As we discussed, this reconsideration of a reconsidered Board determination is messy. There are two versions of the document in the Archive database, and neither of them have postponement detail forms attached. This was an especially complicated document that was first treated before the database was operational. I think that we should save both the August and January versions of the document in the Archive and create a new one for this meeting. In the short term, I'd like to just enter the number of postponements in the voting area of the RIF and notify the agency using the earlier final determination form. I'd also like to be able to save that final determination form in Archive. (This is the version from the August meeting) However, the system won't let me. When I try to copy it, none of the information in the form migrates with the form. Once this is able to be saved in Archive, I think we can delete the postponement voting forms and the final determination form from Review Track so that new postponement voting forms and a new final determination form can be created. All I'm asking of you Chet, is the ability to save the final determination form in Archive.
