Subject: originals versus copies

Gum Shoe issues 15 thru 18 and 24 and 25 are all inquiries to determine whether the WC and/or HSCA obtained original documents/records (as opposed to copies or none at all) from LHO's school and employment history. Joe did all the database and Archives II searching on this (and did a very thorough job) and determined that the WC exhibits are thorough with the exception of several schools and employments, HOWEVER all of the school and employment records in the WC files are copies; there are no originals. Query - do you want me to pursue the preference in the statute for originals and attempt to get the originals, or do you want to me pursue other matters and let the copies stand. (I could always send letters to all of the applicable entities and ask if they still have the originals, on the chance they might. This could be a quick inquiry that would ask the question without burning a lot of time.) Please advise.
