

NR_key_name: 18E420DC5E3BFC04852561E0006C81DE
SendTo: CN=Christopher Barger/O=ARRB @ ARRB
CopyTo: DisplayBlindCopyTo:
BlindCopyTo: CN=R ecord/O=ARRB
From: CN=Tammi Long/O=ARRB
DisplayFromDomain:
DisplayDate: 06/19/1995
DisplayDate_Time: 3:45:10 PM
ComposedDate: 06/19/1995
ComposedDate_Time: 3:44:31 PM
Subject: DMV--Dante's 30th level of hell
Author: Tammi Long/ARRB Composed: 03:39 PM TodayReply: DMV--Dante's 30th level of hell-----
-----It matters not where you go, realize that it will take the better part of your day and all of your good humor. An overnight trip to Minnesota would be preferable to the journey you are about to embark upon as you plunge into the madness that is D.C. Government. Be prepared for standing in more than three lines to accomplish a seemingly simple task. Also, bring a lunch because by the time you get to the front of the line, the clerk will inevitably inform you that you'll have to wait for someone else because he/she/it is now on lunch break. God's speed.
Body:
recstat: Record
DeliveryPriority: N
DeliveryReport: B
ReturnReceipt: Categories: