Subject: FBI JFK task force move

I spoke with Deb Beatty yesterday afternoon. She told me that she expects that the JFK task force will have to move later this week, but not as soon as today (Tuesday). The FBI folks are willing to move our work-stuff to the new space "as-is," but I think it would be both prudent and courteous to sort through our stuff, box (or bring back to our offices) anything that is (broadly speaking) "personal" or "confidential," discard things we don't need, and generally tidy up to facilitate the move. I have the biggest mess; some of you may not have anything to account for and may disregard this message. Deb has already cleared out the space where Kevin and Laura customarily work and ut what was there in the cart outside the space where Joan and I usually work.
