Subject: A last computer FYI

Body: Just thought I'd let you know that I'm having trouble again printing from my terminal. It seems to occur when I use the letterhead document to head letters I write. The screen appears to indicate that the document is being prepared for printing, but nothing happens at the printer. What's strange is that if i transfer the document to the a drive disk and print from another terminal, everything is ok. Is it a conspiracy? And thanks again for all your help and good cheer -- you make the digital world seem ever so simple, and that's not easy.
