Subject: IDENTIFIERS RE: Richard Case Nagell
As requested by Jeremy, I am herewith providing you with identifying information on Richard Case Nagell. All of the information below was obtained from Dick Russell's book The Man Who Knew Too Much (Carroll and Graf, 1992). My general impression is that Russell's book is generally quite accurate (he attempts to cite all sources and to be as accurate as possible), but I have found some mistakes already, so for this reason I caveat, in advance, the information provided below: Name: Richard Case NAGELL DOB: [Screened by: NARA RD-F on October 24, 2016 according to the John F. Kennedy Records Collection Act of 1992, 44 U.S.C. 2107, Section 6(3)] POB: Greenwich, New York ALIASES (all according to Richard Case Nagell himself, either in interviews with author Dick Russell, or in FOIA documents which he filed in an attempt to get records on himself from the CIA, or in purported true copies of military records which he provided to Dick Russell as "bonafides"): His two "principal" aliases appear to have been: Robert C. NOLAN (Fraudulent/fictitious ASN#: 01438346)... a U.S. Army Captain (O-3), circa 1956-8 Joseph KRAMER (This was also the alias of a known Soviet agent in Canada, one "Mark Julius GAYN") Other aliases which Nagell claimed in a FOIA lawsuit against CIA were: Ben BLUM Robert C. CORSA Alek HIDELE Aleksei HIDELE Victor NADELL Vic NADELLIN. NAGEL Paul SCHMEDKE WIFE's Name (now divorced): Mitsuko Takahashi NAGELL Son's name: Robert NAGELL Daughter's name: Teresa NAGELL Richard Case NAGELL's U.S. Army Service #: 02028346 His SSN: Unknown He is supposedly receiving medical disability payments as a result of wounds/injuries received from his active duty service with the U.S. Army. These did not begin until approximately the late '60s, after a protracted legal battle between Nagell and U.S. Govt. over this issue. Army Career: Active Duty from 1948-1959. Was a bonafide Korean War hero; received Purple Heart 3 times and Bronze Star, among other decorations. Author Russell describes him as a "Military Intelligence" officer from 1955-59. This description is a bit vague, but is expanded on later in the book as follows: Nagell worked for a while in the Far East (Japan and South Korea) with a very sensitive organization (Army) called "Field Operations Intelligence" (FOI), which was supposedly separate from the Army's Counterintelligence Corps (CIC); however, later he was transferred out of FOI into CIC. FOI was reportedly involved in HUMINT, specifically collection of Human Intelligence in "denied areas", but reportedly also performed covert actions. Nagell claims he worked for FOI in South Korea and Japan, and for CIC in Japan afterwards. Army intelligence-related schooling: Commenced about one year of training at the U.S. Army's School of Languages in Monterey in the summer of 1953. (Languages learned were purportedly Japanese, Russian and Spanish.) This was followed by Army Counterintelligence School at Fort Holabird, Maryland commencing in the summer of 1954. This training was followed by his service in the Far East, which resulted in
