Subject: Gumshoe Revisited
I'm still having to deal with a lot of garbage in this database when Dave composes a letter which I transfer to WP. I have to change the font more than once per document, plus it contains left hand indents, etc. which Dave says he is not entering. I even wound up with a margin change in the middle of a letter last Friday which stubbornly refused to delete. Dave's formatting was responsible for some of the problems and he has agreed not to do these formats anymore, but the indents, etc. seem to be a part of the database that still needs to be cleaned up.
