Subject: Flight to Warsaw
I will be attending an official OSCE meeting in Warsaw in early September. OSCE, to which the U.S. belongs, will be paying the cost of my transportation. Question: may I legally and properly obtain a US government fare for the plane trip? Rationale: because the US government helps pay for OSCE, it would be a saving for the US taxpayers (although a small amount) if I were to travel on a government fare. To me personally, there is no difference in cost. It simply would effect a savings for taxpayers.
