Subject: This weekend
We have been advised by the building management that they will be painting the 2nd floor hallways this weekend. Apparently it is some type of textured paint method that requires spraying. Because of the spray and the fumes they are doing it over the weekend when the building is not occupied. Although they said it was up to us, they recommended that folks not come in this weekend to work. If you do plan on coming in, please be advised that it will be unpleasant if not unhealthy.
