Subject: Million Man March

Jeremy raised a good point. I'll be in Tampa but want to be sure you will be able to get into the city alright, etc. Is there anything you could do at NARA II, or some other location? I have an idea for something you could do there as a continuation of our work from the day we looked at the autopsy photos, but there is no urgency to it, its only a thought in case you couldn't get to the office. Let me know what you think.

To: ALLcc: From: Jeremy Gunn/ARRBDate: 10/11/95 06:36:30 PMSubject: Million Man MarchYou have all heard that a "Million Man March" has been scheduled for this coming Monday, October 16. There have been some reports suggesting that there may be a great deal of traffic and congestion in downtown D.C. before, during, and after the march. In terms of office operations, the ARRB will comply with guidance issuing from OMB. OMB has issued a directive stating that government offices will be open and operating as usual on the 16th. To the extent that you can arrange for productive work at NARA II -- or some other location outside downtown DC -- you may wish to consider doing so and making appropriate arrangements. Be sure to discuss any such plans with your supervisor.
