Subject: HSCA Staffers

While I'm not completely finished with my digging on the above topic, I will probably get you something before the end of the week on it. Here are what look to be the base numbers: at its peak, the HSCA employed about 105 people. Organizationally, they were broken down into 5 different units: 1) Administrative (approx. 20-25 people at any given time) 2) JFK (approx. 25-33 people) 3) MLK (approx. 25-33) 4) Reseach and Documents (23-27 people) 5) Legal Unit (4 people)How these categories worked in practice is not entirely clear to me. Eddie Lopez (of "Lopez Report" fame), for instance, was not even part of the "JFK" force, per se, but is instead listed in the "Research and Document" roster. Other names in the Research and Document roster are very familiar to me from JFK documents I've looked at. Perhaps the "R&D" folks were made available to either the JFK or MLK team depending on workload, number of outstanding tasks, etc.I presume, then, that you'll want to contact everyone who wasn't explicitly part of the MLK team (ie, all but about 30 of the Committee's employees). At this point, I think I can get you Social Security numbers and community of residence (circa 1977/78), though not street address, for the rest. For some, I may be able to secure additional information, as well.I know that we had a number in the 160's (didn't we?) in our heads for the # of HSCA employees? Maybe this is the number for total number who worked for the Committee (as opposed to maximum number working for it at any one time). As I compile my list, the explanation for this discrepancy may become more apparent.Do you want a list in alphabetical order, alphabetical within the above five "units", or other? Please advise.
