Subject: TSP Form
Hi. I put my TSP election form on your chair, along with my sick leave form. (I am sure you already have noticed these.) I hope its not too late to elect the TSP thing. You know, I intended to switch my health plans, but I missed the boat. I don't suppose there is any double-secret government exception for people who were out sick yesterday and thus delinquent with their forms? (I was just hoping.) Thanks!
