Subject: Helen O'Donnell

Jack:I thought you would be interested in knowing that I made contact with Helen O'Donnell. She was pleasant, but cautious, so I don't know whether or not she has anything of relevance to the Board. I hope to talk with her again in the next few days.TomCALL REPORT: PUBLICDocument's Author: Tom Samoluk/ARRB Date Created: 02/26/98 The Players Description of the Call Date: 02/25/98Subject: ARRB Search for RecordsSummary of the Call:7:10 p.m. - She called me in response to our letter of introduction regarding records. She is writing a book on her father and Robert Kennedy, tracing their relationship. The book is due out in June. O'Donnell was admittedly cautious, although courteous and pleasant, in discussing if she had anything that would be of interest to us. She wanted to consult with Robert Kennedy, Jr., who she now considers her attorney, after the death of Michael Kennedy, who had been working with her on the book. In general, she said that she did not know if records that she had found were of interest to us and chose not to discuss what she does have until consultation with Robert. She promised that she would get back to me quickly. I explained how we had handled other private donors, working with them to address concerns, and we had been successful in working out issues of timing and originals versus copies.
