had learned about the whole operat on.

The CIA called off the Roselli operation in March, 1963, but recruited a Castro associate, Rolando Cubela, so murder Castro.

In an impromp:u, three-hour interview with Associated Press reporter Daniel Harker, Castro indicated that h: knew about the attempts on his life and warned that U.S. leaders also might not be saie. That was Sept. 7, 1963.

According to Roselli, Castro enlisted the same underworld elements whom he had caught plotting against him. They supposedly were Cubans from the old Trafficante organization. Working with Cuban intelligence, they allegedly lined up an ex-Marine sharpshooter, Lee Harvey Oswa d, who had been active in the pro-Castro movement.

According to Roselli's version, Oswald may have shot K medy or may have acted as a decoy while others ambushed him from closer range. When Osyald was picked up, Roselli suggested, the inderworld conspirators feared he would crack and disclose information that might lead to them. This almost certainly would have brought a massive U. S. crackdown on the Mafia.

So Jack Ruby was ordered to eliminate Oswald, making it appea as an act of reprisal against the President's killer. At least this is how Roselli explain d the tragedy in Dallas.

Several key C A officials believed that Castro was behind the lennedy assassination.

It has also been established that Jack Ruby, indeed, had been in Cuba and had connections in the Havana underworld. One CIA cable, dated Nov. 28, 963, reported that "an American gangster type numed Ruby" had visited Trafficante in his Cuban pr.son.

In the majority of instances, review of any material at tiese sources and any statements from individuals were not pertinent to any assassination plots against Castro, particularly the CIA-Organized Crime of the AMLASH operations. Further, Amost Www elevant information acquired was already known through the SSC investigation IGR and TF.R. and the CIA Faspects For this reason the following analysis represents conclusions principally derived from information substantively the same as that which the SSC and CIA previously considered. Consequently, the Hotel investigation resulted in additional Acorroboration of this information from a diversity of sources. 109 What remained, be drawn are the conclusions.

B. Issues Pertaining to the AMLASH Operation

1. Obligation of the AMLASH operation

(64) Joseph Langos:h, the Chief of Counterintelligence for the CIA's Specia Affairs Staff in 1963, the component responsibl: for CIA operations directed against the Government of Cuba and the Cuban Intelligence Services, offered a contrasting view to the testimony of Mr. Helms and the assertions of the 1977 IGR.

Desmond Fitzgerald headed the Special Affairs Staff 113 that which was responsible for the AMLASH operation.

In an affidavit to the Committee, Longosch recalled:

W 47055 DocId: 32273547 Page 44

/T/he AMLASH operation prior to the assassination of President Kennedy was characterized by the Special Affairs staff, Desmon! Fitzgerald (sic) and other senior CIA of licers as an assassination operation iniliated and sponsored by the CIA-1082

Langosch further recollected, that as of 1962 it was highly possible that the Cuban Intelligence Services were aware of AMLASH and his association with the CIA and that the information upon which he based his conclusion that the AMLASH operation was insecure was available to senior level CIA officials, including 100 //6

Desmond FitzGerald.

(b) In response to Langosch's sworn statements, this Committee received the affidavit of Kent (CIA & framer CIA employee.

pseudonym) L. Polloco frame Fine CIA. Pollock "served as Executive Officer for Desmond FitzGerald during the entire period in which he was Chief of the Special Affairs Staff... and discussed with him the AMLASH operation as it progressed." Pollock specifically contested the assertions of Langosch stating:

To the best of my knowledge, Mr. FitzGerald considered the AMLASH operation to be a political action

misq vote

activity with the objection of organizing a group under Casta Amlast / to overthrow lastro and the Castro regime by means of a coup d' etat. I heard Mr. FitzGerald discuss the AMLASH operation frequently, and never heard him characterize it as an assassinat on operation. Mr. FitzGerald stated within my hearing on several occasions his awareness that coup d'etat often involves loss of life. 1985 118

(67) W He also stated:

Desmond FitzG:rald did not characterize the AMLASH operation as an 'assassination operation'; the case officer did not; I, as Executive)fficer did not, never discussed any aspect of the AMLASH operation with Joseph H. Longosch; the Deputy Chief, the other branch chiefs and the special assistants could not have so characterized it since they did not know about the pen (the pen was specially filled with a hypodermic syringe in response to urgings by AMLASH for a means to start the coup by killing Castro.) The case officer offered the pen 😁 to AMLASH on the day of President Kennedy's death. AMLASI rejected the pen with disdain. 1987 numerous files is an effort to determine the true character of the An inst operation. Since the Committee received equally persuasive evidence, however, it cannot determine whether the AMINSH operation can be described as an assassisation plot prior to the death of President Kennedy. Further, in the course of it invatigation, the Committee found no evidence that the AMIASH operation provoked Tremier Castra into operation provoked Tremier Castra into statements \(\chi \) Castro said in part:

That was insane. From the ideological point of view it was insane. And from the political point of view, it was a tremendous insanity. I am going to tell you here that nobody, nobody ever had the idea of such things. What would it do? We just tried to defend our folks here, within our territory. Anyone who subscribed to that idea would have been judged insane... absolutely sick. Never, in twenty years of revolution, I never heard anyone suggest nor even speculate about a measure of that sort, because who could think of the idea of organizing the death of the President of the United States. That would have been the most perfect pretext for the United States to invide our country which is what I have tried to prevent for all these years, in every possible sense. Since the United States is much more powerful than we are, what could we gain from a war with the United States? The United States would lose no hing. The destruction would have been her: 120

(76) Castro also added:

I want to tel you that the death of the leader does not change the system. It has never done that. 121

(71) In this inter iew Castro also commented on the speech of September 7, 1963, which has been cited throughout the years as an indication that Castro may have assassinated President Kennedy in retaliation.

Premier Castro asser ed:

So, I said so mething like those plots start to set a very bad precedent. A very serious one - that that could become a boomerang against the authors of those actions...but I did not mean to threaten by that. I d d not mean even that...not in the least...but rather, like a warning that we knew; that we had news about it; and that to set those precedents of plotting of other countries would be a very bad precedent...s mething very negative. And, if at present, the same would happen under the ASSASSIMITION of leaders

the same circ imstances, I would have no doubt in saying the same as I said (then) because I didn't mean a threat by that. I didn't say it as a threat. I did not mean by that that we were going to take measures - similar measures - like a retaliation for that. We never meant that because we know that there were plots. For three years we had known there were plots against us. So, the conversation came about very casually, you know; but I would say that all these plots or attempts were part of the everyday life. 122

Some reasonin; which committee cautions is speculative, may be of some assistance have. It does not seem likely that Castro would make a veiled reference to assassinating American leaders in retaliation for plot; on his life if he was actually planning contempliting such acts. He would want to call as little at ention as possible to himself.

