Subject: Postponement Detail Changes
I have added the double check system to the Postponement Detail form. Here is the logic behind the system.If you Get an Error Message when you are saving the form, Note the name of the field in the Error message, then hit the OK button, then press the cancel button if it asks you to save it again.The system will at that point, put the cursor in the exact Field that it wants you to fill in. Enter the needed information and press the END or Enter Next postponement Button again to save.If you have any problems with this please let me know ASAP.
