Subject: Hersh

I just received a call from a person identifying himself as Robert Anson (phon) from Vanity Fair magazine (516-537-8341). He said that he is writing a major article on Seymour Hersh. He said that he is very much aware of the contents of Hersh's new book. He said that he was aware that Hersh had done a confidential briefing to the Board and that a "trip, possibly to Long Island" resulted from that briefing. He asked if I could tell him what it was about. I said that I could neither confirm nor deny anything about this today, but that I possibly could talk to him on Monday. (I was stalling until you could take the call.) I said that he should not draw any inferences one way or another. He asked if I could tell him anything on background. I said wait until Monday.
