Subject: Your memo

I like your memo. I have made a few minor written suggestions and I will leave those at the receptionist's desk. I thought your best point was in the last paragraph on page 2: "Indeed, the Review Board was conceived of as an alternative to ineffective and insufficient past efforts." This point is so good that I think it should be the first point of the paper. Rather than framing us as the sixth investigation -- let's frame ourselves as the cost-effective and efficient alternative to the prior wasteful method of resolving the piecemeal, hemorrhaging, inefficient, suspect, and time-consuming [enough adjectives?] release of information. We were established to reform the process; to conduct the investigation and review; and to bring closure and finality to the issue of governmental records relating to President Kennedy's assassination.
