Hi there. I actually have a work related message for you. We received an application from a woman for a summer internship. She went to Smith undergrad. where she was a history major focused on post WWII American history. She is now a first year law student at the Univ. of Arizona law school -- which is, of course, where you might come in. I am going to call her & do a telephone interview, and have her complete her application (references, etc. . .), and then -- Jeremy wrote on her cover letter: [Should Joe Interview?]Of course, AU is in Tuscon, but maybe she could come to meet you or you could meet in a coffee shop or something :-) What do you think?How is everything with you? Any new news on the hound dog? I am proud to report that my furry friend ran 11 miles of my long run with me on Sunday. We did an out and back run on the GW Parkway. She had never been out that far on the Parkway before & when we got to the turnaround point, she rolled in the snow for several minutes, which I presume was the functional equivalent of writing on the bathroom wall "WREN WAS HERE." It was her second longest run ever.Hope all is well.Talk to you soon.
