Subject: Morning starting hours
Although I try to come in early, I will not always be able to do so. I anticipate that the day will come when I will not know until the last minute that I will not be in early. I am a little concerned that some staff (who do not have the combination) are getting into the habit of coming in early, and that other staff (who have the combination) sometimes arrive late--perhaps assuming that I will already have opened the office. I fear that we may have problems on the days that I am not in early.
