Subject: That Macro I Wrote

I put a better version of that memo creation macro that I wrote on the t:\ drive. This one will allow you to easily change the name in the From: field so that you don't have to be me all the time. As usual, its main drawback is that it puts the name/filename/file number footer on every page instead of on only the first page as it should. I'm working on this. Let me know if there are any more bugs or irritating features I should try to fix. To I wrote a batch file to make copying it easier. Just run the file t:\!pmemo.bat and all the files you need (there are two now) will be copied to the right directory.