Rather, it seems Castro was attempting to display his public dismay and knowledge of such attempts in an effort to prevent their continuance. The consequently, together with an absence of any evidence implicating the Scens probable. Castro in the assassination, the Committee believes that this incident, while displaying Castro's displeasure at American activities, does not implicate Castro in the assassination.

A deval that he made a threat;

(74) The Committee balieves there are additional reasons to discount any involvement of Castro in the assassination which are also compelling.

Committee combined at these reasons, while persuasive, also general is clementer.

United States Delega ion to the United Nations, was involved in diplomat c efforts to establish a framework for detente during the fall of 1963. Atwood told the SCC that Mc eorge Berndy, an advisor to President Kennedy, told him that President Kennedy was in favor of "pushing towards an opening toward Cuba" to take Castro "out of the Soviet fold and perhaps wiping out the Bay of Pigs and maybe getting back to normal."

Atwood also arranged for a French journalist, Jean Daniel to meet with kennedy prior to a scheduled trip by Daniel to see Castro. Daniel and Kennedy discussed the prosperts for reestablishing United States-Cuba relations and Kennedy asked Daniel to see him after visiting Castro. It seems I kely a haddwes that such efforts to establish a peaceful coexistence between the United States and Cuba would have hampered any desire by Castro to assassinate Kennedy. Second, the t can be argued that amongsthe leaders of the United States, President Kennedy supported a less hostile attitude and position toward Cuba. Even if Castro felt the relations between Cuba and the United States were bad under the Kennedy Presidency, there were legitimate reasons to suspect they would have been wors a under any other administration.

Z. Common Surnay

Thus, with the prospects of renewed diplomatic relations in the air and the knowledge that Kennedy possessed a more favorable attitude toward Cuba than other military or political leaders, Castro would have had every reason to lope that Kennedy maintained the Presidency. Fur her, the confidence not

Crime Plots

- 1. Scope and Nature of Plots
- a) Roselli Knowledge of CIA Sponsorship
 The Support City
 James O'C mnell informed the Committee that Maheu told Rose li he represented an international group of clients who had vested interest in Cuba.

Roselli, however, testified to the SSC that Maheu told him from the beginning that Officeral was with 123-111the CIA.127 Maheu confirmed this account to the SSC.

Maheu also stated in a deposition to the Committee that المدينة المدي

Committee that Rosel i informed him that he, Roselli, was operating as an agent of the CIA.

- Roselli, and thus Giancana and Trafficante, knew the CIA was behind the assassination plots at an early stage. This recognition of CIA initiation is important it shows that Giancana and Trafficante and thus organized crime knowingly became involved with the CIA.
 - b) Discovery of True Identities
- Rosel i arranged for the entrance of Giancana and Traffic inte into the plots and introduced the Support Char

 them to Giancana as "Sam Gold" and "Joe." 131 O'Connell contends he learned the true identities of these persons a few months after the operation was in progress

 when he and Maheu san an article in one of the Sunday sections of the Miam newspaper. 1323 This article supposedly pertained to Organized crime in the United States and contained pictures of top hoodlums, including

 Same Giancana and Santo Trafficante. 1323 In the Tign O'comments stated that the article came from the Parade magazine; in the Miami Times.

Maheu also contends that he did not know the true identities of Sam Go d and Joe until this article appeared. The Support that also stated that this incident occurred after the "'e were up to our ears" in the operations and consequently the CIA decided to progress forward.

The SSC conducted a search of supplements to all Miami newspapers for the requesite time period and could not locate any such article. The Committee consequently searched Parade magazine for the fall of 1960 all of 1961, and all of 1962, the years which spanned the entire operation. The Committee learned that on January 21, 1962, Parade published an article entitled, The government's crackdown on organized crime, written by Jack Anderson, which contains a listing of the top ten hoodlums in the country as well as several photographs of mobsters, including Santo Trafficante. The article focused on the efforts of Attorney General

Robert Kennedy's campaign against organized crime and mentions ooth Giancana and Trafficante.

Although this Parade article appears to correspond with Parade and Maheu's description, it is over one year past the beginning months of the operation. Indeed, it occurs nine months after the completion of Phase I of the plots. Additionally, neither the SSC nor the Committee has discovered any other article pertaining to organized crime in Parade magazine or the supplements of any Miami newspaper for the a leged time period.

(b) It appears description and Maheu are lying in an attempt to look for an expost facto reason for continuing the operation after the introduction of two of the top organized crime figures in the United States. Implicit in their contention is that while the CIA wished to solicit criminal sources to assassinate Castro, it would not knowingly have recruited any figures from the top-echelon of the support chief a organized crime. 131 Additionally, Occompany of the support chief a organized crime. 131 Additionally, Occompany of the support chief a organized crime. 131 Additionally, Occompany of the support chief and organized crime. 131 Additionally, Occompany of the support chief and organized crime. 131 Additionally, Occompany of the support chief and organized crime. 131 Additionally, Occompany of the support chief and organized crimes.

statement that "we were up to our ears in it" is even more difficult to fathom since according to the IGR the operat on was in its embryonic stage in the fall of 1960 and no pills were even delivered until approximately February or March of 1961.--Without addit onal support, the Gommittee bolieve the contentions of Maheu and the Supp believable, (%) A this CIA plot to assassinate Castro was necessarily a highly volatile and secret operation. Once Roselli introduced additional contacts into the scene it is not log cal that the CIA would have neglected to verify the identities of such principals. On the contrary, it is more believable and more probable that the C A ascertained the true identities of "Sam Gold" and ".oe" at an early stage and consciously progressed forward in the operation, confident that these two persons, in the words attributed to Colonel Sheffield Edwards, were individuals "tough (nough" to handle the job. 140

