Subject: A Few Miscellaneous Matters

Henry:I hope the New Year finds you and your family healthy and enjoying the mild weather (at least for a bit). A couple of things that I wanted to share with you:1. The Nightline producer responded to my call and apologized profusely for not giving the Board credit for the Cuba document release. He said that he was in Europe assigned to another story at the time the Cuba documents show aired and had no final input into the show. He agreed that the Board deserved more mention, credit and recognition and regretted that it did not happen. It doesn't help us much now, but at least he called back and maybe we get another shot at it.2. I talked to Tim Weiner today (he had called after getting a tip that the death of Michael Kennedy was going to have a great impact on the review of the RFK records at the JFK Library since Michael headed the RFK Records Screening Committee; I told him that we had already talked to the Library and that we expected no negative impact; Michael will be replaced by someone else, after an appropriate interval of time). I thought you would be interested in knowing that he spoke highly of the Board's work. He said very enthusiastically that he hopes the Board "keeps up the great work." (Which reminds me, when we were talking about the Nightline show the day after it aired, you had mentioned that Weiner had also shortchanged us. I had his most recent news articles in mind, in which we were given credit for releasing the documents. However, I remembered later that you were talking about a lengthy Sunday piece in which he had not mentioned us. So, you were correct.)3. My nephew, Andrew Dennington, would like to send you an e-mail to introduce himself to you. Is it okay if I give him your e-mail address? Henry, if I don't talk to you before you go away, I hope you and Edith have a great trip.
