Subject: Kennedy Justice Dept. microfilm
Steve Tilley just left me a voice mail saying that they (the National Archives) are not sure that they want to take custody of the microfilm while we review it. He said he would call David later today on this issue. I just called him back to let him know that David is out of the office for the day, and that he should talk to you. I tried to forward a copy of the message, but your voice mail box is full.
