Subject: A question...
Mary asked today if we could tell her how many documents we'd gone through in the first three boxes that were "green issues" and were ready for Board review. As it stands, the only way we could do this was View By Category Red Yellow Green, then count by file number how many there were. Pain !! Is there any way that we were unaware of that we could have searched, maybe like "search file numbers x to y, green, status 4", where the computer does the work for us? Maybe not? Let us know; thanks.
