

NR_key_name: 576C1B3A577CEDCC85256634007A6A5F
SendTo: Kevin;Laura CopyTo:
DisplayBlindCopyTo:
BlindCopyTo:
From: CN=Joseph Freeman/O=ARRB
DisplayFromDomain:
DisplayDate: 07/01/1998
DisplayDate_Time: 6:28:28 PM
ComposedDate: 07/01/1998
ComposedDate_Time: 6:17:06 PM
Subject: Pondering Philadelphia

From: Joe-the-honorary-singleton-for-a-day-or-so-in-PhillyTo: Smug-Marrieds-who-would-probably-prefer-to-have-some-quality-time-with-their-spouses (without western interlopers)Since the wedding isn't until 1:00 PM, and Sat. night in Philly appears problematical, at least for some and possibly for all, does it make any sense to contemplate breakfast/brunch prior to the ceremony? I know eating out is also not free, but it's much cheaper than a hotel room. Just a thought, as they say.P.S. Wanting to get a morning run in because it's the alleged "last" day of an imaginary running week is not an acceptable reason for a "no" answer, though there are any number -- multitudinous, in fact -- of alternative and acceptable reasons for a "no"... :-)

Body:
recstat: Record
DeliveryPriority: N
DeliveryReport: B
ReturnReceipt:
Categories: