Subject: Quote(s) for the day
To: Laura Denk/ARRBcc: From: Joseph Freeman/ARRB Date: 04/25/96 08:32:37 AMSubject: Quote(s) for the dayFirst, I hope you got a good night's sleep.Second, I was rummaging around for a quote last evening -- for reasons that have nothing to do with you or this E-mail -- when I came across the following and thought of your recent difficulty (I apologize for the gender-specific quote):"And at night, waking out of a dream, overwhelmed and bewitched by the crowding apparitions, a man perceives with alarm how slight is the support, how thin the boundary, that divides him from the darkness. We are little flames poorly sheltered by frail walls against the storm of dissolution and madness, in which we flicker and sometimes almost go out." from All Quiet on the Western FrontAlso, I came across this one -- most appropriate for our resident marathoner. Pindar, I think, was some ancient Greek guy (it's hard to keep them all straight!):"Wherefore seeing we are compassed about with so great a crowd of witnesses, let us run with patience the race that is set before us." -- Pindar
