Subject: Tape Flag colors for Security Classified Files
As you may know/recall, Jeremy suggested that the Security Classified boxes and folders be flagged with colored tape flags to indicate which agencies had equities in the documents therein. This could also prove useful for agency representatives who may eventually go through the boxes for us. You should know that Manuel has taken the initiative to approach me first and has expropriated the orange tape flags for CIA-equity documents. The colors remaining available are red, yellow, light blue and purple. If you have a preference, speak now or forever hold your peace.
