Subject: Re[2]: Upcoming Meeting David, the following comes under the category of small world. The CBS coverage of the "Gaylord" film from Dallas got a lot of play here in Columbus. One of the people that saw it was Bill Evans, a leading oral suregon, who did his residency with Douglas Sinn, the chief of oral surgery at Parkland Hospital. Sinn has once shown Evans slides of the partial autopsy done on JFK before he was hauled out of Texas. The slides are now held by Rod Rourick, the chief of plastic surgery at Parkland. Sinn has agreed to talk to me next week and he swears, through Evans, that no one has ever seen the slides, since Rourick essentially hide them. He thinks, by the way, that Rourick would be interested in getting it all out. I am a skeptical soul by nature, but there might just be something here. Evans, by the way, is one of the most successful and respected doctors in Columbus and he did a lot of digging and arm twisting on his own to get us here. Talk to you on Tuesday. Kermit