c) Roles of 'rincipals

Phase One Colon: 1 Sheffield Edwards assigned O'Connell the task of finding someone to assassinate Castro. 1911 Edwards and O'Connell both decided to utilize Maheu as so meone to recruit persons to The Support Chief effectuate the operation.14% O-Commett also described his role as the liaison to the CIA and confirmed that all reports or information would proceed through him to the Agency. 143 In addition, the Support Chief O'Connell said he arted as a "babysitter" to Roselli& he od with him to occupy his time to insure that Roselli was fulfilling his role. 144 (There is a discrepancy over who suggested Roselli for the operation, but in any event, he was recruited because he had connections with persons who could handle the assignment. 146 Conflict arises over the role of Giancana. Roselli informed the SSC that Giancana was only a "back-up" man. 147 It should be noted that Giancana was murdered four cays before Roselli made this statement. Mahue, however, described Giancana as "to locate someone in Castro's entourage who served as a person coselli could approach who could then make the necessary contact into the Cuban domain, specifically Santo Trafficante. Roselli, who FBI files indicate represented Giancana's interest in probably Las Vegas and was subordinate to him, would not directly contact the organized crime boss of the Cuban and Southern Florida area without first contacting his superior, Giancana, who would then make any necessary arrangements. Both Giancana and Trafficante, being bosses of two organized crime domains, would have the means, power, and stature to arrange for the assassination. After contacting Trafficante, who have the influence to recruit the necess personnel to assessing perform the assassinat Giancana probably was not an active participathe process of poisoning pills or actually a the assassination.

Congressional testimony of Roselli and Trafficante corroborate each other, but remain contrary to how the principals reported the facts in 1967. The evidence strongly indicates that Trafficante was not merely an interpreter but an active participant in passing the poison pills and in recruiting the potential assassins. This is important in dramatizing the deep involvement of organized crime with the CIA in these plots. One can understand why Trafficante today wishes to downplay his role; the facts, however, simply do not support his assertions. The Committee balance with ICR.

Support Chieffs role. 165 Giancana and Trafficante were no longer involved n the operation. 167 The IGR states that Roselli remained as a prominent figure and worked "directly with the Cuban exile community and directly on behalf of the CIA."

(1) Although the GR does request that Trafficante was not involved in Phase II, 167 it contains this caution:

Trafficante was one of the principals in Shef Edwards Phase One of the operation. He presumably was not involved in Phase Two under Harvey, but we cannot be sure of that. After all, Trafficante was the man who brought Versaa into the operation late in Phase One, and Versaa was one of the main players during Phase Two. 170

It is reasonable to assume that Roselli at least kept both Giancana and T afficante informed of the operation's progres.

Joseph Shimon informed the Committee that he and Maheu travelled together to Miami to the Fontainbleu in Marci, 1961, to witness the Patterson-149

Shimon is prolably the source for Jack Anderson's column of January 19, 1971, which fixes the date of the passage of the poison at the Fontainbleu as March 13, 1961.

In any event, it appears eertain that the CIA did not pass any pills, poison, or assassination weapons before February of 1961. The fall segment of the plots only constituted a planning stage; no one undertook any operational activities.

I also understand that there was a question of poison pills which were supposed to be transported to Havana.

There was never any evidence they were transported there or ever left the United States. There was never any evidence that this plot ever left the Florida mainland, and if it was indeed an assassination plot, it was misadvertised to me because I had understood it was an effort to see if a connection could be made between the Mafia in Florida and the Mafia in Havana. As to the best of my knowledge, the

Location of Trafficante

(1/5) To suppor the description of Trafficante as a courier, the # # IGR states that $rac{m}{2}$ /A/t that time the gambling casino were still operating in Cuba, and Trafficante was making regular trips between Miami and Havana on syndicate business.' 106 The Committee has obtained some evidence which indicates tha Trafficante was not travelling to Cuba during this period. No records available to the Committee from NS, State Department, or the FBI reflect any travels after February, 1960. During this time, the FBI maint fined physical surveillance on Trafficante. 177 Tra ficante testified before the Committee that he only made two trips to Cuba after his release from the Trescornia prison, in August, 1959, and that these trip: occurred within two to three months of this release.178 Additionally, considering Trafficante's reputed top position in the La Cosa Nostra, it seems more reasonable that Trafficante would send a representative to Cuba to conduct any business rather than risk being detained by Castro again.

If Trafficant was actually travelling between Miami and Havana, the implications are interesting. He was either willing to risk being detained again or had acquired assurances from the Cuban government regarding his safety. In any event, the presence of Trafficante during the fall of 1960 in Cuba raines the possibility of a more relationship between himself and the Cuban government than pre iously believed. Such a relationship during the period when Trafficante was scheming to assissinate Castro invites the theory that Trafficante was possibly informing the Cuban government of activ ties in the Miami area in general and of the plots in particular. In return for such information, Trafficante could have acquired lost gambling operations as well as support and a Cuban sanctuary for the smuggling of contraband into the United Stales.

(11) Adding to the support for Verons were the promotional efforts of Dino and Eddie Cellini who reportedly were working through a Washington, D.C. public relations film; Edward K. He also Moss had previous C A associations and was supposedly acting as a conduit for funds supplied by the Cellini brothers with the understanding that this group would receive privileged reatment in the Cuba of the future.

In his testimony before the Committee, Verena an anti-Gistro Cuban u also described a merting with Jerse House Pojet and Meyer Lansky in Lansky's home in Miami in the summer of 1960. Lansky aid he had business interests in Cuba and wanted to help the Cubans fight Castro, destroy Castro, and try and establish a democratic government.

(113) The logical inference to be drawn from this is that the CIA, or anized crime, and other persons interested in removing the Castro regime all settled the Culpan exile lear in upon deVerona, probably independently, as a person who had the potential of uniting the multitude of exile groups to overthrow Castro. Additionally, the exite lenderly Vernals reported contacts with Organized crime raises the possibil ty that he was involved with them in a plot to k.ll Castro before the evolution of the CIA-organize crime plots. If this was the case, then Traffica te's recruitment of Volume into the CIA operation would result in providing official U.S. sanction to an already existing independent operation. The CIA recognized his in stating, "It is possible that Verena already was involved in independent operations with the criminal syndicate when first approached prior to the Bay of Pigs in March 1961 to carry out the Ca: tro Assassination./85

