Subject: Something's wacky -- Database slowdown
Something's really wierd with the lotus database. It takes forever, all of a sudden, to do anything. For example, when I pushed F9 to refresh the icons just now, it took a couple of minutes just to go through them all. I've become very familiar all of a sudden with the little hourglass icon. Is it just that lots of people are using the database? Or that its just so cold? I've been spoiled by speed! Tracy noticed this too before she left. It's been going on for about 45 minutes now.
