Subject: Misplaced priorities
...led me to miss your birthday last week (I knew it was August, but I thought later on...). But you are fortunate -- you are spared the sappy card with a dumb quote thrown in for good measure that I might have sent had I been on time, and instead have only to slog through a belated e-mail. You are thought of far more often than this birthday oversight suggests, as I know you know, and always with fondness. Have Kevin tell you the New Year's eve anecdote; I think you'll appreciate it. Joe