> g) Introduct on of "Joe" and "Gold" and Related E ents

(114) The timin of the introduction of Giancana ("Gold") and Trafficante ("Joe") is important to the analysis of the true role of organized crime in the Castro assassination plots. This introduction, together with other related events, further suggests! the thesis that the CIA found itself involved in providing additional resources for independent operation that the syndicate already had commenced. () According to he 1967 IGR, the entrance of Giancana and Rosell occurred during the week of September 25, 1960. / In contrast, the SSC did not assign a precise date for their entrance because of conflicting evidence between the 1967 IGR and Maheu's Senate testimony which set the date after November, 1960. The SSC did conclud:, however, that Giancana was involved in the operation during October because of the Las Vegas wiretap incident which occurred on October 30, and because of the october 18, 1960 FBI memorandum which revealed Gian ana had told several people of his involvement in a plot to assassinate Castro. (16) Although thes two events which the SCC cites may support the involvement of Giancana during October, they also invite speculation of independent organized crime operations. The October 18, 1960, FBI memorandum is particularly applicable. states:

was to be don: away with shortly, said it would occur in November. Moreover, Giancana said he had a ready met with the would-be assassin on three occasions, the last meeting taking place on a boat docked at the Fontainbleu Hotel, Miami seach. Giancana stated everything had been perfected for killing Castro and that the assassin had arranged with a girl, not further described, to drop a 'pill' in some drink or food of Castro.

Since, according to the 1967 10R the poison pills, which the CIA prepa ed at Giancana's request, were not ready for delivery intil late February or early March, 1961, it is standing doubtful that Giancana's November, 1960, assissination plot was part of the CIA operation. Rather, it appears that organized crime already had its poison plan in progress, using a mistress of Castr) to accomplish the deed, when the CIA (fortuitously)en ered the scene. Organized crime then occupied a perfect position. If their private plot succeeled, they then would possess far-reaching blackmail potential against the CIA which they could exercise at an opportune moment; If their intrigue failed, however, they could then assume the position that they were only executing the directives of the government And could possibly Still un their involvement as blackmail potential

h) -Soverimen Richard Çıin aconscinates, attempt "assemble' that Giancana refers to in involved the October 18 memo may have been Richard Scallzetti Cain. providing information to the CIA concerning his foreign ventures, a practice Giancana may have promoted in an effort to gain possible leverage with the CIA. In a CIA memorandum to the FBI dated 4 November 1960 Cair supplied the following information in his first contact with the CIA:

(See yellow 104)

- 1) that in .950-52 while in Miami, Florida, he initiated several telephone taps on various Cuban revolutionary figures under the supervision of William Buenz, a private detective who had contact with the latista government.
- 2) that on October 2, 1960, William Buenz, then oper ting out of New York City, met with cain at O'Hare Airport and offered h m $25,000 to travel to Cuba at the request of former President Piro to instal telephone taps on various Cubans, and
- 3) that in 1 59, Constantine Kangles, a former at orney for the Cuban 26th of July movement, inquired whether Cain would instruct Castro Army officers in the use of polygraphs.

It seems more than coincidental that Cain's approach to the CIA to supply this information occurred simultaneously with Giancana's meeting with Roselli and Maheu. Cain subsequently volunteered information to the CIA during 1961-63.

ight)$ Second, on No ember 2, 1960, a confidential informant told the Bureau that on October 20, 1960, Serapio Monta o, the former head of the July 26 Movement in Chicago, met Richard S. Cain in the office of Constantine Kangles, the former attorney in Chicago for the Cuban 26th of July Movement and former counsel in the United States 193 for the Cuban Government headed by Fidel Castro. Cain indicated to Kangles that he had clients who wished to get news : tores and photographs out of Cuba concerning rebel activity in the Cuban foothills. Cain further indica ed that he wanted to cover this story and was soon going o Miami in an attempt to enter Cuba, and that Jack Mobley, a Chicago columnist, and Bob Ajamian, of Life magazine, had knowledge of this venture. 195

Third, on November 2, 1960, the FBI interviewed

Cain in Miami at the Sands Hotel, Miami Beach.

Cain said he was a epresentative of Accurate Detective

Laboratories, ife magazine, and sixty-four other newspapers. After providing information on the military armaments n Cuba, Cain said that the Resistence movement had eight hundred men fighting in the Escambray Mountains and that he was awaiting the opportunity to parachute into the Escambrays to take photos for life. Cain said that Antonio de Verona gave him the information on the Cuban armaments.

When Cain's p ans to visit Cuba, either to install wiretaps for former President Prio or to take photographs of rebe activity, or both, are considered simultaneously with Giancana's presence in Miami, Giancana's preference to the assassination of came in November and view Cain's approach to the CIA, the true purpose and possible interrelation of these events become even more suspect. The wiretap assignment and the photographic story may have been covers. Giancana may have been attempting to send Cain to Cuba to supervise the poisoning attempt on Castro. Cain whe connected to La Cosa Nostra, spoke Spanish, had extensive contacts in Latin America, was well-versed in sabotage and investigative procedures, had been on Giancana's payroll for four years, and apparently November, 1960. Further, Cain's reference the Cubin in Limited in his FBI interview to Associated werena, the person that the CIA concedes may have been active in independent organized crime assassination plots against Castro prior to his recruitment by Trafficante in March, 1961, raises more suspicion.

These events in the interpreted to indicate that Cain may have been the "assassin-to-be" whom Giancana referred to in the 18 October 1960 FBI memorandum, on he may have been the contact man for the operation.

analysis is obviously speculative.

(126) Cain could also have provided another service to Giancana. As already indicated, a second person, called J.W. Harrison, allegedly accompanied and assisted Balletti in the wiretap. Although the Justice Department vigorously) pursued this investigation and prepared to indict the principals, no one could determine who Harri on was and no participant. would admit to know ng his identity. There is no doubt he existed: he signed the hotel register and accompanied Ballett on the flight to Las Vegas. Harrison to accompany Balletti from Miami to Las Vegas to assist in the CIA liaison man, in ormed the Committee that whoever Harrison was he was not a CIA employee. (/28) Clearly, someoue arranged for Harrison's presence and knows his true dentity. Since DuBois and Balletti acted only as the instruments of Maheu, it seems logical. that they would hav: revealed Harrison's identity in the face of federal prosecution if Harrison were just an employee of DuBois with no connection to the CIA or to the associate; of Maheu in the CIA operation against Castro. Roselli confirmed these two accounts in his Senate testimony. Shimon further informed the Committee that Giancana told im he paid $5,000 for the Las Vegas operation.

