Subject: Urgent Newspaper Search

Background is: Jim Marrs says in his book that local newspapers described the Walker slug as a "30.06 round," and Marrs writes that Walker later denied that the bullet marked by the Warren Commission as exhibit 573 was the bullet he recovered in his home after the shooting. I've given Phil a photo of exhibit 573 and it would be most useful to compare it to a newspaper photo, if one was published. To: Eric Scheinkopf/ARRBcc: Jeremy Gunn/ARRB, Phil Golrick/ARRB From: Douglas Horne/ARRB Date: 11/13/96 01:20:57 PMSubject: Urgent Newspaper SearchEric, please do the following tomorrow in support of the forthcoming Hosty interview next Monday:Go to L.O.C. and search Dallas newspapers for articles about the General Walker shooting. We are looking for descriptions of the bullet's type/caliber, and any possible photos of the mangled bullet which might have been in the papers.The shooting was on April 10, 1963 at 9:10 P.M.....so the most likely newspaper stories would be on April 11, 1963 and maybe April 12, 1963.Good luck; any mention of the bullet's caliber and/or a photo of the slug would be MOST USEFUL to Phil and Laura.
