Subject: Doug Horne Called Ben Hunter

CALL REPORTDocument's Author: Douglas Horne/ARRB Date Created: 06/26/97 The Players Description of the Call Date: 06/26/97Subject: Doug Horne Called Ben HunterSummary of the Call:I spoke briefly with Ben Hunter to say that the July 2, 1997 interview of Mr. McMahon had been cancelled (at his--Ben Hunter's--request) and that Mr. McMahon had rejected the tentative rescheduled interview date of July 11 (for the same reason Hunter had been unavailable on July 2--vacation). I told him there was no scheduled date now for our interview with Homer McMahon, and that my instructions were to interview Homer McMahon as soon as practical, at a time convenient to Mr. McMahon. I told him that if he (Ben Hunter) was available at that time, we would include him; otherwise, we would schedule a second viewing of the briefing board panels for him subsequent to the McMahon interview.Following discussion of these logistical details, Mr. Hunter said that he had been thinking about the events at NPIC which he discussed with us, and wished to amend his previous comments as follows: -He said he now recalls that a Secret Service agent did deliver the materials to NPIC;-He said he now believes it was the Secret Service agent who said "don't discuss this with anyone, and if people persist in knowing what you were doing, refer them to Captain Sands;"-He said he now is fairly certain that Captain Sands was a high-ranking employee in NPIC's management structure, possibly the second or third highest ranking member of the organization. He does still recall that Sands was present during the NPIC event he discussed with us--the manufacture of internegatives and prints from selected frames of the Zapruder film. Mr. Hunter said that he still wants to talk with Homer McMahon, even if they cannot view the photographic briefing board panels together due to schedule conflicts. I told him this was fine, but that we wanted to interview Mr. McMahon first, and promised to pass McMahon's telephone number to him after ARRB had concluded its discussions with McMahon. END