Assuming that Maheu did provide for Harrison, he man likely did to at the request of someone else. Maheu did not have any reason to independently prefer one person over another; the CIA or Giancana, however, did have such a personal interest. Giancana's interest obviously stemmed from his fred and it is probably correct that Giancana requested Maheu to bug (Rowan-1) room. This personal interest could have prompted Giancana to direct Maheu to use a person of Giancana's choice; Cain fits that role perfectly. Indeel, Giancana probably always believed that his directive to investigate a possible offer was the only issue involved in the surveillance.

In any event, the objectives of both Giancana and the CIA could have been achieved whether Harrison was a Giancana choice, specifically Cain, or an Agency operation.

After the Las Vegas operation backfired, the CIA obviously decided to continue the assassination plots. This indicates that the commercial personal feels the security of the CIA organized crime plot had not been seriously breathed. Additionally, it possibly indicates that the 'IA determined that even if Giancana was involved in an independent operation, that it would not hamper their efforts, and that all interests could be reconciled. The CIA continued on the same track. blithely going "to bed" with organized crime.

In this memo siancana spoke of a girl who was going to drop a pill in some food or drink of Castro.

This format is again contradiction to the CIA the Cuban official operation which initially relied on secretary in Castro's prime ministry, to administer the pills.

The identity of this "girl "referred to by Giancana has not been ascertain, but it is reasonable to assume that Trafficante was in the position to recruit a mistress of Castro because of his numerous contacts in the Cuban gambling and prostitution circles.

المعلومين العقومين العام المحاسط (142) As indicated in Section II Paul Meskill of the New York Daily News wrote several articles in 1975 and 1976 concerning activities of Frank Sturgis. These articles (further reflect) the theory that organized crime was involved in independent Castro assassination plots.

this theory; and more thoroughly respond to the allegations in the Meskill articles. See page.

(144) First, organized crime probably initiated independent assassination plots against Castro prior to any CIA involvement in late 1960. Such plots may have been in progress when the CIA reactivated its plans to kill Castro in April, 1962.

(145) Second, organized crime could quite possibly have been directing activities such as those described in the New York Daily News article.

Third, Frank sturgis most probably established contacts with organ zed crime through his gambling associations and probably was used by them in some not capacities. This does not into that he was a member to organized crime.

and could have been involved with him in an assassination plot. Since Sturgis is not a reliable source, however, his allegations are suspect.

Fifth, according to the committee's review of attainable evidence, the CIA was not involved in any operations with sales prior to late 1960.

Sixth, Sturgi; was not necessarily involved with the Cuban of scal Lorenz or Ortalin a plot to kill Castro. He may have the Cuban official learned of plots in solving Ortal and possibly Lorenz including official in Miami after Ortal arrived there in 1965.

Additionally, the April, 1975, Meskill articles included did not relate the Sturgis-Lorenz plot to kill Castro with poison pills. It is only after the publication of the SSC Interim Seport in November, 1975, and the Final Report in April, 1976, that Meskill describes this plot. Thus, Sturgis may have combined accurate the Cube official information obtained from Ortal and other Maimi sources with the facts the SSC presented and then fabricated which, the Lorenz story, together with other evidence such as the 18 October memo, which can succeed unfortunately in appearing both logical and believable.

k) Implications Arising From Phase Two of Significant d fferences are apparent between Phase One and Phase Two which reflect upon organized crime's motivation and seriousness in fulfilling its part of the bar ain originally initiated in 1960. 150 First, in Phase One, Roselli and his colleagues demonstrated their ability to execute the contract on Castro by naming their source who was, indeed, in a position close to Castro. In Phase Two, the modus operandi and the ab lity of the assassin or assassins becomes quite vague Harvey reported that Ver had an asset in Cub, who had access to someone in a restaurant which Ca tro frequented who could administer the poison. If In Tune, 1962, Roselli reported to Harvey that Verena had dispatched a three man team to Cuba to recruit persons to kill Castro, or to kill him themselves, maybe w th poison pills, if the opportunity arose.215 Harvey said they had no specific plans. 2 Second, as already indicated, the cast of the organized figures involved changed. Maheu, Giancana, and Trafficante allegedly retired from the scene, with a "Maceo" assuming the position of Trafficante.

person simply referred to as "Maceo" into a highly sensitive and covert CIA operation without any apparent attempt by the CIA to check his background or ascertain his identity. It seems extraordinary that the CIA would propel the plots forward without performing any security check. Indeed, it seems more logical that at least Roselli and Harvey did ascertain the identity of Maceo and for whatever reason decided to withhold this information. Further, although the TGR characterizes Micco as Roselli's man, it is more probable that Prafficante, who had recruited all the Cuban personnel previously used in the attempts and who maintained the most complete network of Cuban allies in liami and Cuba, provided this argumes can be see cubaland individual. If this speculation is accurate, then it displays Trafficant again performing a direct role during Phase II, a function every source has denied.

existed or whether the operations to kill Castro encompassed a continuous time period. As previously indicated, the CIA precautions that the plot was dormant from the Bay of Pigs until Harvey assumed direction in the spring of 1962. Both Harvey and the Support Charles et al. Support Charles et al. Support Charles et al. Considering that Roselli was able to immediately mobilize his forces in 1962 in response to Harvey's request, and that this (mobilization involved Verena, whom

Trafficante recruited in Phase One, it seems reasonable to assume that some of he individuals in Phase One were actively attempting to kill Castro after the Bay of Pigs and probably until the advent of Soviet solidification. These efforts, however, may well have been conducted without CIA knowledge and further support the theory of independent organized crime plots.

During late 1:62 and early 1963 Phase Two undramatically and slowly terminated. In retrospect, the ambiguous modus operandi, the lack of identity of the potential as:assins, the total reliance of Harvey on Roselli for any information, and the seemingly apathetic desire of the CIA to corroborate any information from Roselli, all converge to posit the theory that organized crime was not seriously attempting to assassinate Cast o a first following the solidification of Soviet influence in the Castro regime. "Trafficante, Lansky, and other Ciban casino owners must have realized by the mid-1962 tha: the "golden goose" of Havana had laid its last eig, and that fortunes were to be made elsewhere. Certainly, history shows growing Lansky influence in the Bahamas and Las Vegas; Trafficante project; in the Dominican Republic, and burgeoning bolita operations in Florida arising from the influx of Cuban exile. Further, organized crime may have determined that the new Justice Department crackdown would pre while not have permitted the "wide open" Cuba of the pre-Kennedy era even if the United States had succeeded in ousting the Cuban regime. Consequently, while the United States government, specifically the CIA, still possessed a viable interest in ussassinating Castro, organized crime did not.

