Subject: More interns

Hey everybody, It has just dawned on me that June is half over already, which means that there are more high school interns coming in about 3½ weeks. I imagine that they will be here for about 2½ or 3 days, somewhere between July 15 and 19. Once again, I could use some help coming up with a suitable project or two for them. If you have any work that, while grunt work, still needs to be done, and could use some free labor, please inform me. Keep two things in mind as you are thinking of this: 1) These students are high school seniors, not college students, so the level of work should be commensurate with their experience and expected maturity; and 2) Don't break a sweat coming up with something. I need work that is necessary for us to have done, not work we thought long and hard to dream up, or that will consume great amounts of our time and/or resources. I would prefer that the projects be those that can be worked on here, so that the students are under my direct supervision; however, if you have projects off site that must be farmed out, let me know and I will try to arrange with Mr. Hitchcock to have his most mature and promising students work on them. Thank you all in advance, and please get back to me as soon as you can.
