Subject: Hoyer AA callback

Betsy Bossart finally called me back a few minutes ago, having received my voice-mail messages of yesterday and today (I voice-mailed her this morning concerning the progress Jack had made getting a meeting with majority staff). She says she has spoken with Hoyer's relevant staff people. She says that the issue is "on our radar screen" and that Hoyer "is going to speak about" it at tomorrow's mark-up if it is still on the Republican cut-list by then. Another Hoyer appropriations staffer named Terry is looking for offsetting monies (cuts) Hoyer could offer in lieu of wiping out the ARRB. Betsy was amenable to us faxing her talking points for Mr. Hoyer to use tomorrow, if that is something we want to do. Either way, now that I have her fax number, I promised her I'd send her a summary of your 1:30 meeting with Majority staff before the end of the day, so she and her boss would know where things stood going into tomorrow. My sense is they clearly want to help, but that they're being bombarded with requests from all kinds of people. They know they're not going to be able to save everybody, so they're making no promises.