 Motivatio of Organized Crime to be involved nVPlots

(/65) Despite the reasons just presented to discontinue attempts to kill Castro, organized crime still had strong incentive to string the CIA along. Specifically, this incentive was to establish a relationship with the CIA for subsequent use in thwarting prosecution for VARIOUS unrelated offenses and thus blunting any Justice Department proceedings against organized crime. (16) The section believes that organized crime, while always recogn zing the benefits of establishing a relationship with the CIA, initially was also / seriously interested in assassinating Castro to regain lost territory. As already indicated, with the committees ρουλούν this desir : Nebbed with the solidification of Soviet influence and other factors just mentioned. After this occurrance de organized crime may only have put forth the "appearance" of involvement and good faith in the plots to further define, a relationship with the CIA. Indeed, the CIA prevention of prose ution in 1961 in the Las Vegas wiretap incident would have given Maheu, Roselli and Giancan: confirmation of the value of such a relationship and impetus for continuing it in 1962 even though the assassination of Castro may no longer have been a viable alternative. (162) The actions o Maheu, Giancana, and particularly Roselli in the year; following these plots support this theory. As related in Section II, these individuals actually did use their CIA affiliation: and knowledge of the plots in attempts to hinder law enforcement prosecutions and objectives. The success of some of their efforts verifies the tremendous blackmail potential they possessed. As Sam Papich, the FBI liaison to the CIA, commented in May, 1967, Giancana and Roselli had the CIA "over a barrel" because cf "that operation" and he doubted that the FBI would be able to do anything about either Giancana or Roselli because of "their previous activities" with the CIA. 210

In an interview with the Committee, former Deputy Director

He can of Markmarl, of the CIA Richard Bissell discussed successed, stating that he had come to feel that the threat of blackmail by the underworld figures involved had constituted the single greatest danger in the plots. 219 Bissell, as Deput Director for Plans, had been personally involved in the planning and authorization of the CIA Mafia plots in 1960-1961. 200 Bissell had not been interviewed by the Inspector General's Office during their 1967 investigation of the plots, and thus his recollections and views were not contained in the Inspector General's Repor 200 1

Agency officials should have been more cognizant of the possibility of blackmail by the organized crime figures involved in the plots.

Bissell stated, "We didn't give it sufficient attention at that time. It was unwise. We only thought of the possibility of blackmail later."

The former Deputy Director recalled that the CIA's main fear at the time had been "some sort of unfavorable publicity, if by chance it leaked out," rather than the potential ramifications of entering into such a sensitive relationship with powerful criminal figures. 224 Bissell went on to state; "I knew it was serious. I knew these were Mafia leaders. And I knew they were in a position to make very damaging revelations about the Agency. But we thought it was all under control." (/(2)) While Bissell stated that le and his colleagues had not realized the potential for blackrail when they first enlisted Mafia leaders in the assassination plots, the CIA officer who later assumed control over the continuing plots has stated he was well aware of - and fearful about - such a possibility. William Harvey, the clandestine ervices agent who coordinated the reactivation and continuation of the plots in 1962 and 1963, testified in 1975 that he and then Deputy Director Richard Helms had concealed the existence of the assassination plots from CIA Director John McCone partly out of concern over the potential for such blackmail. In his Senate: Testimony, Harvey stated that he and Richard Helms decided not to inform McCone about the plots:

it might come to fruition or had a chance to assess the individuals involved and determine exactly the problem we faced, including the possible problem - and it was a very, or it appeared to be and in my opinion was, at that time, a very real possibil ty of this government being blackmailed either by Cuba is (exiles) for political purposes or by figures in organized crime for their own self-protection or aggrand zement, which, as it turned out, did not happen, but at that time was a very pregnant possibility.

Upon learning partial deta is of the plots, both Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy and FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover had immediately recognized the disturbing leverage the participants in the plots had gained through their involvement with the CIA in the murder attempts. As noted earlier, Attorney General Kennedy was partially briefed about the pre-Bay of Pigs assassination attempts, authorized during the Eisenhower Administration May 1962.
Upon being informed of the plots, Kennedy had met with FBI Director Hoover to share the information and to voice his anger over the CIA's actions. In memorandum of their conversation prepared on May 10, 1962, Hoover stated that Kennedy had angrily noted that the CIA's use of these figures had resulted in the possibility that "the CIA was in a position where it could not afford to have any action taken against Giancan; and Maheu." 230 Hoover further noted that he had been greatly disturbed over the Agency's use of these individuals, stating, "[expressed great astonishment at this in view of the bad reputition of Maheu . . . The Attorney General shared the same views." 23/

In his interview with the Committee, former Deputy Director Richard Bissell stated that he hid been distressed over reports that CIA Director John McCone hal never been told about the Agency-Mafia assassination plots during the period in which they were occurring. 232 McCone had been appointed Director of the Agency by President Kennedy in November of 1961, thus serving as head of the CIA during the last 15 month; in which the plots were continuing. 233 In his Senate testimony in 1975, Richard Helms (who served as McCone's Deputy Director during the period in which the plots were continuing) stated that he could not recall telling McCone of the existence of the plots while the were occurring. Helms went on to state that he "was trying to scratch my head as to why I didn't tell him at the time and my surmises are the best I can come up with. I am really surprised I did not discuss it with him at the time." 235 McCone's former Executive Assistant, Walter Elder, told the Senate that McCone had once notified Deputy Director Helms that "assassination could not be condoned and would not be approved," and that the Agency was never to become involved in such activity. In his Senate testimony, William Harvey stated that Director McCone had once personally told him that the Agency and U.S. government must not engage in such plots against any foreign leader, and further, that "if I got myself involved in something like this, I might end up getting myself excommunicated." As noted earlier, Harvey went or to testify that he and Helms had withheld their knowledge of (and personal involvement in) the murder plots from Director McCone, partly out of fear "of this government being blackmailed . . . by figures in organized crime . . . "

Speaking of the failure of Helms, Harvey, and other Agency personnel to inform Director McCone of the plots, former Deputy Director Bissell told the Committee, "The Director should have been informed. This was bad, and shouldn't have gone on."

Bissell, who left the Agency in January 1962, stated, "The Director should know if his subordinates - his top subordinates - are in a unknown to the Director."

