Subject: CIA Team Request-1
It's only April 9, but... this being DC, we probably have only about six weeks until it gets beastly hot again. Trying to anticipate the problems we had in our room last year with poor air circulation, we would like to put in a request for a fan at this time. Knowing that the powers that be that you have to work with are often, shall we say, less than expedient, we wanted to get the request in now, in order to give them as much time as possible. Thanks in advance for being willing to deal with this mess, because we do appreciate it. We'll appreciate it even more when it's June and 96³/₄% and 90% humidity outside, and 99³/₄% and 99% humidity in our office. Thanks again, and have a splendiferous, smiley kind of day.
