Subject: HOT PROJECT--1977 MAG. ARTICLE

Eric, this is hot. I need the following article:"Shooting the President," from Popular Photography, August 1977, by John G. Morris. All I know is that it is supposed to say something about Robert Knudsen (former White House photographer) and the autopsy, or autopsy films.Mr. Knudsen is deceased, but his wife and two of his four children are coming in this Friday to be interviewed, at their request. If this article says anything about him at all (and my notes from the ASK symposium in 1993 say it does), then we really need to read it before they arrive for their interview.If the LOC does not have this article, please check the editorial page(s), or table of contents pages from a current issue and get me the publishing address (and maybe editor's phone number) so that I can call the magazine and ask them to fax us the article from their own archives. Thanks!