/70) Bissell told the Committee that he would not have become involved in the early plots without then Director Allen Dulles' personal authorization, stating, "If Dulles told me not to become involved in such a thing, I know for sure I wouldn't. You can't disobey the Director." All Speaking of Director McCone's reported notification of both Richard Helms and William Harvey that the Agency must not become involved in assassination activity, Bissell stated, "I cannot say what McCone's reaction would have been if he found out about such a violation of his wishes at the time. I do know that Helms would have been in a most uncomfortable position, but I can't speculate. " 243 The former Agency official stated, "It's wrong. Obviously senior officials should follow directions, especially on something like that." Bissell further commented, "If McCone told Helms and Harvey not to get involved, then it raises obvious questions about their actions I would rather not speculate about this. I don't know who gave what orders to whom after I left." 245

Speaking of the CIA's withholding of all information pertaining to the existence of the CIA-underworld assassination plots from the Warren Commission, Bissell stated that the Agency probably "didn't think it was relevant I would gress." All Bissell further stated, "I can't believe the potential concern over blackmail by the Mafia people would have been allowed by the Agency to serve as a reason for shielding the existence" of the plots from the Presidential Commission. At However, Bissell added, "I guess you couldn't absolutely rule out such a possibility."

(7) Asked if he believed that the Agency would have informed the Warren Commission of the CIA plots if there had been substantive news reports at the time linking Santos Trafficante, Sam Giancana, or other organized crime leaders to the assassination of President Kennedy, Bissell stated, "I can': speculate what it would have done. I would hope so. " 249 Bissell went on to state that he believes that if the Agency actually suspected such Mafia involvement in the President's murder, it would probably have informed the Warren Commission of the CIA plo s. Bissell stated, "They wouldn't have liked to. But I do think they would have told Earl Warren." 250 Bissell stated his belief that hid the Agency found that Trafficante or Giancana had been involved in some way with President Kennedy's assassination, it would have informed the Warren Commission of the CIA plots against Castro, even though such information would have led to the disclosure of the Agency's own prior involvement with these same Mafia elements in assissination conspiracies.

3. Retaliation Theory

a) Results of the Committee investigation

(173) The Committee found no evidence that these operations provoked Premier Castro to assassinate President Kennedy in retaliation.

(174) The Committee also per found no evidence that Castro knew of CIA ponsorship of these activities or even knew of the r existence prior to the death of President Kenned. From If Castro did discover their existence, however,

The believer, however, l'at while not being able to be certain, Castro would have highly suspected the CIA in any assassination plot he uncorrered, at least to the degree that he would have suspected the CIA was funding the open persons plotting his murder. The reason is that Castro suspected the CIA of constantly actempting to through every possible method including assassination overthrow his government; Castro's meeting overthrow his government; will senator george M. : govern where Costro gare McGovern a liste of of CIA - sponsored appoints this mention (175) Consequently, there is no reason to assume that Costro would not have attributed the particular plot to the CIA.

John Roselli, actually existed. Further, John Roselli supplied all information concerning the operation to the CI through either J or William Harvey. The tee notes that the public dissemination of the details of the plots corresponds remarkably to the efforts of John Roselli to prevent his deportation in 1966 and 1971, and to prevent his prosecution for illegal gambling activities in 1967. These coincidences plus other evidence have conclude that John Roselli manipulated the facts of the plots into the retaliation theory in efforts to force the CIA to favorably intervene, into his legal affairs to prevent the further disclosure of the plots in general and the retaliation theory in particular and to prevent further waves of public paranoia. The Committee notes An some instances John Roselli was successful.

c) Summary

the existence of the CIA-organized crime plots and that the CIA sponso ed them and ignoring the belief that Roselli fabricated the retaliation theory, it is still the Committee and belief that Roselli fabricated the retaliation theory, the Committee and belief that Castro would have resorted to assassinating the President of the United States in retaliation for the reasons indicated in the AMLASH portion of the Issue Analysis section. Specifically, these reasons are:

- 1) the prospect of exposing Cuba to invasion and destruction would not have been worth the risk;
- 2) the act of changing a leader does not necessarily change the system;
- 3) Castro ma/ have recognized that among the leaders of the United States Kennedymay have maintained the least hostile approach towards Caba; and
- 4) the growing prospect of detente between Cuba and the United States would have refrained Castro from assassinating an American official.
- 4. Related Organized Crime Activities

 Addition

 (174) The Committee reviewed/vidence that fresher raises the possibility that various organized crime frequency involved in attempts to assassinate Castro/were unrelated to the CIA.

a) Norman Rothman

(fig) To ascertain fore information about organized crime's knowledge a out Castro assassination plots, the Committee investigated Norman Rothman, who was active in operating various casinos in Cuba before the Castro takeover and who consequently maintained associations with organized crime and the Batista regime.

(18) At various times, Rothman served as manager of the Sans Souci and Copacabana Clubs in Cuba representing the interests of the Mannarino brothers of Pittsburgh 254

The files on tothman indicate that a proposal algeby to kill Castro was nade to Rothman as a "quid pro quo" in which Rothman expected to avoid imprisonment for a 1960 gun running conviction. During an FBI interview, Rothman stated that he had been in "personal contact with White House at orney Harry Hall Wilson, as well as Assistant Attorney General John Engenthaler, both of Washington, D.C.' and members of the Kennedy Administration.

In a deposition to the Committee taken in , Miami on April 16, 1978, Rothman expanded on the theme to include a series of mysterious telegrams sommoning him to the White House for a series of two or three meetings a minch began in Attorney General

Kennedy's office with members of his staff and continued in a conference room where Rothman's assistance in providing contacts inside Cuba was explored. At the list meeting Rothman says that:

"one of them lappened to discuss / the assassination of Castro/with me, but not in a technical way. You know, just in a casual way. That is about it. I cannot for the moment remember it word for word because it is too far back."

IJ

The evidence suggesting such an approach by Robert

Kennedy is entirely uncorroborated and makes no sense when viewed in light of the Justice Department crackdown on organized crime. Further, it seems extremely doubtful that any meeting with Rothman on this topic would have occurred at the White House. Consequently,

b) Character Name links between the AMLASIT.

b) The Committee also reviewed evidence which Curri indicates that organized crime may have been aware of the AMLASH operation during its existence.

The IBE IGR identified three name links between the AMLASH operation and the organized crime operation.

The IGR did not sufficiently analyze, however, that the common denominator in two of the links was Santo Trafficante.

