Subject: Jan. Congressional Letter
These are my comments on the progress of our requests for additional information from the CIA. The CIA has increased its progress in meeting our requests for additional information and records. Our January priority requests have been answered either in whole or in part and the CIA has shown an increased willingness to respond to follow-up requests more quickly. While there are a substantial number of additional requests still outstanding, the increased responsiveness of the CIA bodes well for the completion of these requests in a timely manner.
