Subject: Doug Horne Called Elaine Rogic at IRR CALL REPORT DOCUMENT'S AUTHOR: Douglas Horne/ARRB Date Created: 07/29/97 The Playeys Description of the Call Date: 07/29/97Subject: Doug Horne Called Elaine Rogic at IRRSummary of the Call:I called Elaine Rogic to inform her that Mr. Jim Goslee was starting next week at ARRB, and that pursuit of outstanding IRR referrals would be his primary assignment. She said that her new Commanding Officer, Lt. Col. Bisacre, wanted to meet with me to get an overview of the outstanding business between IRR and the ARRB. I told her that was fine, but that I wanted to give Jim Goslee a couple of weeks to get his feet on the ground first. She proposed, and I agreed to, a tentative meeting date of August 20, 1997, at 1:30 P.M., for Jim Goslee and I to meet with her and Lt. Col. Bisacre. She will check with his secretary and confirm actual time and date later.She said her C.O. still wants to receive a letter from David Marwell which (1) assures IRR that ARRB has assumed responsibility for pursuing the 34 IRR HSCA sequestered collection referrals [thus giving him a comfort factor that we will not come back at them later and blame them for inactivitiy in this area], and (2) establishes a revised, extended deadline for the completion of our business with IRR.Based on an earlier voice mail from her, it was clear to me that IRR did not understand that ARRB is the conduit by which original records must be transmitted to NARA (along with the final redacted versions following Review Board approval of requested agency postponements). I did my best to explain to her the complete process of document review, Review Board consideration, and final transmission of both originals and final redactions to the Archives (via ARRB).
She said this was all news to her, that no one at ARRB had ever explained this to her before; she had been assuming that her agency had the right and sole responsibility of transferring originals to NARA because that was what she had always done under FOIA. She listened attentively to my explanation and, I believe, understood.Left unresolved was whether IRR would keep originals until the end of the review process, or whether they would relinquish the originals to us early (and pass responsibility for marrying up referrals and originals to ARRB staff). This is an important question which must be resolved soon, since we need to be able to tell agencies holding IRR referrals whether to send them back to IRR, or directly to us, after completion of review. She said that some agencies to whom IRR had sent HSCA sequestered collection referrals had responded already (i.e., IRR had received some referrals back following the referral agency's declassification review). I asked her to fax that information to me so that I could provide this information to Jim Goslee before he begins pursuing delinquent referrals.Finally, I asked her to reassemble, to the maximum extent possible, IRR's correspondence file regarding these HSCA sequestered collection referrals, and to pass it to us at our meeting with IRR later in August, so that ARRB could use these at starting points for our discussions with Record