Link One

In March, 196, the CIA received information both that a high-ranking military figure in the Castro regime and a former personal secretary of Castro hoth wished to defect. The military officer was AMLASH Relands Grand School School of (AMLASH) and the former the Cuba official secretary was James and plots. Trafficante, Rosell, Giancana or any other members of the American gambling syndicate. This link is these fare insignificant.

Link Two

In mid-March, 1965, Rafael Garcia Bongo, a actual Cuban lawyer whose Prother occupied the prestigious position of Minister of Sports in Cuba, contacted CIA that "he was in con act with a group of military officers who were planning to kill Castro." (1967)

I Castro (1967)

It quickly became clear to CIA Amuasit employees that Bongo's reference was to Cabita and the group of military man who were allied with him in attempting to depose Castro. Although the 1967 and 1967 and 1967 are silent attitude toward Bongo's information, it must be assumed that they did not respond affirmatively since the AMLASH operation was in progress at the time and Artime was in the process of delivering arms caches to Cabella's people within Cuba.

Interestingly, Bongo identified himself to Agency personnel as a lawyer the Capri Hotel and Casino period of 75 days, allegedly as a reprisal for Bonso's trip o Madrid apparently involved more than a contact with the CIA for he was arrested for counterfeiting and held until his old client. As already indicated, it has been reported by Jack Anderson that because secret source until his death, John Roselli, had reason to speculate that Cubansloriginally recruited by Santo Trafficante to kill Castro were "turned around" and sent back to the United States where they were directly involved in the assissination of President Kennedy. If this line of hypothecation is adopted, then the trip to Midwid by Bongo could assume some sinister implications such as the possibility that Bongo's real purpose in contacting the Madrid Station was to act as a double igent for Castro in ascertaining the nature and scop: of the AMLASH operation. Combainly became aware of the Artime meetings with AINCASH Cubels in the fall of 1964 since the list of charges Amcash upon which Gubela went to trial in 1966 began with these Madrid meetings. If Castro had begun his AMLAS410 suspicions of Cubel sts role with the CIA during ানুক্তি late 1964 or early ক্লান্ত, it is likely that he would have begun counter-intelligence measures to confirm his fears which could have led to Castro sending Bongo The TRAfficante on the trip to contact the Agency. Given Teat - Bongo (Clutionship), it can be postulated that would be about Trafficante was aware of Bongo's true mission prior to his departure or became knowledgeable when he had high-level contacts within the exile community and the low-level secur ty in the CIA exile operations, it is contactly log call that Trafficante and other members of the unde world knew, in some fashion, part or all of the MLASH plot. The question becomes: So what? Short of being able to blackmail the government about the modus operendi of the 1960-62 events, the significance of mob knowledge of AMLASH is not readily apparent.

Cubela's ties with the Agency through his close associate darge Not regas who was described by Gorge Crite in his Washington Rost article (circa 8/1/76) as "having worked with the CIA, was in Cubela's student revolutions by group in Cuba and always close to Trafficants."

If Trafficant: was a double agent, working for the CIA but actuall, supplying information to Castro, then another scenario emerges. It is then logical to assume that Castro knew of the AMLASH and CIA-organized crime operations from their inception.

As mentioned earlier in this material, Trafficante could have received a sanctuary and assistance in smuggling contrabant for such information. As also discussed earliers the Committee believes the Committee believes to the Committee be

5. Deaths of loselli and Giancana

(202) As indicated earlier, both Sam Giancana and John Roselli were mirdered. Sam Giancana was shot in the basement of his home in Chicago in June,

1975, just prior to his scheduled testimony before the SSC regarding the CIA organized crime plots,

John Roselli's butchered body was found inside an oil drum which was floating in Key Biscayne Bay, Florida in August, 1976, whitehore shortly after his testimony before the SSC regarding the CIA-organized crime ploss.

- why they were killed and who was responsible. One theory relevant to this investigation is that Giancana and Roselli were killed because of their participation in the Castro assassination plots and the SSC attempts to elicit information on the plots. In this regard, Trafficante has most often been the person assigned responsibility for the deaths. On the other hand, the Justice Department informed the Committee that it believes that organized crime performed the for murders and that the reasons were unrelated to the CIA-organized crime plots.
- both murders. The Committee has not uncovered evidence relevant to solving these murders. The Committee does better however, that a variety of motivations inspired the deaths. These motivations included internal mob conflict, especially in the case of Giancana, and participation and knowledge of the CIA-organized crime plots. The Committee grita possible tha Trafficante approved of and assisted in the murcer# of at John Roselli. Trafficante's motivation would have been to maintain a low profile in connection with the CIA plots and to prevent disclosu e of other unknown persons involved in the plo s as well as other operations and activities which an investigation of the plots mean that The Committee does not believe might uncover. such activities wer: necessarily connected to the assassination of President Kennedy. wished to protect Trafficante may hav : Ale a covert relationship with Castro may have entailed his running contraband through Cuba into the United States.

The gambling syndicate operation had been taken from him, and, in retrospect, he probably acted properly in briefing the Attorney G neral on only that aspect of the operation for which he had been responsible and of which he had direct, personal knowledge.

One page later in the Report, the Inspector General went on to state; that "the Attorney General on 7 May 1962 was given a full and frank account of the Amency's relations with Maheu, Roselli, and Giancana in the Castro operation . . " of the leverage that those involved in the murder plots had attained as a result of their association with the CIA. In one section of the Report (pages 128-129) titled, "Should we try to silence those who are talking or might later?" (emphasis theirs) the Inspector General's Office noted that one or more of the conspirators, most likely John Roselli, was then leaking information about the plots to newsmen Drew Pearson and Jack Anderson. The Report discussed the possibility that Agency pressure could be brought to bear on Roselli and the others to preserve the secrecy of the past assassination plots. The Report went on to note that, "None of them would have compunctions about dragging in his CIA connection when he was being pushed by law enforcement authorities."

Kennedy's partial knowledge of the plots in a similiar manner in another section of the 1907 Report. In an analysis of the newspaper column by Drew Pearson and Jack Anderson in 1967, in which it was stated that, "Robert Kennedy may have approved (the) plot," the Inspector General's Report disagreed with that statement. The Report stated: "Not true. He was briefed on Gambling Syndicate-Phase One after it was over. He was not briefed on Phase Two." The Report went on to state (pages 118-119) that Pearson and Anderson had "a garbled occount of the role played by Robert Kennedy."
