Subject: Conference Call Today

Anna, Jack, and I had a conference call this afternoon. The items, in brief were:1. We have had a major success at Kodak. The digitization process worked superbly and we have greatly enhanced the quality of the images and have captured a great deal more information. This is all remaining confidential at this time. Kodak has been extremely generous.2. Jack, Tom, and I will be meeting with Lew Bellardo this afternoon to discuss the possible FBI examination of the bullet fragment that includes a fiber.3. Gerald Ford has agreed to let us make copies of the relevant portions of his diaries. I will be visiting his compound in January.4. Joan Zimmerman resigned, effective December 31, 1997. She has apparently discussed issues with some of you. I am willing to answer any questions that any of you has.5. The negotiations between DOJ and Zapruders are continuing. We now know what the numbers are. Please treat this as extremely confidential. DOJ is valuing the film at $752,000 and the Zapruders are seeking $18.5 million. The negotiations have a ways to go.6. NBC has moved to intervene in the Nancy Sheridan matter. There are some interesting issues of legal strategy.7. We will be releasing the military documents on Cuba on November 18. Anna will be reviewing them prior to the time and will make some appropriate comments.Have a good weekend.
