Subject: New review field and training session
Chet has created a new field called "Routine." He says that this should be used to indicate that a postponement is routine and does not require significant board attention. Non-routine postponements will be highlighted in the RIF for both supervisor and board to pay extra attention. This impacts only future review, not already-reviewed documents.He will be holding a training session Thursday at 2:00 p.m. to discuss this further. Please attend.
