Subject: Re: Hill Meeting
Scheduling problems. Roman Buhler, the key staff player on the Republican side, is leaving town (with most of the rest of the staff) to participate in a contested election hearing. He'll be gone, and then the two of you will be in New Orleans. It looks like a meeting will be impossible until next Thursday, the 29th. Buhler leaves town late today, so there's an outsidechance we could do a phone call today (especially, from the Committee's point of view, if that obviated the need for a meeting). What do you advise?
