Subject: Pierre Finck Letter-Another "Lost" Item
After Dennis and I entered David's corrections and did a final proof on our draft, I attached it to an e-mail and sent it Noelle for preparation on letterhead. The file name was "Finck.wpd." I warned her to make sure it was the December 15 version, not the draft from earlier this month. Just to make sure, I gave her a paper printout of yesterday's "final draft" dated December 15th.Sure enough, when she checked this morning, the item I attached electronically was the wrong Finck letter--the early, first draft.To make matters worse, when I went into my computer files to try to find the newer draft, I can't find either one. The file called "Finck,wpd" can no longer be found in my files (by me).1 other problem: -My system now defaults to New Ti mes Roman, not Palatino. How does this get fixed?
